Chairman's Car Fails, So Candidate Forum Called Off

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The off-again, on-again San Rafael candidates' night turned out to be off again last night.

Five candidates, the moderator, and an audience of six braved the rain to appear at San Rafael High School auditorium by 8 p.m. for the only scheduled appearance of seekers after city offices other than the board of education. Among those conspicuous by absence was Mrs. E. L. McIntyre of 152 Golden Hinde Boulevard, who had arranged for the forum.

Moderator Hadden Roth called off the meeting at 8:15.

Mrs. MacIntyre said this morning that she had car trouble last night as she was taking five friends to the forum. The auditorium was locked by the time she got there around 8:20 p.m., she said.

The two candidates for city attorney, and the one police chief candidate who was present took advantage of the occasion, however, to each make public declaration that he has never been convicted of a felony.

City attorney candidates are John G. Buresh and David Menary Jr., both well known San Rafael attorneys. The sole police chief candidate who attended the forum is Nick Giampoli, 15-year San Rafael Police Department veteran who was fired last Dec. 12 by Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa for failure to appear for work.

Police chief candidates who did not appear are Chiesa and Vernon D. Thomas Jr.

Giampoli, in answer to a question, said last night that, although he was incapacitated for police work because of an ailing foot from the time he took sick leave last Oct. 23,

COUNCIL BYPASSED

Chiesa Attempts To Dismiss Old Traffic Warrants

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa recently bypassed the city council in a move to have old parking and traffic tickets dismissed, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen told city officials last night.

Andersen, describing the problem of old, unserved traffic warrants to members of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen was obviously unhappy at the chief's action.

The San Rafael manager said he had been conferring with Municipal Court Judge Leonard A. Thomas on the problem and was surprised to find out that the judge had a letter dated March 21 from the chief.

The chief wrote the court saying that "hundreds" of traffic warrants issued from 1953 when the Marin Municipal Court was created until 1959 when he took over as chief are uncollectable. He wanted to get an opinion from the court on dismissing them.

Chiesa said today he "perhaps" should have worked through the council on the matter. He intended, after getting a response from the court, to take the matter up with Andersen.

Chiesa had no idea of the exact number of warrants involved or of the total value.

Andersen said there are a total of about 6,000 unserved warrants in the county and the total value runs from $120,000 to $150,000. About a third of this is San Rafael's, he said.

Andersen brought the matter up at the regular monthly meeting of the Marin cities group to see what might be done. Members voted to form a committee of managers and police chiefs to look into the problem. Andersen was named chairman of the committee.

In telling of the loss of revenue to cities through uncollected warrants, Andersen reported that Judge Thomas told him one police chief had asked that old warrants be dismissed.

"I was chagrined to find that this was our own chief," Andersen said.

San Rafael Councilman Louis H. Baar told the Independent-Journal at the end of the

$4 Million Residential Plan Bared

A new residential development expected to cost more than four and one-half million dollars has been planned for San Rafael at the end of the Manuel T. Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda.

The project which has been over two years in the planning stage is a joint project of Marin County developer Calvin C. B. Wheeler and Sanford B. Weiss of Los Angeles. Construction work is to be performed by Meadow Constructors, an association of Woodside Construction Co. and Stolte, Inc. of Oakland.

The venture is a land development of approximately 25 acres devoted to 219 units of low density garden type apartments in 36 separate buildings. The structures will vary in size from single family dwellings

11 Are Injured As Rains Heighten Road Hazards

At least 11 persons were injured in a half dozen accidents on rain-slick roads in Marin yesterday and last night, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Two persons were hospitalized in a four-car crash on Highway 101 south of the Corte Madera Interchange about 5:10 p.m.

A car being driven southward by Alison Louise Sternbergh, 27, a bookkeeper of 21 Eugene Street, Mill Valley, sideswiped another southbound car, crossed the divider line, glanced off one northbound car and was hit hard by a second northbound vehicle, CHP Officer M. G. Williams said.

The officer said her car first hit that of Constant A. Raboli, 56, of Livermore and then crossed the line and hit that of Daniel P. Thurston, 51, a Sebastopol teamster. It then crashed into the northbound car of Charles F. Menzel, 35, service station operator of 317 Starling Court, Mill Valley.

Menzel said the Sternbergh car didn't even seem to be on the ground as it crashed his and then landed in the ditch east of the highway near the Koch Luggage Co. Miss Sternbergh and Menzel were treated at Marin General Hospital, she for a sprained left ankle and he for a cut right knee.

Rodney D. Norton, 18, of 9 Meadow Drive, Mill Valley, lost control of his car going west on Miller Avenue 150 feet south of the Mill Valley city limits about 12:45 p.m. and hit a utility pole, said officer John

FASHION FILLS EXTRA SECTION IN I-J TODAY

The 16-page section, which features a color cover by I-J staff artist Jack Lucey, contains ideas and pictures illustrating the sleek feminine look for spring and summer, as well as the latest for men.

The Easter season promises to be a colorful one, with soft lines of the slimmer silhouette and clear colors. There'll be few frills and yellow is "the" color.

Texas Jury Convicts Estes Of Mail Fraud

U. S. Launches Mighty Saturn In 4th Success

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States today fired its mighty Saturn-1 rocket to a fourth straight success in a key shot toward a 1965 date when it will launch three man teams of astronauts into orbit around earth.

The 470-ton Saturn-1, as awesome as the planet after which it was named, roared from its launching pad at 3:12 p.m. (EST) atop a column of liquid flame.

Seven minutes later the monstrous missile had climbed about 77 miles into space and nosed back into the atmosphere to its destruction 229 miles away in the Atlantic Ocean.

The success opened the way for a milestone flight planned for the 1.5 million pound thrust Saturn-1 rocket late this year —when a live hydrogen-fueled engine will be flown aboard the massive booster for the first time.

The 16-story monster rode into the skies on a tongue of liquid flame that stretched longer than a football field.

Like its three successful predecessors, the shot today carried only dummy upper stages loaded with water for ballast. Scientists were interested only in seeing how the eight-engine booster performed and to test a novel technique in which one of the engines was deliberately cut off in flight.

The federal space agency said early indications were "every phase of the flight looked nominal."

As the countdown reached "minus-zero" the 16-story rockets's engines blazed into life. It was deliberately held on the launching pad for 3.7 seconds while it burned 15,000 pounds of liquid oxygen and high grade kerosene to build up thrust.

By 1965, America hopes to be using Saturn to orbit three-man teams of astronauts around earth.

Marin City Bus Plan Protested

A Western Greyhound Lines announcement that it will soon abandon its Marin City ticket agency and sell no tickets there for a year today drew protests from residents.

The Greyhound announcement said that the agency would not be re-opened until some merchant takes it up in conjunction with a business in the proposed new commercial development to be built in about a year.

Bus service will be continued into Marin City with loading and unloading to be handled at Drake and Donohue Avenues, according to J. A. Lancione.

Lancione said that Marin City will still be a transfer point and that passengers may buy a one-way ticket for cash on the bus. However, they will not be able to buy a commute book nor a round trip from the driver at Marin City, he said.

Marin City residents, according to Hardy Westmore Sr., are protesting closing of the depot as well as the adjacent depot cafe operated by Mamie Ray Judson. Mrs. Judson said today that 400 signatures have been collected on petitions, circulated by Westmore.

"Marin City is a major transfer point for all Marin County and it is essential that a depot

Gas Tax Hike Bill Gaining

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today approved a controversial bill to raise motorists' taxes by 70 million dollars, including a hike in the gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon.

The committee approved the measure by Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) on a divided voice vote. The bill now goes to the Senate floor.

The bill, opposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, also would increase auto license fees from $8 to $9 a year and boost truck weight fees by 19 per cent.

The increased funds would go to cities and counties for road and street work.

Collier said the bill is designed to build up the network of major connecting roads underlying the state highway system.

The bill gives the Department of Public Works power to review how the funds are spent.

Under a new apportionment formula included in the bill, each city would get a minimum of $4,800 a year, and each county a minimum of $9,600 a year.

Local governments would have to match the funds with one local dollar for every two state dollars for the first four years. The formula then would provide for dollar-for-dollar matching.

House Committee Approves Funds For Point Reyes Land

Approval was given today by the House Appropriations Committee in Washington of the Interior Department budget, including 2.2 million dollars for land purchase in the Point Reyes National Seashore, according to word from Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City).

This was the first firm step toward making cash available, following failure to do so last fall. Clausen said he expected full House action within a week. The money is for the 1964 fiscal year starting July 1.

Clausen added that he expects favorable committee action "very soon" on the five-million-dollar supplemental appropriation which could provide more money quicker.

Just before this word today, George L. Collins of Ross, president of Nature Conservancy, announced that cooperative action has been taken to hold intact for federal purchase the 2,500-acre Lake Ranch on the Point Reyes Peninsula.

Owners have agreed to preserve the property against subdivision or similar gainful endeavor, Collins said, until money becomes available for pur-

Marin Soaked Up Five Inches Of Rain In Blustering Storm

Marin soaked up five inches of rain in the blustering storm which blew in Tuesday night.

The storm, accompanied by 70-mile-per-hour winds, caused several deaths on the West Coast and closed major highways across the Sierra.

The weatherman said the storm should ease off today with a 70 per cent chance of occasional rain tonight and tomorrow.

The storm's worst blows were delivered yesterday along the extreme Northern Coast of California and the Southern Coast of Oregon. A redwood tree toppled south of Crescent City and killed a logger, Ben Jewel, 47, who was crushed in the cab of his pickup truck. A second man was killed when blown overboard from a fishing boat near Crescent City, and a third victim died when a car skidded off a highway, also near Crescent City.

Rock and mud slides blocked commuter traffic last night on Highway 24, the main route into Contra Costa County from the East Bay. The slides were cleared by this morning.

An Oakland man, Henry Amiot, and two friends yesterday rode out the height of the storm in a disabled 25-foot cabin cruiser, the Mary H. regularly moored at the Loch Lomond Marina in San Rafael. The cruiser was found drifting with a dead battery at 2:40 a.m. today four miles north of the East Brothers Light Station in San Pablo Bay. The Coast Guard hauled the cruiser,

Young Glue Sniffer Dies

Duncan

FREEPORT, Kan. (AP)—Stanley Duncan, 19, was the prototype of the small town boy, never in trouble, a star athlete and well on his way to success as a farmer.

Then his family found him dead—the victim of the juvenile glue sniffing fad.

This could happen only in a big city slum, never in a small town, said a relative. But it did.

Newspaper Strike On Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—The last striking union defied its leadership yesterday and voted down a contract, forcing the newspaper shutdown into its 111th day and depriving millions of the editions they had expected to see again today.

In morning newspaper offices, the 191 to 111 negative vote of the photoengravers union was greeted with shock and disbelief. The presses had been cleaned and inked, lead heated in pots, and editorial workers altered to turn out copy for today's editions.

If only 41 of the dissenters had changed their mind just before voting, almost 20,000 idle newspaper employees would be back to work today.

Outbreak Of Flu On Coast?

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A chance of an outbreak of Asian flu on the West Coast is still possible, the U.S. communicable disease center warned today, but the epidemic that felled thousands elsewhere in the nation has waned.

A spokesman for the center in Atlanta, Ga., said the epidemic definitely had passed its crest in the Eastern and Midwestern states.

"We are watching the West Coast," he said. "There have been isolated cases in California but no evidence there will be an epidemic in that state."

Doctors Against Smoking

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Medical Assn. says it has become the first such society in the United States to publicly declare cigarette smoking harmful.

After considering several stronger proposals, the association's House of Delegates voted yesterday "to publicize the harmful effect of smoking."

How Young Boy Met Death

NEW YORK (UPI)—A casual encounter, a muttered epithet and an angry shove added up to death yesterday for 9-year-old Frank Rodreguez.

Rodreguez' assailant told police he and a friend were walking on a Brooklyn pier when they met Rodreguez whom neither had ever seen before.

According to the story told to authorities Rodreguez uttered an obscene name. Angrily, his attacker shoved Rodreguez and the latter fell into the East River. Police said the attacker was eight years old.

Bidault Delays Exit

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — Fugitive French underground leader Georges Bidault delayed his departure from Portugal today in his search for a political haven.

The 63-year-old former French premier, who now heads a movement to topple French President Charles de Gaulle, was asked to leave the country by police, who questioned him for 10 hours yesterday.

Bidault reportedly planned to seek asylum in South America to continue his political struggle against de Gaulle.

Record N.Y. Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has the approval of the New York Legislature for a record, 2.82-billion-dollar state budget. It came after a long fight in which he suffered a setback but preserved a key element in what apparently is his bid for the Republican nomination for president next year.

The fiscal program as approved requires 35.4 million dollars in additional state levies but it will be raised under the designation of "fees," allowing Rockefeller to continue his policy of reporting to Republican audiences throughout the nation he has held the line on taxes.

Sgt. York Rallies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — World War I hero Sgt. Alvin C. York, ailing with chest paints, was listed in "very good condition" early today in St. Thomas Hospital.

Dr. Jack Witherspoon said the 75-year-old York is suffering a contusion of the chest and "traumatic pleurisy" probably incurred when York rolled off his bed at home last week.

Weight Battle Wanes

LONG BEACH (AP) — Mary Ferguson is still fighting a losing battle—and still not losing as much as she'd like.

Mrs. Ferguson, 36, shut herself in a hotel a week ago Sunday, determined to lose 50 pounds in two weeks so she could slip into some more flattering clothes for Easter. She soon abandoned her 50-pound objective and said she'd settle for 28.

Well, she's lost 16 and she has three days to go.

Mrs. Ferguson said last night she was down to 228 pounds and feeling fine.

Her husband, alone at home with their dog, had promised her a new dress. But Mrs. Ferguson says a Beverly Hills designer has offered to make her a dress for nothing. "They said the dress will be worth $300," she said. "I don't know how a dress could cost that much. Maybe it has diamond buttons."

Princess In Films

ROME (UPI)—Princess Soraya will get $200,000 for her first picture, plus 20 per cent of the profit, Dino de Laurentis Productions announced today.

The second picture will be "a little higher," he said.

Volcano Kills 1,500

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Red Cross said yesterday it had received word that 1,500 persons were killed, 300 hospitalized and 100,000 made homeless by the eruption of Agung volcano in Bali.

The agency said a cablegram containing that information arrived this afternoon by way of Geneva, Switzerland, but there was no indication when the message left Bali.

The information was reported by the secretary-general of the Indonesian Red Cross and by Bill Cass of the American Red Cross, who is manager of the Oklahoma City Red Cross office. He is on loan to the Indonesian Red Cross and arrived in Bali a week before the volcano eruption 10 days ago.

Child To Have Legs

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Debbie Marcuccilli, home from a hospital, may spend her eighth birthday, April 21, in another hospital being fitted for artificial legs.

Debbie lost both legs six weeks ago in a school bus crash.

Debbie, a second-grader, was one of 62 children aboard a school bus Feb. 13 when the bus and a tractor-trailer collided in Waterloo, near this central New York village. She was the only child gravely injured.

Paris Transit Struck

PARIS (AP)—French electrical workers staged a series of brief surprise strikes today, stalling Paris subways and suburban trains during the rush hour and leaving many commuters stranded.

The electrical workers said they will shut off the current at intermittent intervals during the next week. Gas company workers also are expected to strike, lowering pressure in the mains.

11 Crash To Death

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Two Americans and nine other persons died today in the crash of a South Korean air transport in a heavy snowstorm 10 miles northwest of Seoul, the Korean air force announced.

Junks Sunk; 20 Die

MACAO (UPI)—More than 20 Chinese fishermen today were reported killed when their junk was sunk by two Red Chinese gunboats in waters a few miles from Macao. An exchange of gunfire preceded the sinking.

Lab Dog Bears Pups

STANFORD (UPI) — Stanford Medical School doctors said yesterday that a dog that was kept alive for 77 minutes with its heart detached from its body during an operation has given birth to a litter of pups.

Engravers Sign Pact

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The Photoengravers Union, representing 64 employees at the strikebound Cleveland Press and Plain Dealer, voted last night to accept a 25-month contract.

The photoengravers became the eighth union to come to terms since the strike began 188 days ago. The pact was retroactive to Dec. 1.

Casino Bus Trips Target Of Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Chartered bus trips to Nevada gambling casinos shouldn't be allowed, says Assemblyman Don A. Allen Sr. (D-Los Angeles).

He introduced a Wednesday outlawing tieups between the casinos and transportation companies. He said he'd be for outlawing chartered plane trips, too, except they fall under federal control.

Allen said chartered bus trips to Las Vegas are cutting into the night club and other entertainment business in Los Angeles.

Kremlin Denies Alaska Fly-Over; Says Planes Were 200 Miles Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has flatly denied a U.S. charge that Soviet planes flew 30 miles into Alaska March 15. Moscow says their aircraft were more than 200 miles away.

Washington authorities said the Soviet denial, received late Wednesday, probably will end the formal diplomatic exchange on the incident. But they predicted the United States will continue to remind the Soviet Union at appropriate times that air space intrusions will not be tolerated.

The U.S. government was sticking firmly to its version, contained in a March 16 protest note to Moscow, that two Soviet reconnaissance planes flew over the southwestern corner of Alaska for nearly a half hour.

U.S. officials said the Soviet Union contended their planes flew no closer to the U.S. border than 350 kilometers (about 218 miles).

The State Department declined to make the note public. Officials said it was up to the Soviets to do that.

Moscow appeared to have no desire to make a big issue over the incident. U.S. informants said the note was very short and devoid of propaganda embellishments the Communists often include in their diplomatic and public declarations.

The March 15 flight was described by a U.S. spokesman at the time as "the first clearly established incident of a Soviet over-flight of the United States."

No further such penetrations of U.S. air space have been reported since. Washington officials said they do not know the reason for the March 15 flight.

Navy Studies Missiles For Shore Bombardment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy may plug a "gun gap" by adapting some of its shipboard antiaircraft missiles for bombardment of shore targets, it was disclosed today.

"The use of Tartar, Talos and Terrier missiles for shore bombardment is being investigated to determine feasibility and cost effectiveness," the Navy told the Associated Press.

In time, the Navy said, its advanced Typhon missile may be used for shore bombardment but "it is too early in the development stage to determine its feasibility."

Some Marine leaders and Navy amphibious warfare experts are concerned that a steady attrition in the Navy's heavy gun armament has caused a potentially serious lack of firepower to support over-the-beach assaults.

These professional officers have argued that aircraft cannot give the kind of pinpoint, all-weather fire support that used to come from 16-inch and 8-inch guns mounted on battleships and cruisers.

Effort Made To Halt Raids Against Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI, the U.S. Coast Guard and other agencies are doing all possible to discourage hit-and-run raids by Cuban refugees on Castro's Cuba, officials said today.

They said this is in line with the policy of President Kennedy. While he has repeatedly expressed a desire to see Cuba freed of communism, Kennedy said last week he did not believe the hit-run tactics are effective toward this end. They may even strengthen Prime Minister Fidel Castro, he said.

Some concern is expressed in high administration circles that the free lance raids, if continued might prove the spark that would set off a new, explosive crisis in U.S.-Soviet relations.

The question of what measures the United States is taking to stop the forays came up in the wake of a Soviet Union protest Wednesday and the report of another raid Tuesday night.

Moscow charged the United States was responsible for "piratical attacks." Specifically it mentioned an attack on the Soviet freighter Lgov, shot up by exiles March 17 at the sugar port of Isabela de Sagua on Cuba's north coast.

The State Department quickly denied U.S. responsibility for the assault, which refugee leaders have said was mounted from "somewhere in the Caribbean."

Lincoln White, department press officer, said: "The U.S. government is doing everything it possibly can to prevent such incidents from happening from U.S. territory."

Even as the United States was rejecting the Soviet protest, word came of a new raid on the port of Isabela de Sagua.

A spokesman for the group, Commando L, said in Miami the raiders slipped into the port Tuesday night, attacked a Soviet freighter and left it "badly in need of repairs to keep it from sinking."

The raiders, the spokesman said returned safely to their base "somewhere in the caribbean."

A Justice Department official said the FBI is investigating to determine whether the attacks have violated any U.S. laws such as the Neutrality Act or the foreign agents registration act. There is no indication the March 17 attack was mounted from U.S. soil, he said.

The Justice Department spokesman hazarded the opinion that the FBI investigation might tend to "put a damper" on such raids.

Justice officials, like others in the government, expressed mixed feelings toward Cuban refugee leaders who have vowed to strike "again and again and again."

"We certainly sympathize deeply with their desire to see Cuba freed," one official said, "but we don't want them to push us into a war."

The Coast Guard said it regularly patrols the Florida coast with planes and surface vessels.

Death Row Holds Record 41; No Executions Set

The commitment this week of Oliver Stanley Williams, a condemned murderer from Los Angeles County, to San Quentin Prison's Death Row, brought the number of the "Row's" inmates to an all-time record of 41, Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said yesterday.

"Every one we add is a new record," Frady said.

With a total of 33 cells on condemned row, prison authorities have been placing the surplus in the isolation section, which is back-to-back with the condemned section.

"The situation is causing us some concern," Frady said. "In the first three months of this year we have received seven condemned men and there has been one execution."

Moreover, there are no execution dates set at present. Twelve inmates have stays of execution, but the dates aren't likely to be set for months, Frady said. Others like Williams have appeals pending.

Another inmate, Carl Alfred Quicke, was taken to Orange County for court appearance in an action to correct the trial records.

Wreck Victim Shows 'Slight Improvement'

Rowena Polak, 20, of 120 Bayview Drive, Bayview Acres, showed "slight improvement" today and was conscious at times, according to a spokesman for Marin General Hospital.

Her condition remained critical. Miss Polak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Polak, suffered head injuries Sunday in an auto accident near Orland, Glen County.

Duffy Opposes Death Penalty In Indiana Talk

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Clinto T. Duffy, former warden of San Quentin Prison and resident of Greenbrae, last night urged abolishment of the death penalty and said he was convinced it was not a deterrent to crime.

Duffy, who has witnessed more than 150 executions, spoke at the annual banquet of the Volunteers of America.

Duffy, warden at the West Coast prison between 1940 and 1952, noted that in states where capital punishment was done away with, there was no noticeable difference in the number of homicides.

"Our prison systems are set up on the concept that they must protect society and must work toward the rehabilitation of the offender," he said.

"I believe that most prisoners, except for mental cases, can be changed for the better, although a few will have to be kept under close confinement for the rest of their natural lives."

Jr. College Support Is Asked

Increased state support for California public junior colleges has been asked by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the board of trustees of Marin Junior College District, in letters to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-Marin) and Rep. William T. Bagley (R-Marin).

Despite the fact that "today more than half of all college students are enrolled at one of these two-year institutions," wrote Mrs. Deedy, California is among states providing the lowest level of support. She said the state is estimated to pay only one-quarter the cost of current junior college operations.

Against this she set a Master Plan for High Education which recommended 45 per cent support. Mrs. Deedy pointed out that the College of Marin receives "even less than average state support," this year the level having fallen to 18 per cent for current operation and only 9 per cent as measured against total income including a 35-cent override tax for building purposes.

Construction Worker Denies Knife Assault

Donald Atwood Travis, 27, San Rafael construction worker accused of threatening two men with a knife Tuesday night, pleaded innocent yesterday to a felony assault charge.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court set the preliminary hearing for 9:30 a.m. April 17. However, Deputy Dist. Atty. Donald E. Paterson Jr. told the judge yesterday he may have difficulty prosecuting the case because the two victims ,both visiting from Canada, left San Rafael without a forwarding address.

Morley Keith Davis, 28, and Walter Ian Kinsopp, both from British Columbia, told sheriff's deputies they picked up a hitch-hiker, Travis, in Petaluma. They had a couple of drinks in Novato and were heading south. They complained Travis pulled a knife on them.

Secretarial Help Sought For Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Money to pay secretarial help for the State Board of Education is proposed in a bill by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel).

He asks $1,900 a year for the chairman, and $900 each for the other nine members. Farr said some of the present members are paying secretaries out of their own pockets.

Board of Education members are paid only expenses, and the only secretarial help available to them is the staff of the Education Department.

TV, Phonograph Stolen

Burglars over the weekend took a Motorola television set and a Silvertone record player, valued at $500, from the residence of Richard Chortall of 663 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo. Entry was made by breaking a rear window, according to San Anselmo police.

Donald Fox Quits Race For Larkspur School District

Donald N. Fox of 98 Cornell Avenue, Larkspur, one of six candidates for two vacancies on the Larkspur School District Board in the April 16 elections, announced his withdrawal today, urging his supporters to vote for William G. Thompson of 24 Seminole Avenue, Corte Madera.

Fox said he was withdrawing because of the press of activities of his maintenance and supply business in San Francisco. He urged support of Thompson, with whom he had been running, "because we have the same general philosophy on education."

Fox's withdrawal came too late for his name to be removed from the ballot. He thus conceivably could be elected.

He told a reporter today that he was sure when he filed several weeks ago that he would have time for the position. He added:

"However, suddenly in the past few days our business has unexpectedly started to expand. This is a pleasant surprise but it will be too much to handle along with the school trustee post."

Fox said he also had run for the board two years ago and was disappointed that he was unable to complete his present race.

Others left in the race are incumbent board chairman Pauline Secor of Larkspur and Wallace G. Colthurst, Curtis P. Kamai and Albert Leslie, all of Corte Madera.

The five will appear at a candidates night sponsored by the district's four parent teacher associations at 8 p.m. today in the multi-purpose room of Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera. Former Larkspur planning commission chairman Vaughn Marker will be moderator.

Besides Mrs. Secor's post that of M. K. Taylor of Corte Madera becomes vacant June 30. Taylor resigned Jan. 22.

FBI May Join Search For Missing Child

The Federal Bureau of Investigation will be asked to aid in the search for 5-year-old Doreen Heskett, a former Novato resident, believed to have been kidnapped Monday in Napa.

Napa Police Chief Sherwood Munk said today he planned to ask the FBI to join one of the largest mass searches in Napa history on the assumption that Doreen was kidnapped.

An FBI spokesman in San Francisco said if there is evidence of kidnapping, it would enter the case immediately.

"Personally," Munk said, "I feel somebody picked her up in a car and took her out of the area. But some of the investigators feel she's still in the area, having fallen into a hole or hurt or something."

Doreen's mother, Mrs. Marvin Heskett, was named Novato "Mother of the Year" in 1959. Since then, the Hesketts, who then had seven children, moved to Napa.

Doreen failed to return from a friend's home at 5 p.m. Monday. She had gone to play at the home of Linda Ford, who lives 10 blocks away from the Heskett home. Linda walked back with Doreen part of the way and then returned home.

Napa sheriff's deputies and police were checking out rumors today and trying to locate someone who had seen her after 5 p.m. A junior high school teacher said he saw her playing with two other children in the school playground at 7:30 p.m., according to Munk.

More than 200 soldiers from the Presidio and airmen from Travis and Hamilton Air Force Base were to comb the area in Napa today where Doreen was last seen.

In addition to law officers conducting the search, a group of amateur radio enthusiasts were out in the field, equipped with portable radios.

Fifty men from Hamilton, along with a four-man rescue team, participated in the search yesterday in the driving rain. San Rafael contractor Michael McLean and his two bloodhounds returned yesterday after helping in the search.

FORUM

he is now fit for duty.

"I was temporarily incapacitated," said Giampoli. "I was prepared to return to work Dec. 17 and had notified the chief I would do so when he fired me."

The nature of Giampoli's trouble has been described as a nerve affliction which causes the toes to curl under, making walking difficult. He has been under care of two foot doctors.

Two city council candidates, incumbent Fred E. Jensen and aspirant Lothar Salin, appeared at the high school prepared to speak. Jensen passed out candidate's cards. Salin commented:

"I'm glad to hear from everybody that there are no issues. This indicates that no one has any quarrel with the criticisms I have directed at the present operation of the city."

Jensen missed the first part of a Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen dinner meeting to attend the forum, expecting to speak. The third city council candidate, incumbent Charles W. Aby, was at the Council of Mayors meeting.

Menary and Buresh were late for a testimonial dinner honoring Miss Louise Boyd at the Elks Club because of the non-forum.

Candidates for the San Rafael Board of Education, by contrast, have drawn crowds exceeding 100 persons to candidates' nights arranged by parent groups. In addition, several of them have held numerous neighborhood coffee meetings, often attended by a score or more.

F.O.E. Memorial AT I.O.O.F. Hall

Deceased members of San Rafael Aerie 256, Fraternal Order of Eagles will be honored at memorial services at 8:15 p.m. today in the I.O.O.F. Hall, 1522 Fifth Street, San Rafael.

The place of the meeting was given incorrectly in yesterday's Independent-Journal as the Portuguese-American Hall.

Members of the order will meet jointly with their auxiliary. There have been no deaths in the auxiliary for the past two years, according to Phyllis Fenstermaker, auxiliary secretary.

Donald L. Pierce, 25, of Santa Rosa, skidded off Highway 101 about four miles north of the Novato city limits about 2:50 p.m., said officer A. G. Koenig. Pierce's wife, Susan, 23, and four month old daughter, Cheryl Ann, were treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for minor cuts and bruises.

Airman 1/C Jerry W. Blount, 21, of 1311 Leafwood Drive, Novato, attached to the 78th Air Base Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base, drove his car into the rear of a dump truck driven by James E. Palmer, 31, of 615 Sunset Parkway, Novato, while northbound on Highway 101 between Ignacio and the Black Point cutoff at about 11:30 p.m., said officers Charles Heart and Gerald Walkup.

Blount was treated at the base hospital for minor cuts and bruises. He was cited for driving too fast.

CHIEF

meeting that Chiesa "should have gone through the council."

Chiesa said today that all the warrants involved are in the "dead" file and impossible to serve without impractical cost.

Many involve out-of-state residents, others have no known address and some really are dead.

"I don't know how you can collect them," Chiesa said.

The chief said he had been thinking about writing the court for some time and the fact that the matter came up at this time "had nothing whatever" to do with the city election April 8.

Chiesa faces opposition for the chief's job from Nick Giampoli and Vernon D. Thomas Jr.

"I never let politics interfere with functions of the police chief," Chiesa said. "Of that I can assure you."

Judge Thomas said he did not know how to answer the chief's letter. He has been studying the problem particularly since the 1962 Grand Jury called attention the number of unserved warrants and urged that some solution be found.

"It appears to me to be very poor," the judge said. "What we have is that some people are thumbing their noses at the law. It amounts to unequal enforcement of the law when some are fined and others are not."

Judge Thomas said the solution is very difficult to find and that delays, particularly in serving parking warrants, often are inevitable because many tickets are issued against a license number only and the owners have to be traced.

"It's like the weather. Everybody talks about it, but no one does anything," he said.

DEPOT

be maintained there for the convenience, comfort, safety of children, commuters and travelers," the petition reads. The petitions are expected to be presented to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency at their meeting Monday at 2 p.m. when the subject is on the agenda.

Mrs. Judson and Margot Marker, ticket agent at Marin City, said today they have been given notice that they must vacate the temporary World War II building by April 30. "We're losing money but we'll stick it out to April 30," said Mrs. Judson.

The area must be cleared by May 1, Bert Klahn, executive director of the Redevelopment Agency said, in order to allow Cecotti and Sons, contractors, to proceed with site improvement for redevelopment. The site where the depot and cafe stand is committed to be delivered to the Presbyterian Church at an early date, said Klahn.

"Since Greyhound has made the decision to shut down its terminal operation at Marin City," Klahn added, "there seems nothing to do on the part of the redevelopment agency in connection with transfer of the present temporary structure to a new location. I will recommend to the commission Monday that some shelter be constructed by the agency to afford protection from the weather to commuters until such time as the permanent commercial area is completed.

"The flow of bus traffic at Marin City is heavy and it is regrettable that no future permanent terminal is planned by Greyhound," he added.

Since Monday the contractor has filled in dirt around the depot and, with the heavy rains it has been reported that bus passengers are losing their shoes in the mud and, yesterday, one of the Greyhound drivers fell in the mud.

"We are not happy with the inconvenience caused by the rerouting of traffic at the entrance to Marin City," Klahn said, "but it is absolutely necessary in order to complete redevelopment."

PLANS

and duplexes to 16-unit apartments. Also planned for the area are a private club with lounge and fireplace, game rooms, gymnasiums, sauna baths and a large terrace overlooking three swimming pools and two tennis courts.

Wheeler, who is one of the developers of Terra Linda Gardens, said it is planned to have apartments with rooms larger than average, with extra large closets and storage areas, electric kitchens and central air conditioning controllable by each tenant. It is contemplated that maid service will be available, and nursery facilities for child care. Units will consist of one, two and three-bedroom apartments and town houses.

Welton Becket and Associates of San Francisco are the architects and Douglas Baylis of San Francisco will do the landscape architecture.

It is presently estimated that the first apartments will be ready for occupancy by early fall although the entire project will take possibly two years before completion.

Woman Hospitalized For Pill Overdose

Mrs. Watraud Prince of 280 Shoreline Highway was hospitalized this morning when she became groggy from an overdose of sleeping tablets, Sheriff's Deputy Boyd Burnham reported.

Marin Ambulance took her to Marin General Hospital about 3 a.m. for emergency treatment. The victim was later transferred to Napa State Hospital for observation.

STOCKS TODAY

Stocks erased early gains after a 2½-day rally and moved irregularly to the downside.

Weakness in tobaccos appeared to trigger the selloff.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.9 million shares compared with 4.3 million yesterday.

Castro Threatens To Combat Raids

HAVANA (UPI)—Fidel Castro threatened today to buy bombers and warships if necessary for protection against "Yankee aggressors" he blamed for attacks on two Soviet freighters in Cuban ports and the death of two Cuban couriers in an airliner crash.

"If these attacks continue, Cuba will find itself in the position of considering the acquisition of long-range bombers as well as the naval might needed to escort our merchant vessels, protect our supply routes and repel the aggressors," Castro warned. (See also, page 2.)

which was reported overdue at 2:30 p.m. yesterday, into the marina at 4:30 a.m. today. Small craft warnings were issued this morning.

Chains were required on U.S. Highways 40 and 50 today. Highway 40 was closed by heavy snows yesterday and Highway 50 by a slide between Kyburz and Meyers. Both roads were reported open today. The Feather River highway, U.S. 40 Alternate, was closed by a snowslide at Pulga, and chains were required in the Siskiyou mountains because of snow.

In Marin, the two-day storm had poured a total of five inches of rain as of 8 o'clock this morning in Forest Knolls. This was recorded by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Decker at their Forest Knolls home. Kent Lake reported 4.35 inches of rainfall, and Lagunitas 3.99 inches, for the same period.

In Inverness M. L. Mery Sr. recorded 3.55 inches; John J. Niebauer recorded 2.89 inches for the Chevy Chase area of Larkspur.

Other rain figures for the storm to 8 a.m. today are: Fairfax, 2.37 inches; San Anselmo, 3.32; Woodacre, 3.92; Larkspur city corporation yard, 2.80; Belvedere, 2.08; Sausalito, 2.15; Mill Valley, 2.20; Tamalpais Valley, 2.27; chase as one of the biggest holdings to become part of the new park.

Terming his group one of the nation's top citizen conservation organizations, Collins said it has been acting as a legal entity in assembling "local and other interests of non-profit nature" to insure the land against gobbling by subdividers.

Precise nature of the freeze action was not clearly defined. But Collins agreed that "quasi-sale" more or less covered the deal, designed solely to prevent developers from getting in ahead of federal purchase.

"The ranch is ready for federal acquisition," Collins said.

Collins said owners William Tevis and A. W. Sweet had worked with Conservation Associates, the Lurline B. Roth Foundation of San Francisco and the National Park Service. The park's project manager James E. Cole confirmed today that he had been aware of something in progress to hold the land until he has money for acquisition.

Lake Ranch reaches from the crest of Inverness Ridge to the sea, including spectacular Double Point and a series of beautiful freshwater lakes. Collins described it as probably the first, or one of the first, large properties which will go into federal hands.

"This is a situation," said Collins, "in which the Park Service and the Department of the Interior wanted and needed our help with interim negotiations and financing while the country waits for the government machinery to reach operating speed."

OBITUARIES

Ernest Smith Rites Held

Funeral services for Ernest Leroy Smith, the first civilian to fly the Pacific in a single motored plane, were held today in San Francisco.

The Rev. William K. Barrs, chaplain at Fort Miley Veterans Hospital and a friend of Smith, officiated. Smith died in San Francisco Tuesday after a long illness.

Smith moved to Sausalito with his family in 1929, two years after his historic flight. The flight, which took place July 15, 1927, with navigator Emory B. Bronte also aboard the 225 horsepower Travel Air monoplane, lasted 25 hours and 36 minutes.

In Sausalito he lived on Bulkley Avenue opposite the Alta Mira Hotel. A daughter, Mrs. Diane Lundquist, taught first grade at Sausalito Central School.

Smith, 70, built a highly successful magazine subscription business which began when he and a brother sold the Saturday Evening Post in San Francisco in 1903.

At his request, his body was cremated and the ashes buried in Golden Gate Cemetery, San Bruno, in a private service.

MRS. CARLSEN

Funeral services for Mrs. Marian Carlsen of Mill Valley will be held at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Nicholas P. Daphne Funeral home, 1 Church Street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Carlsen, 69, died yesterday at a local hospital after a heart attack.

She was a native of Denmark, had lived in San Francisco since 1923 and for the past year at 172 Morningsun Avenue in Mill Valley. Mrs. Carlsen belonged to the Danish Lodge, Thyra No. 3, the Danish Sisterhood and was a member of the Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley.

She leaves two sons, Roy A. Carlsen of Mill Valley and John H. Carlsen of San Francisco. Also surviving her are three sisters and one brother of Denmark and three grandchildren.

Interment will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

MRS. BOURNE

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence V. Bourne, 87, of Bolinas, a resident of Marin County for 86 years, will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Mrs. Bourne died Tuesday in a local hospital. A native of San Francisco, she lived in Bolinas most of her life. She is survived by four grandchildren.

MARY CARMICHAEL

A Mass of Requiem for Mary Agnes Carmichael, who died Tuesday in a local hospital after an illness, will be said at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Joseph's Church, San Jose.

Miss Carmichael was a retired school principal for the San Francisco Unified School District. Before her retirement she was principal of Louis M. Lombard School. A native of California, she had lived in Marin 13 years, most recently at the San Anselmo Hotel, 339 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo.

Miss Carmichael, 72, leaves a sister, Mrs. John Butler of San Francisco, and two brothers, Brother Lloyd E. Carmichael, S.J., of Los Gatos, and George Carmichael of Las Vegas, Nev.

A Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the W. B. Ward Funeral Chapel, 93 Devine Street, San Jose. Local arrangements are being handled by the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Interment will be at Calvary Cemetery, San Jose.

RICHARD BALL

Funeral services for Richard Ball, 77, of 72 Shady Lane, Ross, a resident of Marin County for about 60 years, will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Ball died Tuesday in a local hospital after a long illness. A native of England, Ball was a veteran of World War I.

Ball was a retired gardener. He had been a gardener for about 50 years and took care of many of the old estates in Ross. He last worked for St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

Ball is survived by his wife, Hedy Ball. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Governor Asks Legislature To Support School Spending

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's No. 1 problem, education, touched off a series of developments at the Capitol today

1. Gov. Brown asked the legislature to support a nine-point program designed, he said, to meet present school needs and the vast future "challenge of the classrooms."

2. Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr., (D-Merced), dropped his controversial multiple adoption bill but said he would press for an identical constitutional amendment to allow school districts to choose their own textbooks from a state-approved list.

Winton said he switched tactics to avoid a certain veto of the bill. Constitutional amendments bypass the governor, going directly from the legislature to the ballot, but they require a two-thirds vote to get on the ballot.

Brown favors the present system under which the state adopts one or more textbooks for each elementary school subject. Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction, backed the Winton bill.

3. The Senate Rules Committee announced a delay until at least next Thursday on whether to recommend Senate confirmation of Thomas W. Braden's reappointment to the Board of Education. Absence of a committeeman, Stephen P. Teale (D-Calaveras), was given as the reason.

The governor, in a special message to both houses, put his administration behind legislation he said constituted a "minimum program" to:

"Maintain California's leading position in education, to finance the massive growth of our student population, to erase the tragedy of school dropouts and to assure every California child an equal opportunity to grow and learn."

Brown said that in the next decade, California must expand its system of public education to duplicate the total effort of the past 80 years. Then he cited these figures:

Present enrollment: 4½ million. Expected increase in the next seven years: 1¼ million.

"Just to construct the school facilities for those new students," the governor said, "we must make an estimated investment of at least $2¼ billion."

Brown noted his 1963-64 budget carries $1.2 billion for education, including an additional $78 million for school support. He again urged $30 million of it be voted only if the legislature enacts a "realistic program of countywide equalization."

The message also listed administration support for bills already introduced and proposing to:

Reduce the vote necessary for passage of school bond issues from 66⅔ to 60 per cent.

Modernize vocational training programs in California schools.

Create a Commission on Inter-Group Relations which would work toward ending de facto segregation in schools.

Stiffer Rules On Pain-Killer Drug Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP) — After two days of hearings, the Senate Judiciary Committee has rejected proposals to make it tougher to obtain the pain-killing drug called "Percodan."

The vote was 6-6 tie on the bill by Sen. Edwin J. Regan, (D-Weaverville).

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, heading proponents of the measure, claimed hundreds of Californians were becoming addicted to the easily obtainable drug.

Opponents claimed the drug, while it could become habit forming, did not pose a significant addiction problem. Dr. Robert C. Batterman of Berkeley's Foundation for Clinical Pharmacology, claimed "Percodan" is not used regularly enough to cause addiction. It is used "only temporarily to satisfy . . . heroin addiction," he contended.

RACIAL HOUSING BILL PROGRESSES

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's broad program to make all housing discrimination illegal is past its first test, but the going will be tougher from now on.

The bill, by Negro Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) was sent to the Assembly floor Wednesday by a voice vote of the Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee. The eight Democrats appeared to oppose the five Republicans.

However, the bill probably will go to the Ways and Means Committee for investigation of its financial aspects.

Refusal to sell or rent housing to anyone because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry would be illegal under the bill, which also authorizes the State Fair Employment Practices Commission to try to stop violations.

All housing would be covered, except single-unit dwellings occupied by the owner as his home and living quarters run by religious, charitable or fraternal organizations.

Legislation passed two years ago bans discrimination only in publicly assisted housing—housing financed by government loan or property with a tax exemption.

The Rumford bill would abolish the complainant's right to sue for damages, but would let the FEPC ask civil court action if conciliation attempts are fruitless.

AGAINST TAX PLAN — Rep. Donald H. Clausen (right) and Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael pause on the steps of the House office building in Washington, D. C., en route to House ways and means hearing on the administration's tax measure. The Republican lawmaker from Crescent City charged the bill would not "close loopholes" as advertised but would "wipe out normal income tax deductions, long used by average taxpayers, to offset government revenue losses from the proposed income tax cuts."

Humphrey Rap FDA Slowness To Ban Drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today he has been told the Food and Drug Administration is taking steps to ban sales of a vitamin supplement, Menadione, to pregnant women.

The Minnesota Democrat said the FDA may try to pass off the action against the supplement, Vitamin K-3, as routine.

But, he added in a statement:

"The fact is it has taken a behind-the-scenes battle of more than a year and a public airing of the situation to get the FDA to act decisively."

Humphrey, himself a pharmacist, is chairman of a Senate Government Operations subcommittee which heard Dr. John O. Nestor, a pediatrician on the FDA staff, testify last week that the use of the vitamin in prenatal supplements may result in some instances in "brain damage, spasticity and death" to the newborn.

Humphrey also announced he has received further confirmation that another drug, Mylicon, which he said Nestor had forced from the market as a "pediatric drug," is still "unfortunately being sold for infant use" in the treatment of colic.

He said his subcommittee will not give FDA officials hearings until its staff has examined all the files on drugs criticized by Dr. Nestor, as well as on certain other cases and members have all the facts.

Knight Launches Drive For Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, hoping to start a presidential boom for Nelson A. Rockefeller, has tried to lower the boom on another Republican—Richard M. Nixon.

Knight opened a Rockefeller-for-President office here yesterday, despite the New York governor's objections, and then held a news conference devoted largely to his old adversary, Nixon.

Knight said he did not endorse Nixon's candidacy for the California governorship last year because of "the Hughes scandal."

"When we asked Mr. Nixon to explain that scandal, he said he would only discuss it with Democratic Governor Brown," Knight said. "That was a condition we couldn't accept."

Knight referred to a loan made to Nixon's brother Donald by the Hughes Tool Co. in 1956, when Nixon was vice president.

"The evidence," Knight said, "is that he (Nixon) negotiated this loan for his brother."

Asked why he called it a scandal, Knight said: "Because he (Nixon) and his family borrowed $205,000 from Howard Hughes."

Knight said Nixon's explanation of the loan was "very weak."

Nixon has said repeatedly he had nothing to do with the loan. He said last fall that his brother, whose restaurant was failing in 1956, borrowed the money from Hughes and their mother put up a piece of property as security.

Nixon could not be reached for comment on Knight's remarks.

Knight said at one point in the news conference: "I was a successful judge when he (Nixon) was in high school. I don't borrow $205,000 and then refuse to tell the people about it. Go ahead and print it!"

Knight was going to run against Nixon in last year's Republican gubernatorial primary but had to withdraw when he contracted hepatitis. Knight charged early in the campaign that he was told by a representative of Nixon that he could have a State Supreme Court seat if he'd retire from the race. Nixon emphatically denied this.

Goldwater Would Welcome Nixon In Political Comeback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), expressed hope last night that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would try to make a political comeback, possibly by running for the Senate or House from California.

Goldwater was asked about Nixon's future after the former vice president's defeat for the California governorship last fall.

"I don't think Nixon is necessarily politically dead," he commented, "but I concede he is politically sick. I'd like to see him stay in politics but that would require starting all over again."

Goldwater gave his views at a meeting of the Washington chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, the journalism association.

California lays claim to being the "doggiest state" on the strength of American Kennel Club figures showing 48,641 dogs were shown in competition last year, most of any state.

Next Step For Tax-Cut Measure Is Writing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, which has heard about 200 witnesses on President John F. Kennedy's tax cut and revision proposals, starts next week the even longer task of writing a bill.

Informed guessing on Capitol Hill is that the legislation will go to the House for action in June and that it will contain more immediate tax reduction than Kennedy recommended — about three billion dollars—though ultimately the reduction might level off at about his long range figure —$10.2 billion dollars.

Moreover, most congressional observers will be surprised if the committee incorporates in this year's bill more than a minimum of the tax revisions that Kennedy called necessary reforms and recoupings of some of the revenue sacrificed by slashing tax rates.

To provide tax cuts without compensating tax revisions and yet not swell too much an impending 11.9-billion-dollar deficit, the committee would have to forego rate reductions as deep as Kennedy recommended. Instead of trimming the present 20 to 91 per cent personal income tax range as low as Kennedy's proposed 14 to 65, the spread might have to be more like 15 to 75.

Kennedy has made it clear he is interested primarily in an economy-stimulating tax cut and will not make difficulties if Congress enacts this only at the cost of shelving much of what he called his tax reform program.

The hearings highlighted some of the more vulnerable parts of the program. The last two days were given over to an onslaught by oil industry witnesses on proposals for tightening some tax rules affecting the industry, especially the controversial 27½ per cent depletion allowance. This was figured at 280 million dollars compensating revenue.

Earlier, a prime target had been the Treasury proposal for a floor—5 per cent of income—under the personal deduction that would be allowed individual taxpayers for outlays like charitable contributions, mortgage interest and local taxes. The Treasury had calculated a 2.3 billion dollars recovery from this change.

Road Storm Damage Set At $4 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Winter storms have caused more than four million dollars damage to California highways, says State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack.

He said rains between Jan. 29 and Feb. 6 caused slipouts, washouts and landslides. The state has asked for $2.3 million dollars in federal funds for repairs, he told the Highway Commission Wednesday.

NO QUESTION BUT THE NAME IS HAX

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hax of 105 Hickory Avenue, Fairfax, yesterday achieved what many car owners merely dream: license plates bearing their name. It took a bit of doing. Mrs. Hax inquired at the Department of Motor Vehicles office in San Rafael and learned that the series including the prefix "HAX" would be sold in Montebello, Los Angeles County. She sent there for the plates — and back they came yesterday.

Debts Might Force FYT School Closure

Mounting debts may force closing of the Formative Years Training School in San Rafael unless about $3,000 can be obtained shortly, owner and operator Mrs. Jaclyn Albright said yesterday.

Mrs. Albright, who confesses she is no businesswoman, said parents of about 100 pupils in the unusual pre-school facility have raised or donated about $15,000 of $20,000 estimated as needed to keep the school going.

When the FYT School opened in February, 1961, Mrs. Albright said, 10 children were enrolled. This jumped last year to 73, and this year enrollment hit a peak of 120. It is now 113.

"I just counted children and thought I was fine," she said. "Then I discovered I was going into the hole about $1,000 a month. The more children I got, the faster I lost money."

The parents, who don't want to see the school close, are due to meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the school building at 10 Joseph Court. Mrs. Albright said she's hoping to find someone who can lend about $3,000 at 10 per cent interest.

"Our creditors have been marvelous," she said.

Because of the shortage of money, Mrs. Albright said she has been drawing no salary for herself. Her husband is in the real estate and investment business.

She employs 10 regular teachers and four special teachers for such things as music and languages. Mrs. Albright, a former public school teacher, is an artist and knows Spanish. She hand-picks her other teachers for special abilities.

The school takes children as young as three and one-half years, and Mrs. Albright said they "absorb everything like a sponge." They have some reading skill and a better general desire to learn when they are ready for regular school, she said.

Lately she has just met the payrooll and nothing else. The school is two months behind on the rent of its seven-room building.

Mrs. Albright believes she can make ends meet, once the debts are caught up, through a recent increase in tuition fees. She raised the fee for the kindergarten group, which attends five half-day sessions per week, from $55 to $66 a month, and the pre-school group, which attends six hours per week, from $35 to $42 a month.

Mrs. Albright said she has good reports from parents of former pupils now enrolled in regular schools, and hopes someday to incorporate a research center into the school.

Weather Cancels Lecture Series

Bad weather has forced the cancellation of a series of lectures by Ralph Larson, minister, at the Airatorium, 1811 Novato Boulevard, Novato.

John H. Toppenberg of Novato said the meetings, scheduled to open last night, will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the same place. Mud in the parking lot at the Airatorium made it unusable last night, he said.

City Hall Riot Film

"Operation Correction," American Civil Liberties Union film of the 1960 San Francisco city hall riots, will be shown tomorrow noon in Olney Hall, College of Marin, under sponsorship of the mariner discussion committee, Jerry S. Smith, president, announced today.

Bolinas Students Learn Of State Government First Hand On Visit

Twenty-one Bolinas seventh and eighth grade pupils visited the State Capitol yesterday in a "deluge of rain" and met Gov. Edmund G. Brown; Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-Marin); Maxwell Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction and Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Lassen, Modoc and Plumas counties).

Mrs. Frances Wilkins of Bolinas, whose daughter, Gigi, is in the eighth grade, arranged for the meetings with Brown, Mosk and Rafferty, those persons rarely meeting school youngsters personally, according to Peter M. Auer, superintendent-principal.

Going by bus, the pupils left at 7:40 a.m. and returned at 9:30 p.m. They were taken around the Capitol by guide Don Vitale, visiting the Supreme Court, legislature and the library.

At 11:45 a.m. the pupils met Brown in his office who presented them with state seal coins with his picture on the reverse side.

"Where do your pupils go to high school?" Brown asked Auer. Auer said they must travel one hour by bus to Tamalpais High School and said "if you really want to do something, you can build a high school for us on the coast. We lose people from our area when they move to be closer to a high school."

Brown, said Auer, immediately reached into his desk drawer and said jokingly "What do you need, money?"

Rafferty explained the functions of his office to pupils. Seventh grader Jim Ellis expressed a worry to Rafferty, Auer reported, that the school year might be extended under Rafferty's administration.

Rafferty assured Ellis it would not be forcefully extended. However, he added, more and more high schools are offering summer schools which means more children are going to school 11 months a year voluntarily.

Senator McCarthy left the floor of the Senate to talk to the pupils 15 minutes in a committee room, Auer said. The youngsters ate lunch at the Capital cafeteria. Auer said the trip was correlated with the eighth graders study of government. "It was a day of learning in which pupils learned, among other things, how bills are processed and passed." He said they will no write thank you notes to the dignitaries they visited.

Accompanying the students were Richard Hassall, seventh and eighth grade teacher; Auer, Mrs. Wilkins and Frank Vitelli, bus driver, of Bolinas.

Planners To Consider Roadside Business

Proposed classification of an acre of land at the Tocaloma Bridge on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in West Marin for use as a roadside business district will be considered Monday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The request from Max Weiss, owner of the property, was continued from a commission hearing last January. The site includes an old building next to the bridge, which was first a part of the Tocaloma railroad station and later used as a boarding house, inn and youth hostel.

Planner Edmund Kagi said denial of the proposed business use will be recommended by the planning staff. He said development of the area for any commercial use would be "contrary to the character of West Marin" and would lead to commercial buildings all along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard rather than concentration of commercial sites.

Weiss has not specified the business use he intends, but Kagi said the roadside district zoning could include "anything from a service station to a retail store."

The hearing on the request will be the ifrst item on the agenda for the commission's meeting, which will open at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

An application by Ghilotti Brothers to build an office building at 521 Auburn Street in the South San Rafael area will be the fourth item on the agenda. The proposed building would be one-story and would be used for offices of the construction firm.

Safe Swim Class Set For Novato

A public water safety program aimed at giving a better knowledge of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for the coming swimming season will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Novato Community House.

A film on water safety and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation will be shown by the Novato Fire Department. The firemen will then give a demonstration of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation with their model "Resusciann" a lifelike dummy that has artificial lungs and a regular heartbeat.

The free program is sponsored by the Community Services Committee of the Novato Rotary Club, the Novato Fire Department and the Novato Police Department.

Stray Cats A Problem

Center Postoffice Pros, Cons Aired

Arguments from economics led today to two opposite conclusions as to best location for the Corte Madera postoffice in a "Marin Sounding Board" discussion on radio KTIM.

Two merchants agreed that a postoffice lures retail trade. But this was why Louis Malvino, president of the Corte Madera Merchants Council, wanted a move to the Corte Madera Shopping Center whereas Robert Satterthwaite, owner of the Corte Madera Pharmacy, felt it should remain near his establishment.

But John Adlard, formerly of the town planning commission, vigorously declared that "the sole postoffice shouldn't be located in any shopping center because that deliberately ignores public safety and convenience."

Even balance to the panel was restored by attorney Richard Burns who, acting for the developers, described a process of steady work to make the center location safe and generally acceptable.

Most of the spice of the discussion, to be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, was contributed by Adlard who militantly maintained that the proposed center location represents "a breach of trust" and that "the developer's stubborn insistence created the controversy."

Adlard said that major change in plan had been made in "cynical disregard for integrity, refuting agreement."

His one point of agreement with Malvino was that the postoffice shouldn't be on the center's mall. Both favored the periphery if use of the center must be made and Malvino said merchants feel that the mall should be for major retail outlets with goods on display.

"Purchase of a few stamps," snorted Adlard, "shouldn't be as dangerous as jay-walking on Market Street in San Francisco."

Satterthwaite pointed out that the center is regional in appeal and said the postoffice is primarily for such local people as he seeks as his own customers.

Against the argument that the present postoffice is congested Satterthwaite suggested that a solution might be found by expansion, not moving. Parking problems would be accentuated by a postoffice in the center, he said, and Christmas and special sales would make access difficult.

Burns said there is "a desperate need" for relocation and stressed the steady work which he declared has been done to conquer problem after problem including factors of beauty and congestion.

Additional 256 new parking spaces for employees are being provided, said Burns in stressing that "as questions have been raised we have sought answers."

Questions presented by Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer from listeners mostly accepted the center site for the postoffice but raised the traffic issue. Malvino said there has been "tremendous improvement" lately and Burns stressed that work has been steady on this point. Questioned about a branch postoffice brought out that nothing of the sort seems likely in the near future.

Stalingrad Vet Heads Russ Forces

MOSCOW (UPI)—Marshal Sergein S. Biryuzov, a veteran of the World War II battle of Stalingrad, has been appointed chief of the Soviet armed forces general staff, it was reported today.

The official military newspaper Krasnaya Zvezdya (Red Star) said Biryuzov has replaced Marshal Matvei V. Zakharov, who held the post since 1959.

Zakharov, now 65, was chief of staff during last fall's Cuban missile crisis, but there was no indication whether the job change was a dismissal or simply a routine organizational shift.

Marine Colonel Retiring

Marine Col. Henry Matsinger of San Rafael will retire with more than 22 years of active commissioned service tomorrow in ceremonies at the Marine Corps Supply Center at Barstow, where he has been director of material for the past 15 months.

Matsinger, his wife Suzanne and their four children will live at 1318 Nye Street. He plans to become a school business administrator.

Matsinger was an artillery officer on Guadalcanal and also served in the Bougainville and Guam landings during World War II.

Since then he has served in many Marine installations in the United States.

Meeting Postponed

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Novato Sanitary District board was not held last night because of a lack of a quorum. The meeting was adjourned to April 4, said Albert Tresch, manager.

Park Meeting Reset

No meeting of the San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission was held last night because of a lack of a quorum. The meeting was rescheduled for April 3 at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

CROSS IS BURNED ON BERKELEY LAWN

BERKELEY (AP) — A cross was burned last night on the lawn at the home of the Rev. Fred Stripp, a University of California professor and candidate for mayor who favors a fair housing ordinance to be voted on April 2.

Fire left a small blackened area on the lawn at the Stripp home at 3202 Claremont Avenue, a fashionable district.

"The burning of a cross in our front yard makes us all the more determined to work for the day when brotherhood replaces bigotry in America," said Stripp, University of California debate coach. He is caucasion.

Stripp and his wife were at a political meeting Wednesday night, but three of their four children were in the house. They called police and the fire department also responded.

The fair housing ordinance would make it illegal to refuse to sell or rent housing because of race, religion or national origin.

Debate over the measure has sharply divided Berkeley residents and stirred such interest that City Clerk Naomi E. Hess forecasts the biggest vote in the city's history next Tuesday. She predicted at least 70 per cent of the 52,936 eligible voters would ballot.

Assembly Given Exemption Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to exempt imported raw materials from personal property taxes moved to the Assembly floor today with the approval of the Revenue and Taxation Committee.

The committee recommended the measure by Assemblyman John G. Veneman (R-Modesto), yesterday on a split voice vote. Opponents said it would reduce city and county revenues, and give importers an advantage over domestic manufacturers.

Newsprint was included in the bill originally, but was amended out by the committee. The Assembly passed a similar bill in 1961, but it was defeated in the Senate.

MILES OF MESSAGES — Senior M/Sgt. Clarence F. Smith scans tape on one of the older teletype machines at Hamilton Air Force Base. A new automated compound terminal was recently installed to link Hamilton to Autodin, the new high speed data communications network of the Department of Defense.

(Air Force photo)

HAFB Linked To New Rapid Communications

Hamilton Air Force Base has been linked to a new high-speed data communications system serving more than 300 armed services and industrial stations at speeds up to 3,000 words a minute.

Named Autodin, the system is the first increment of a world-wide defense communications network. Tributary stations such as Hamilton feed data to five major message relay centers in the United States. The nearest is McClellan Air Force Base in California.

A "compound terminal" complex at Hamilton is operated the clock by a group of personnel headed by S/Sgt. John W. Pippin. The complex consists of a terminal control unit, printing card punch units and an automatic sending ar receiving unit.

Autodin, designed to speed the handling of more than 19 million requisitions a year, can handle any information, including narratives, which can be reduced to digital form. Information is fed into it on punch cards and teletype tape, and the system can handle seven million cards per day — an equivalent of 100 million words.

According to Maj. B. N. Ownbey, communications division chief at Hamilton, only one character error in 10 million will slip through the system.

REA Leaders Schedule Napa Session

Business, civic and government leaders from the nine counties between San Francisco and Grants Pass will gather in Napa County on April 4-5 for the quarterly executive board meeting of the Redwood Empire Assn.

Final plans will be unveiled for REA's joint travel-information center in downtown San Francisco, according to President Jack Craemer. The center will open in May as a joint venture with the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau.

The Napa session will be held on Friday at the Silverado Country Club. At a luncheon, REA chiefs and Napa County leaders will hear brief reports from President Craemer, from Publicity and Advertising Committee Chairman William A. Hynes; and from Fred R. Roper, who directed a recent REA travel survey.

On Thursday, guests will tour several wineries and enjoy a barbecue at Beringer Brothers Gardens, in St. Helena.

Terra Linda Pool Use Restricted

Season memberships for use of the Terra Linda Recreation-Parks District swimming pool will not be sold this year to non-residents of the district, directors declared last night.

In reply to many requests from residents outside the district who wish to buy pool memberships, the district board said its "first responsibility" is to district residents and that a full season of operation would be necessary before outside season memberships may be considered. The new pool was opened last year in mid-season.

The district directors, however, agreed to consider selling season memberships to Terra Linda volunteer firemen who are non-residents. The qualifications for memberships, such as length of service with the fire department, will be reviewed by the recreation district, the community services district board and the fire department. Memberships would be sold to volunteers at a higher rate than the rate allowed to residents, said Recreation Director Richard Conzelman.

The district board also:

1. Requested more information about insurance coverage held by the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children before granting a request to the association to let retarded children use the pool this year.

2. Agreed to write to local state legislative representatives asking favorable votes on proposed legislation to allow recreation districts extensions in loan repayments and other benefits.

3. Authorized a junior life-saving course for students aged 12 to 16, to begin April 22.

4. Announced that applications for summer recreation work in the district will be accepted until April 10 at the Terra Linda Community Center.

FUSSELMAN TO REMAIN CHAIRMAN

Supervisor William D. Fusselman is likely to remain acting chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors throughout the absence of ailing Chairman Walter R. Castro, it developed today.

Informal poll of his three active colleagues indicated agreement that though Fusselman himself, in picking up the gavel Feb. 26 after Castro suffered a heart attack a few days before, suggested rotation on a one month-apiece basis, it will be found acceptable at next Tuesday's meeting to leave Fusselman in the chair awhile longer.

Jane Marsh In Finals For Met

Dramatic soprano Jane Marsh of Mill Valley is among the 10 finalists who are competing in the Metropolitan Opera auditions in New York tomorrow.

A senior at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music in Ohio, she won the contest for the Great Lakes region and was among 22 semi-finalists brought to New York. She began her voice training in Mill Valley under Mme. Bella Resek.

Jane is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earle Mash of Mill Valley, who are flying to New York tonight to be present for the auditions.

Tennis Courts For Corte Madera Urge

Two tennis courts should be built in the new Corte Madera Town Park by the end of July, it developed from Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission discussion last night. The commission also approved building a Little League ball field in the park and set a tentative budget for the fiscal year beginning in July.

Richard McCready, assistant town engineer, said today he expects to have bid specifications for the courts out by May 1. Construction, he said, should begin by July and will take two weeks to a month to complete.

The Corte Madera Lions Club is paying for the courts. The town will advance what money the club does not yet have, McCready said, and be re-imbursed for it later.

Park improvements decided on by the commission last night are:

Build a sidewalk on Pixley Avenue, $4,500, and build a sidewalk on Tamalpais Drive, $7,000.

Construct a path near the recreation center, $3,000, and fill a parking area near the center, $3,000.

Grade and plant area between the existing turf, $2,000, begin parking lot by the future tennis courts, $1,000, and grade and compact the levee on the lagoon and fly casting pond, $500.

The commission also scheduled resurfacing paths and building stairs with hand-rails at Menke Park.

Commissioners agreed to suggest that the city council approve a request by the Corte Madera Little League to build a ball field at the new park with construction help from the city.

Young Burglary Trio Discovered Through Dog

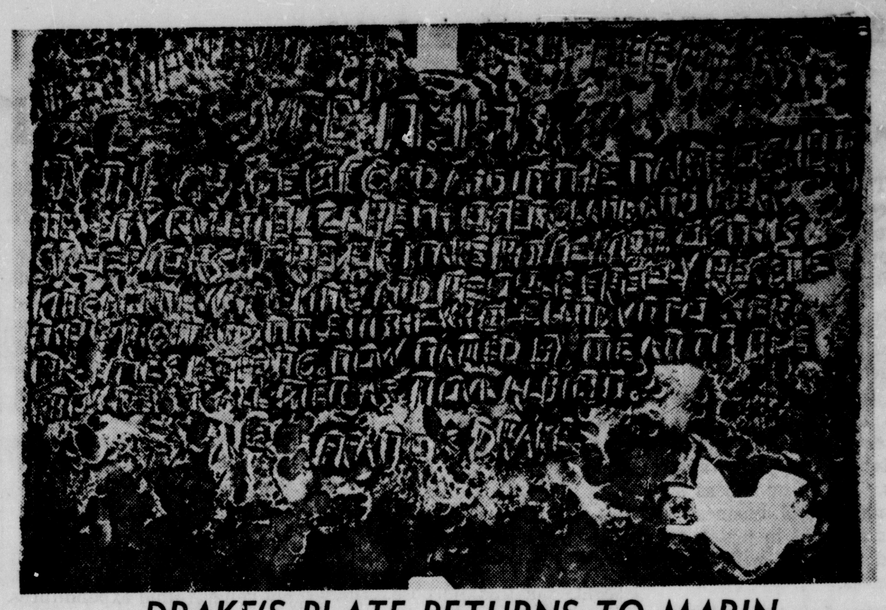
Three San Rafael youths, whose ages are 8, 9, and 11, were blamed by police yesterday for three house barglaries in San Rafael.

The youths were tracked down by police who were furnished a description of a dog which accompanied one of the youths on his rounds. The dog was spotted in front of a San Rafael home yesterday.

The youths were booked at Juvenile Hall for burglaries of the residences of Frank A. Schweiger of 97 Prospect Drive where candy was taken on March 20 and of Edward C. McGrath of 41 Coleman Drive. A transistor radio was missing from the McGrath home on March 21.

Still unclaimed, according to police, is a watch which was stolen by the youths.

So much change is in the offing that it is estimated that half of the children now in elementary schools will, as adults, be employed in occupations that do not now exist.



DRAKE'S PLATE RETURNS TO MARIN

Sir Francis Drake's famed "plate of brass" with which he claimed Marin County and environs for Queen Elizabeth in 1579 will be transferred under guard from the Bancroft Library in Berkeley tomorrow for display during business hours at the Northgate Shopping Center offices of Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Assn., from next Monday to April 10. The plate was found near Greenbrae in the summer of 1936 and this is the first time it has come back to Marin County since then.

Local Taxpayers Carry Growing Burden Of Education

(This is the second of three articles analyzing school budgets to show what is purchased with the "education dollar.")

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

Springtime means school budget preparation time.

In the district offices of Marin's schools are heard the clatter of adding machines, the scratching of pencils, and perhaps a groan or two as superintendents and business managers attempt to match anticipated revenues with expected expenses.

Where does the money come from—to pay the teachers, buy the books and paper, keep the buildings in order? Mostly, and more and more, it comes from the property owners of the district.

Without state aid to education, local tax rates would, of course, be fantastically high, and schools undoubtedly could not operate on the scale they now do.

But the 50-50 ideal of state and local support for the schools remains only an ideal. The trend is toward more local support, and less from the state.

Local districts have been quite unhappy by the situation, says Asst. County Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer. The districts feel the state should put up more money. Two bills are now before the legislature to place more dollars in the state's minimum support program for education.

The total state aid received by a district depends on the assessed valuation behind each child; the more wealth per child, the less state "equalization" aid.

In Marin County the reappraisal program has made some school districts look wealthier "on paper," one school official noted.

Last year Marin schools received $5,414,491 in state basic aid ($125 per child) and equalization aid. Other state funds also were allocated for special purposes (certain reimbursements for physically handicapped, mentally retarded, transportation and driver training) and for growth in enrollment.

The state does not tell the schools how to spend the money it apportions, but a 1961 law does require an elementary district to use at least 60 per cent of its operating budget, exclusive of transportation costs, for teachers' salaries. High schools and junior colleges must spend 50 per cent, and unified districts, 55 per cent, for this purpose. There are penalties for failure to comply.

The law caused a lot of consternation in Marin, according to Kupfer. It affects adversely the districts that spend most on their schools, and takes away the prerogative of determining how to allocate their money, he points out. Some districts with the best salary schedules are hard hit by the law.

Two changes have been proposed: one would toss out the law requiring a certain amount be spent on teachers' salaries; the other would include salaries of certain auxiliary personnel — readers for English themes, nurses, psychologists, for example—in the percentage requirements.

A budget is a spending plan, and to prepare it schools check back on past income and expenditures, then look ahead to what they expect to receive and spend in the coming year.

Analyze the expenditures of four Marin County school districts last year (1961-62)—Fairfax and San Rafael elementary and San Rafael High and Tamalpais Union High, for example—and you find the pattern of spending in many budget categories is very similar. Income from the various sources also was received in somewhat like proportions.

(For purposes of this series, only general fund expenditures were studied, not building or other special funds).

The districts vary in size and form, however. Fairfax had 869 pupils enrolled in its three elementary schools as of October 1961. It sends its graduates to Tamalpais Union High School District.

The latter takes its student body also from Bolinas-Stinson, Kentfield, Lagunitas, Larkspur, Mill Valley, Nicasio, Reed, Ross, San Anselmo and Sausalito elementary districts.

In October 1961, 4,378 pupils were enrolled in the three schools of the Tamalpais district—Redwood, Tamalpais and Drake Highs.

San Rafael elementary had an enrollment of 4,008 and San Rafael High School District, 2,630, at that time. The latter, with two schools, takes graduates of San Rafael elementary, San Jose and Dixie districts. San Rafael high and elementary, though separate districts, are governed by the same board.

If you own property in Fairfax district, last year you paid a total tax of $2.46 per $100 of assessed valuation to support your elementary schools.

The district spent $352,484 out of a total income of $383,935, including a beginning balance of $20,852. Of that income, exclusive of the balance, 59.5 per cent came from local taxes, 37.3 from the state, 1.5 from county sources, and 1.4 from the federal government.

Fairfax, largest of the dozen districts in the county with under 1,000 enrollment, has experienced a 10.7 per cent increase in enrollment in the last five years.

And for the last three years, assessed valuation per child has increased, from $8,969 in 1959-60 to $11,823 in 1961-62. When it reaches $16,500, state equalization aid will stop, and the district will receive only basic state aid of $125 per child.

The trend toward construction of apartment dwellings in Fairfax has increased assessed valuation, but has not produced the number of children single dwellings do, Supt. Homer Sisk noted.

In just the four months from October 1962 to February this year Fairfax gained 35 pupils—the equivalent of one additional classroom—a 3.9 per cent increase in enrollment. This has had a sizable impact on teacher-pupil ratio, Sisk said. Last year the average class size was slightly more than 30; this year it increased to 33.

A district survey in February showed 119 new, unoccupied homes in Fairfax. Using a state formula, the district can expect 143 additional pupils in the next 12 months. The board plans new classrooms, purchase of a new school site, and a bond issue to cope with this growth.

The gain in assessed valuation was offset by less equalization aid from the state, but Fairfax has been able to "live within our means and provide a good education program," Sisk said.

How was the money spent to provide this program last year? Most of the school dollar—65.7 cents—went for instruction, of which 58.2 cents went to pay salaries of teachers and principals. This amounted to 61 per cent of the operating budget exclusive of transportation.

The instructional portion of the budget compares closely with those of San Rafael elementary district (65.3 per cent) and the high school districts, San Rafael (70.6 per cent) and Tamalpais (65.3).

Last year Fairfax started for the seventh and eighth grades what educators call a "core" or "semi-deparmentalized" program at Central School.

Language arts and social studies form the "core". Each teacher has a home room, teaches the "core" subjects and a special subject: mathematics, science, shop, or homemaking. Home room teachers also handle the 20 minutes daily of physical education.

The start of the new seventh-eighth grade program was responsible for part of the district's capital outlay last year. A total of $7,546 went for capital outlay within the instruction budget—2.1 per cent of expenditures (about half the percentage spent by the larger San Rafael elementary district). More than half the expenditure, $4,477, was for installation of a new shop and home economics facilities at Central School. Another $869 was to impove the grounds of Manor School with turf, seeding, grading, and a new baseball field.

Other expenses of instruction—a category covering supplies, conferences, travel and miscellaneous items—accounted for 4.5 per cent of Fairfax's dollar outgo last year.

The district spent 5.4 per cent on administration, compared to San Rafael elementary's 1.9 per cent. The latter, however, splits the salary of the superintendent and some other costs with San Rafael High School District, which spent 2.2 per cent on administration.

(Health services accounted for .03 of one per cent of Fairfax expenditures; transportation of pupils, 2.6 operation of the plant, 8.6; maintenance, 2.8; fixed charges (retirement contributions, insurance, etc.), 3.4; community service, .9, and repayment of school building loan, 7.5.

As a district with under 900 average daily attendance, Fairfax receives certain services from the county superintendent's office, such as those of a nurse and psychologist.

San Rafael elementary district, with an enrollment nearly five times that of Fairfax, spent $1,956,827 in 1961-62, a little more than five times the dollars expended in the smaller district.

Its funds were allocated in much the same proportion, however.

San Rafael's income for last year amounted to $2,208,382, including a beginning balance of $301,300. Local taxes and miscellaneous items accounted for 69.4 per cent of the income (exclusive of the balance); state sources, 28.3; county, 1.1, and federal, 1 per cent.

Property owners in San Rafael elementary district last year paid a district tax of $2.41 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The district is growing (4 to 5 per cent a year, says Supt. Bert C. Corona) and, like Fairfax, assessed valuation per child is increasing and state aid declining.

The wealth behind each pupil is expected to increase for several years because of the industrial growth in San Rafael. In 1960-61, assessed valuation per child was $15,292, and in the current year, $18,784. The increase to date has already topped estimates made only a year ago in a Stanford University research study.

The district spent 59.2 per cent of its total expenditures last year for salaries of principals, teachers, supervisors, librarians, psychologist. In conformity with state law a little more than 60 per cent of operating expenses (except for transportation) went for teacher salaries alone. Supervisors include those who oversee instruction, music, art, "more able learners" program and speech. Salaries of various secretaries and clerks accounted for another 2.9 per cent, and other expenses of instruction (books, supplies, contracts, travel), 3.2 per cent.

Capital outlay expenditures were 4.3 per cent of the total, twice the proportion spent by Fairfax. They included athletic, audio-visual, music, homemaking, science and shop equipment, and library books.

The district spent .6 of one per cent of its total outgo for health services, 2.3 per cent to transport pupils, 7.7 for operation of its plant, 1.8 for maintenance, 3.3 for fixed charges, .7 for community service, 9.4 for repayment of debts.

In several categories the San Rafael elementary district is in the advantageous position of being able to divide costs with the high school district.

Soviets Condemn Six To Die For Stealing

MOSCOW (UPI)—Six persons have been sentenced to death in Sverdlovsk for embezzling gold and other precious metals and gems, Tass News Agency reported yesterday.

Sixty-two other members of the ring received prison sentences up to 15 years. Tass said the ring illegally obtained $356,000 worth of gold, platinum, rubies and other valuables from Ural and Magadan ore mines.

New Savings Unit Elects Temporary Slate Of Officers

Temporary officers have been elected to head the newly licensed San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn., it was announced today.

Harold S. Elberg of Sleepy Hollow has been named chairman. Mrs. Elizabeth Rudell of Kent Woodlands has been elected vice chairman and Mozart Kaufman will serve as secretary.

The organizers are now in the process of taking savings account pledges to meet the requirements of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

The association has established temporary offices in room 205 at 1010 B Street, San Rafael. Permanent quarters will be located in the Arcade Building at 874 Fourth Street, expected to be ready for occupancy in June.

Argentine Fireworks Blast Kills Woman

LA PLATA, Argentina (UPI)—An explosion in an illegal fireworks factory here killed one woman yesterday and injured 10 other persons, all of them employed in the plant.

First reports said a lighted cigarette touched off the blast. The owner of the factory was arrested.

Crash Survivors Awaiting Reunion After Icy Ordeal

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP)—Pilot Ralph Flores waited excitedly today for a reunion with his wife, Teresa, who is flying from California to the Yukon, where Flores underwent a seven-week ordeal in the frozen wilderness.

"She'll collapse when she sees me," said the pilot-electrician from San Bruno, Calif. "My face is not the same. It's so high up on this side."

Flores' left jaw was fractured and two teeth dislodged when he and Helen Klaben, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y., crashed Feb. 4 on an isolated mountainside near the British Columbia-Yukon border.

Miss Klaben made a reservation to leave Whitehorse this afternoon on the same plane her older brother Arthur, of Wethersfield, Conn., was scheduled to take from Seattle to Whitehorse to join her.

Miss Klaben sent for her brother to help her sift through bids pouring in for rights to her survival story. One magazine has offered $8,000.

Mrs. Flores and Arthur Klaben met briefly Wednesday night in Seattle as they awaited passage to Whitehorse.

"I can't explain it in words," said Mrs. Flores, 39, "but all this time I knew he would be found."

She said the couple's six children "had even more confidence than I had."

"I feel very strongly that the only thing that saved him was his faith," she added. Flores, 42, is described as a devout Mormon.

The storm also may delay a visit to the remote crash site by an investigating team from Canada's Department of Transport.

Officials said that the investigation is routine. Conviction for failure to carry regulation survival gear prescribed for flights over Canada's hazardous northland could mean a $5,000 fine plus a year in jail. But a Transport Department spokesman in Edmonton said he never had heard of anyone being charged for flying without survival gear.

The winter survival gear required includes five pounds of concentrated food for each person, cooking and mess utensils, matches in waterproof container, a portable compass, an ax, 30 feet of snare wire (to trap game), a jackknife, tents, sleeping bags and snowshoes.

Flores had no tents, sleeping bags or snowshoes. He told reporters Wednesday his private plane carried two cans of tuna, four cans of sardines, two cans of fruit salad and a box of crackers when it crashed on the flight from Whitehorse to Fort St. John, B.C., en route to the United States.

Earlier Flores and Miss Klaben had said their only food was two cans of sardines, two cans of fruit salad and a few crackers. Miss Klaben said they also ate two tubes of toothpaste when their food ran out.

The food ran out in about a week, they said, after which they subsisted on melted snow. They failed to snare any of the numerous rabbits they saw.

Flores' weight dropped from 178 to 127 pounds and Miss Klaben's from about 140 to less than 100.

Flores suffered the jaw fracture, a broken nose and two frostbitten toes. Miss Klaben suffered a fracture of the left arm and frostbite of both feet. Doctors at Whitehorse said all her right toes will have to be amputated, but the operation has not been performed.

Flores had been working as an electrican on the Distant Early Warning radar line and was on his way home. Miss Klaben had been working as a draftsman for the U.S. Interior Department in Fairbanks, Alaska and was setting out on a trip around the world. Flores said she answered his ad for a passenger to help pay expenses and agreed to pay him $70 when they reached California.

Political Donation Listing Defeated

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democrats have again killed a bill to require political candidates to itemize their campaign contributions. Republicans have again called them hypocrites.

This year's version of the bill, by Assemblyman Gordon Winton Jr. (D-Merced), got the silent treatment yesterday from all but one of the Democrats on the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

When it came to a vote Republicans Charles J. Conrad of Sherman Oaks, William T. Bagley of San Rafael and George W. Milias of Gilroy all voted to approve the measure.

Assemblyman Phillip Burton, D-San Francisco, was the only Democrat to join them.

Six other Democrats said nothing. They were Chairman Don A. Allen Sr. of Los Angeles, Tom Bane of North Hollywood, George E. Danielson of Los Angeles, Robert W. Crown of Alameda, Nicholas Petris of Oakland, and Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco.

The 11th member, Democrat Tom Waite of Tujunga, was not present.

Since it takes six affirmative votes to get a bill out of the committee, Winton's measure is dead.

"How hypocritical can the Democratic administration get?" asked Conrad, the GOP floor leader, in a press statement he had all ready.

"During every campaign Gov. Brown calls for a strengthening of laws dealing with campaign contributions but after election the Democratic Legislature always defeats the bill."

Present law requires candidates to report the names of contributors to their campaign and the total amount contributed, but not who contributed how much.

Winton's bill would have required itemized lists, except for contributions under $75.

When Winton noted Brown's support of his legislation, Bane commented:

"Amend your bill so it applies only to the governor of California and I'll support it."

Mill Valley Planners Ask $21,896

Mill Valley planning commissioners Tuesday night recommended to city council a 1963-64 p lanning budget of $21,896. The current year's budget is $13,106.

The commission dropped a proposal for a fulltime planning consultant instead of a part-time consultant as at present.

The budget approved, recommends an increase in personal services, according to planning aide Jean McLean. It suggests that the present part-time clerk-typist at $1,200 per year be retained, that a part-time stenographer be hired at $1,500 per year to take minutes for the architectural advisory committee and planning commission, and that Miss McLean's salary be raised from $410 to $492 per month.

Special projects include East Mill Valley general plan, $1,500, North Ridge rezoning, $500; zoning ordinance, map revision, $600, and master plan text, $1,280.

Veteran Tax Exemptions Are Lagging

Applications from Marin veterans for property tax exemptions are "lagging considerably" this year so far, county assessor Bert W. Broemmel reported yesterday.

Broemmel said the number of applications this year has declined about 20 per cent as compared to the same period last year.

"I would guess that part of the reason may be due to last year's grand jury audit and the continued auditing which is planned," Broemmel said. "Many veterans have just decided they are not eligible to apply and so have not bothered to do so. We have had quite a few inquiries from people about their qualifications. When they find out that they may not qualify, they go away."

About 9,800 applications for the tax exemptions were accepted by the assessor last year. So far this year, about 4,000 have been received. Deadline for applications is May 6.

Don Owens, tackle with the St. Louis Cardinals, and Jim Davenport, third baseman for the San Francisco Giants, played football at Mississippi Southern. Bubba Phillips of the Cleveland Indians was the quarterback on the same team.

BROTHERS IN ARMS—Command of the 3rd Marine Division soon will be a family affair when Maj. Gen. James M. Masters Sr. (top) becomes commander of the Okinawa-based unit. His brother, Brig. Gen. John H. Masters, is already assistant division commander. (Marine Corps photo via AP Wirephoto)

NAACP To Picket Walker, Hargis Lecture Meeting

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) plans to picket a meeting Monday featuring former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker and the Rev. Billy J. Hargis.

Walker and Hargis are engaged in a nationwide lecture tour, "The Midnight Ride," sponsored by the Christian Crusade of Tulsa, Okla., in cooperation with the John Birch Society. They were to speak at Russ Auditorium.

"We will place pickets outside the auditorium to protest the appearance of these men," said Hartwell Ragsdale, president of the local NAACP chapter. "Billy Hargis calls himself a man of God, but he preaches racial segregation. Mr. Walker opposed the federal government's efforts to integrate the University of Mississippi," Ragsdale said last night.

RAIN WASHES OUT 'LONELINESS' TEST

A feminine "experiment in loneliness" got thoroughly rained out in Taylor State Park last night.

Carolyn Mae Kirby of San Francisco was found completely drenched in an unused camp ground by park rangers this morning and confessed herself happy to call off completely an intended three or four-day stay.

The experiment, she said, was to be a contribution to a University of California psychology course. Other students are making the same test on themselves at other parks, presumably not in Marin County, according to Miss Kirby.

More wet than lonely, Miss Kirby was speeded by the rangers to warm garments awaiting her at home.

"She sure picked the wrong time," commented park supervisor Neil Powers. "July 4, say, would be a better time to enjoy loneliness. And my rain gauge showed a three and one-half inch rainfall here since yesterday morning."

Women who are having pictures taken should pose with their gloves, suggests Emilie Romaine, photographer and fashion expert.

You don't have to wear them, just hold them, she wrote in National Professional Photographer.

"Lovely hands are easier to pose and look naturally graceful when holding gloves," she said.

MISS ROMAINE said today's portrait photographers must be experts in fashion and make-up as well as photographic technicians. She gave these tips on posing with gloves:

— Emphasize the straight end rather than the fingers of the gloves. The hands are a busy element and the plain end of the gloves simplifies arrangement.

—Gloves with outside finger seams are suitable only for tailored and sport clothes.

— THE PALE, very short glove that barely reaches the wrist is most appropriate for teens and pre-teens. Short gloves may be worn with short sleeve or strapless dresses by young women.

— A three-quarter length sleeve looks best joined with a three-quarter length glove, disappearing under the sleeve. Avoid wrinkling the wrist of the glove because it not only thickens the wrist but prevents a smooth line.

P-TA Backs Dixie Bond Election

All parent-teacher groups in the Dixie School district are solidly behind the district's proposed 1.6-million-dollar bond issue, the district board of trustees was told last night.

Kenneth Downs, chairman of the district's finance committee, said the bond issue, to be put before voters April 16, is being supported by the Vallecito and Don Timoteo School Parent-Teacher Assns., the Marinwood Home and School Club and the Bernard Hoffman and Santa Margarita School teacher-parent groups.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis agreed with Downs that failure of the bond issue would mean that construction of the Miller Creek School and Terra Linda Valley School would be prevented next year. The proposed bonds for future construction will not require any tax rate increase, Willis said.

ARCHIE'S SOUTH NOVATO
MOBIL GAS SERVICE
1400 SOUTH NOVATO BLVD., NOVATO

AN OPEN LETTER TO OUR CUSTOMERS

Dear Friends:

On April 1st we are closing our service station at 1400 So. Novato Blvd., Novato, because of suddenly inflated operating costs. We feel, as a customer, you are due a note of explanation since you have, by your patronage, helped us through the lean years of pioneering a new station until the present time.

Our landlord, the Mobil Oil Company, in drawing up a new lease is asking nearly double our present property rental, or 15% to 18% of our monthly gross profit. This is 15% to 18% of the profit before we pay wages, insurance, and other operating costs. Should we accept this condition, we would be forced into doing one of the following:

1. We must post a large price increase to the consumer. In short, we must charge you more than the going market price for gasoline, oil, and allied products. In a highly competitive business such as ours, this would amount to slow suicide.

2. We could partially offset this increase by reducing hours of operation, such as Sunday closing, and by replacing competent workers with unskilled labor at a lesser rate of pay.

Obviously, the adoption of either choice could only result in poorer service to you, and it is you, who in the final analysis, must foot the bill. We feel that this rental increase is not in line with profits being realized and that it in turn, creates a hazard for growth and investment.

Thank you for the privilege of serving you for the past five years. We would appreciate continuing to serve you at our other station on Highway 101 and Olive Street, Novato.

Sausalitan Explores African Gold Mine

HOWARD SIEVERS
Back from South Africa

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Before you go down 5,000 feet into a gold mine you have to change your clothes, according to Howard Sievers, Sausalito city councilman who has just returned from a five-week visit to the Union of South Africa.

"You go into a 'change house' and take off all your clothes," Sievers said. "Then you put on a pair of coveralls, some boots and a helmet and you are handed a rubber jacket like firemen use.

"You go down the shaft, the same shaft they use to haul up the ore." In less than five minutes you hit bottom. At bottom, there are tunnels and electric lights. When you "get off to the side" you get very hot. When you come out you put on your jacket. On top again, you take a shower.

Sievers, an electrical engineer with Bechtel Corp., San Francisco, was in Africa on a reconnaissance trip to determine types of equipment available and methods of construction for a copper and iron project to be built by his firm in a joint venture with Western Knapp Engineering. "Most electrical equipment will be purchased in South Africa," said Sievers.

The development is to be constructed at the bush town of Phalaborwa, 250 miles north and east of Johannesburg. It is called the Pallaboro mining project. The town is adjacent to Kruger National Park but Sievers did not have time to go there nor did he see any wild animals, he said.

He did bring back a plastic elephant which he gave to his fellow councilmen.

Sievers spent most of his time in Johannesburg. Asked if he ran into any manifestation of the Apartheid (segregation) policy there or attended anything such as a Johannesburg City Council, Sievers said no. "I stayed out of politics."

He commented that he found these different groups: Africans (basically Dutch), Europeans, colored (mixtures of blacks and whites), natives (blacks) and Indians and Chinese.

They are bi-lingual, Sievers explained, the two official languages being Afrikans and English. They don't have television, the reason being the difficulty of two languages. They wouldn't dare have television in one language only.

Other comments by the councilman were:

"On Sundays, everything closes down. You can't hold anything where you have to pay admission because of religion."

"Women carry babies on their backs in a blanket wrapped around them and tied in front."

"They also have diamond, copper and iron mines."

"I have never seen so many flowers in my life."

"Filet steak was $1.25 a pound. Liquor was cheap."

Sievers said his firm's project will take from two and one-half to three years to complete and he may possibly go back on the job.

He also said he visited the African Explosives Co. outside Johannesburg two days before it blew up, killing one person and injuring three.

Mailed Checks Stolen

Mrs. George C. Markham of 680 Sunset Parkway, Novato, reported to San Rafael police yesterday that mail going to her former residence, 806 E Street, had been tampered with. Missing, according to Mrs. Markham, were a $57.70 Social Security check and three checks, totaling $17.44 from the American Petroleum Co.

Tiburon Council To Study Committees

At the regular meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council last night Chairman Branwell Fanning appointed members to study the scope of proposed committees and report back at a special meeting Wednesday, April 3, at 8 p.m. at the Belvedere Community Hall.

Those appointed were Gilbert B. Darroch, land use; Rodney F. Friedman, parks and recreation; John F. Hoffmire, transportation and utilities and Fanning, nominating.

About three-fifths of total persons drowned in bathtubs are children under five.

SONGS, DANCE, COMEDY IN HIGH SCHOOL SHOW

Jack Powell as "Conrad Birdie" tells courthouse crowd "you gotta be sincere" in scene from "Bye, Bye Birdie," Sir Francis Drake High School musical which played to a full house at its opening last Friday night in the school gymnasium, and will be repeated tomorrow (Friday), Saturday, and April 5 and 6 at 8 p.m. in the school's little theater. Single Tam Unification Study Thwarted

A new move to study the total unification of the Tamalpais High School District was thwarted last night by representatives of small school districts on the Marin County augmented committee on school district organization.

It was the second attempt in four months to adopt a tentative study of unification of the entire district, a study which could lead to a unification proposition before voters in the area.

Last December the augmented committee voted 12-7 to study total unification, but a month later the group rescinded its action in a 14-8 vote and threw the study back into seven different unification schemes.

In last night's action, a 17-4 vote tabled a proposal by the San Anselmo District to once again adopt a total unification study.

The move to table, preceded by haggling over parliamentary procedure, was led by representatives from Ross, Reed and Kentfield school districts. The motion succeeded in putting off any further discussion of unification of the whole high school district until April 17, the day after trustee elections.

County committee member Jack V. Mengel, accused the small district representatives of "continuously throwing hurdles" in the way of what he called "our attempts to go forward."

"We are blocked by individuals and selfish aims," Mengel complained.

Reed district representative Leo Souza told Mengel that a step toward total unification was "not necessarily a move forward" and that it would be better to keep the problem in the committee than take it to a popular vote where such a move might be defeated anyway.

Helen Wallace, county committee member, agreed that it would be unwise to "let any district lobby against a unification proposal on the basis it did not have a chance to be heard in committee discussion.

Chairman Earl Marshall, prior to the tabling action, attempted to keep the unification motion out of further discussion and sought an immediate vote.

Demands for a point of order, however, brought a vote on whether to open discussion. Favoring a delay in a vote were Kentfield, Reed, Nicasio, Sausalito, Ross school districts and committee members Mrs. Frank Short, Mrs. Wallace and Dr. John Hamren.

Ross district spokesman William Niccolls said his district was "opposed to unification of any kind" and declared that some large unified districts were now seeking to "decentralize" and were finding it a difficult task.

Marshall said it was "easier than most people think" to get out of a unification proposal or even a district once it is unified. He asked Dr. Vern Hall, State Department of Education field representative, to explain this.

Dr. Hall said it was true, although "this is not the time to discuss it." He did, however, tell the committee where to look in the education code for such information.

In a poll of school district representatives, unification proposals were favored in this way:

Bolinas-Stinson—One unified district, but only if West Marin were to be again included in the Tamalpais study area.

Kentfield — A three-district split, with Kentfield remaining in a Redwood High School attendance area. This was detailed in a seven-page report from Kentfield trustees.

Lagunitas — A unified district, but trustees added that "people in our area have not been contacted and this may not be a majority opinion." (Two dissenters were, in fact, in the committee audience.)

Nicasio—No comment.

San Anselmo—A unified district.

Ross—No unification at all, but "if it must be," a three or four-way split to "keep districts as small as possible."

Sausalito—A two-way split.

Tamalpais High School District — No formal statement, but some "conclusion is our primary concern for we are ready to design two new high schools."

Marin Junior College District —Abstained from all voting because "not directly affected at this time."

Hollis Favors Keeping Elective School Chiefs For State, County

County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis is a convert from belief in an appointive to proponent of elective system for filling his job, he said today in a letter to Sen. Donald L. Grunsky, chairman of the Senate Interim Fact Finding Committee on Education.

"Prior to the 1958 elections," wrote Hollis, "I favored the appointive method for obtaining county school superintendents, but the understanding developed by ringing over 21,000 doorbells and discussing education with thousands of the county citizens led me to believe strongly in the necessity for a prospective county school superintendent to stand for election."

Explaining that he wanted to "share with you some thoughts," Hollis laid it down basically that "the schools belong to the people" which gives the people a right to take part in evaluation of school programs and selection of "their educational spokesman."

He said election of a county school official gives most adequate check and balance, and that an appointed superintendent is a less effective spokesman for the county citizenry.

Hollis voiced belief that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction ought to be elected for similar reasons.

Since election of county superintendents has been the rule in all but a few charter counties, Hollis said that it is "an indictment of American democracy" to argue that the people aren't competent to pick the right man. He paid tribute to the interest of the citizens in education and said elections stir the public to active participation.

Hollis cited Marin County's 1958 defeat of a system of charter government which would have made the superintendency appointive.

He declared it fallacious to argue that politics are "base, and not proper endeavor for the professional educator."

On the other side Hollis thought it is probably easier "to 'politic' and fool a board of five or seven people than an entire county."

Boards controlling the superintendency, Hollis argued, might find it possible to put into effect "runaway programs in education." Balance would be disturbed by making either superintendent or board appointive, he said.

Another letter addressed to Sen. Hugh P. Donnelly, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, made similar points relative to an elected state superintendent in discussing Sen. John F. McCarthy's (R-Marin) proposed Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 8.

Pregnancy 'Status Symbol' To Teen-Agers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Some junior and senior high school girls are so confused about morality that they consider becoming pregnant as a "status symbol," a public health officer yesterday told the California Medical Assn.

Dr. Yoshiye Togasaki, assistant health officer of Contra Costa County, said she based her conclusions on studies of 21 Contra Costa schools.

She said there were 12,136 female enrollment in the junior and senior high schools studied and these reported 121 pregnancies, 17 of them in junior high schools.

Dr. Togasaki said that the school with the highest percentage of reported pregnancies had an all-white student body where the parents were generally in the high-level income and education bracket.

She said policies regarding treatment of students who become pregnant varied widely with the various schools studied. She said 12 schools decided on a case-by-case basis whether a pregnant student should be expelled. She said two schools had no policy of any kind on the subject and only one offered a home study program.

Dr. Togasaki urged a concentrated effort by parents, churches, schools and health department to deal with the problem.

She also reported drinking among high school students "was viewed as a social development of frightening proportions."

Regional Solutions Advised For Problems Of Bay Area

The Bay Area is fast becoming a regional community and its problems are fast becoming regional in nature, Stanley McCaffrey, president of the Bay Area Council, told city officialys of Marin County last night.

Speaking to some 30 members of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, McCaffrey said such things as air pollution, recreation, transportation and economic development already must be tackled on a regional basis.

He said the nine counties of the region, now with a population of four million, will have eight million in 20 years and 16 million by the year 2000.

He stressed the importance for cities to look ahead and plan for this growth.

McCaffrey, speaking at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael, was introduced by Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael. Charles F. Pendleton, Corte Madera councilman, presided as newly elected president of the group.

Next meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen will be in Ross, April 24.

Car Battery Stolen

Theft of a battery of a car parked in front of 430 Front Street, San Rafael, was reported to police yesterday by Thomas Leonard Poorman of the same address. Poorman said the battery was stolen sometime Tuesday night.

Atoms Warm Oysters

BRADWELL, England (UPI)— Warm water pumped out of Britain's new atomic power station has protected the oyster beds near here while beds in other off-shore areas have suffered extensive damage because of the cold winter, fishery sources said today.

White Fur Steps Into Spotlight

Stepping elegantly into the spotlight is white fur for both late day and evening wear.

White mink and ermine will be seen in softly draped capelets and small stoles.

Styled in fluid wrap-around lines are natural white broadtail lamb jackets with push-up sleeves and a cowl collar that can be worn as a hood for cooler occasions.

It's Ralph D. Smith, general building contractor, who is running for Tamalpais Fire Protection District in Tuesday's election, Richard V. Godino, commission counsel said today.

Godino said that somewhere between the fire district office and the printer's, Smith's job designation was left off the polling place cards and the ballots. The ballots have been reprinted with the designation, but it was too late to reprint the polling place cards. Smith is contesting the seat of Morris Batz, incumbent.

The election will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at three polling places, Tamalpais and Homestead fire stations and the Almonte Improvement Club.

HALF CENTURY TOGETHER—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Jemison of Novato toast themselves on their Golden Wedding, which they began celebrating two days early and will continue to observe through Sunday.

Novato Couple Marks 50 Years With Open House, Happy Reunion

Today is the golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Jemison of 813 Reichert Avenue, Novato, but they've already been celebrating two days and will keep it up through Sunday.

An open house in their honor on Sunday at the home of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Clausing of 2373 Novato Boulevard, will climax the observance.

On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roake of Rahway, N.J., friends of many years standing, flew in to celebrate the anniversary and spend some time visiting the Jemisons.

Yesterday their other daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Merwin G. Bryan of Glendola, N.J., arrived as a surprise, to observe the occasion.

Tonight the entire family and the friends from New Jersey will observe the actual date with dinner at Rubini's in Fairfax.

Approximately 60 friends from Novato, San Rafael, Kentfield and San Francisco will attend the open house Sunday, which will be followed by a family buffet supper at the Clausings'.

The Jemisons were married on March 22, 1913, at Asbury Park, N.J., where they lived most of their married life.

Jemison was born in Hightstown, N. J. Mrs. Jemison, the former Marietta Tuzenew, was born in Neptune, N.J. Both attended the Neptune schools.

Jemison is a veteran of World War I, having served in Germany with the 29th (Blue and Grey) Division, as a regimental supply sergeant. He is a 42-year member and past exalted rules of the Asbury Park (N.J.) Lodge of Elks, and a past district deputy exatled ruler of the lodge.

Both the Jemisons have been active workers for crippled children, and for paraplegics of World War II and the Korean War. He served for two years as president of the Shore area Elks' cerebral palsey committee and helped start a cerebral palsy clinic at Toms River, N.J.

They both enjoy gardening and traveling. They have toured every state in the union except Alaska, which they plan to visit soon.

He retired as a civilian worker from the Lakehurst Naval Air Station two years ago when they moved to Novato.

Golden weddings are no novelty in the family. Mrs. Jemison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tuzenew, observed their 50th wedding anniversary in 1944. Mrs. Tuzenew will be 91 years old in September. She sent the couple a handmade tablecloth which she made for their golden wedding.

Jemison's formula for a happy married life is, "Live good and take a drink now and then."

To which his wife added: "Think good, and have good friends."

At 90 She Will Give Present

Instead of getting a birthday present, Mrs. J. B. Levison of San Francisco, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gerstle after which Gerstle Park in San Rafael is named, is going to give one on her 90th birthday.

Precisely what she is going to give is a "Julie the Donkey" — a 6-foot long, 4-foot high steel pipe climbing appartus which is in the shape of a donkey.

The piece of playground equipment was placed in Gerstle Park which is the site of the former home of the Gerstle family.

"It is in celebration of my 90th birthday, tomorrow," explained Mrs. Levison. "Mr. Levison and I started buying equipment for the park on our golden wedding anniversary."

"I am giving to for my own pleasure and to add to the pleasure of the children. It is of interest to me because it was our old home."

Marin Vets Claimed $446,963 In Benefits

Marin County's veterans service office initiated claims on behalf of veterans last year which, when substantiated, had value of $446,963, according to its annual report.

New veterans service director Joseph M. Farber said the office had also succeeded in saving the county $76,345 by by arranging hospitalization for 60 veterans during the year year which ended before the start of his own incumbency.

Groundbreaking Ceremonies Set

The Woodacre Improvement Club will hold groundbreaking ceremonies Saturday at 2 p.m. at Crescent Drive and Garden Way to mark the start of construction of $42,000 worth of new recreational facilities, it was announced yesterday by president E. Kurt Kalemba.

County Supervisor William Gnoss has been invited to take part in the ceremonies, Kalemba said.

The project, which the club hopes to complete in time for a grand opening June 15, will include a swimming pool, two tennis courts and a Pony League baseball field.

School Candidates Questioned Tuesday

A set of questions will be answered in seven-minute talks by candadates for San Rafael city and Marin County boards of education at a public candidates forum at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the San Rafael High School auditorium.

Sponsors are the San Rafael Parent-Teacher Assn. Council and the League of Women Voters of Central Marin. Mrs. H. J. Compton will be moderator, and Mrs. James Staley, timekeeper.

Invited to appear will be eight candidates for three positions on the San Rafael Board of Education, up for election April 8, and two candidates for one trusteeship from Area 2, Marin County Board of Education, to be elected April 16.

All candidates will be asked to give answers to these questions:

"What do you believe are the functions of a board of education? What do you believe are qualifications for a member of the board, and how do you feel that you qualify? What do you believe will be the picture of education in Marin County (or the district) in the future? What are your views on ways in which schools can compete with industry for good teachers and administrators?"

Christiansen's Work Displayed At College

The exhibit is open to the public every afternoon and evening Monday through Friday, and will run through April 26.

Check Suspect Handed To S.F.

An ex-felon accused of passing $23 worth of bad checks in San Rafael will not be prosecuted in Marin because San Francisco has a $600 bad check case pending against him.

Marin charges were dismissed yesterday against Don A. DeGroate, 40, of 1345 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. The district attorney recommended dismissal so that DeGroate can be turned over to San Francisco for prosecution there.

San Rafael police said De Groate passed worthless checks at the Food Mart and at Perry's Delicatessen. He has served prison terms in North Dakota and in Oregon for burglary, bad checks and grand theft.

Multiple Units Lead Marin Building Boom As Year Starts

Multiple units constituted more than 71 per cent of all Marin housing starts in February—61 per cent by dollar volume. Construction during January and February was 47.9 per cent ahead of the same two months last year, though January, 1963 was stronger than February.

Housing starts in the western and northeastern states declined generally in February, according to the Wall Street Journal. Biggest jump from January was in the midwest.

But February real estate loans in Marin totaled more than 24 million dollars, almost twice as high as February, 1962, loans—one of the most spectacular increases in Title Insurance and Trust Company's data sheet.

According to latest information, the Emporium will be ready to hold its groundbreaking ceremonies in the Northgate Regional Shopping Center about the middle of April.

RECENTLY ORGANIZED Construction Credit Service, Inc., 53 Jordan Street, San Rafael has elected the following officers and directors: William A. Gable, president; Everett Pezoldt, first vice president; Dave Bartholow, second vice president; L. C. Smith, secretary-treasurer—and Joe Bowman, Edward H. Dill, George E. Oliver and Kevin D. Dearth as directors.

C. Hugh Carruthers of Kent Woodlands has joined the staff of realtors Cagwin, Seymour and Hamilton. He will be at the Kentfield office. A native of Marin, Carruthers has been 22 years with Shell Oil's San Francisco office, most recently as a tax analyst. He is a director of Double Check Products Co. of Nevada.

R. W. Miller of Greenbrae has been named accounting analyst for California Chemical Co. He has been with the Standard Oil organization for 30 years and with Calchem since 1949 in a variety of positions an analyst-auditor.

JERRY A. HARWOOD of Terra Linda, payroll supervisor of Stauffer Chemical Co., has been elected to membership in the San Francisco chapter of National Office Management Assn.

ARCHITECTS Don Hatch and Bolton White of Belvedere are continuing their partnership of several years under the firm name of Hatch-White, Architects, AIA following the resignation of Allan Steinau. Offices are at 680 Beach Street, San Francisco. Steinau has set up his own office at 81 Beach Road, Belvedere.

ANDREW J. LATTA of Novato is now celebrating his 25th year as a representative of Metropolitan Life. He has spent more than half of that quarter-century relationship in Marin County.

AND TOMORROW, Lucas Valley Dairy in San Rafael will celebrate its 30th birthday according to manager Robert B. Grady. Founded by Grady's father in 1933, the business started with a small milk pasteurizing and bottling plant at Fourth and Ida Streets. Last August it was purchased by Petaluma Cooperative Creamery but has continued the same name and management.

ON THE BEAM. William H. Loviner, distributor for Jim Beam whiskey covering Marin County, notes that BusiWeek Magazine cited his product for the greatest sales gain of any Kentucky straight bourbon in 1962. It is second in the nation in that field and sixth from the top among all brands.

Splinters To Fly Over 'Redwood'

A long-debated problem of street names in vicinity of Alto intersection of Tiburon Boulevard with Highway 101 was decided by Marin County supervisors Tuesday contrary to recommendation of the county planning commission and in fashion promising outcry from property owners.

The decision was to call the whole adjacent service road "Redwood Highway Frontage Road" including those portions curving away from the highway and finally running at an angle into Tiburon Boulevard.

Nobody from the public happened to be present.

Redwood High's 'Bark' Wins Award

Redwood High School's student newspaper, the Bark, has received an All-American honor rating for issues published during the fall semester, the school has been notified by the National Scholastic Press Assn.

The National Scholastic Press Assn. at University of Minnesota, used professional newspapermen to rate 1,129 high school papers submitted for competition. The Bark was one of 94 named "All-American."

Toni Banducci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Banducci of Larkspur, is editor-in-chief of the Bark. Jill Lerner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lerner of Larkspur, is assistant editor, and John Contos, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Contos of Greenbrae, is sports editor. Carol J. Neumeier is faculty adviser.

SCANLON LOSES DECISION

Boxing Question Before Counsel

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The legislative counsel today considered whether a resolution to immediately end professional boxing in California is legal.

Backers of the resolution agreed to seek the counsel's opinion after Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Dr. Dan O. Kilroy, a member of the state athletic commission, questioned the constitutionality of the resolution's aims.

The resolution, by Republicans Carl A. Britschgi of Redwood City and Alan G. Pattee of Salinas, requests the state athletic commission to suspend all boxing promoter licenses in the state until the people can vote whether they want to abolish the sport.

Britschgi and Pattee also introduced Monday a constitutional amendment which, if approved by two-thirds of the legislature, would go on the 1964 general election ballot. The amendment would ban all pro boxing in the state.

Brown supports the amendment, but is against the resolution.

"The people voted boxing in and they have a right to have boxing until they vote it out," said Brown, a long-time foe of the sport.

Kilroy also questioned whether the commission could, in effect, abolish boxing on its own without voter approval.

"Of course it's constitutional," said Britschgi. "The commission suspends licenses all the time for various reasons. It has the power to suspend licenses for just about any cause it sees fit. There's no law that says it couldn't suspend all the licenses."

He said it probably would be "three or four" days before the legislative counsel renders an opinion.

Pattee added that the constitutionality of the resolution was not in question.

"It would just request the commission to suspend the licenses. But we want to make sure that the commission could legally suspend all licenses if it decided to," said Pattee.

GIANT FARMHANDS DOWN 'BIG TIMERS'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Any relationship between performances of San Francisco Giants starting pitchers and the team's record is purely coincidental.

The starters are looking excellent — and the record is atrocious.

The Giants' 6-12 record against major league competition is bad enough for a defending pennant winner but yesterday's 10-9 loss to their Tacoma farmhands put the situation into the category of downright embarrassing — especially when a seven-run ninth inning won the game.

Juan Marichal joined the list of strong-pitching starters when he stopped the Pacific Coast Leaguers on a run and three hits in his six innings.

Look at the other starters:

RELIEVERS

Then look at the relievers: Tuesday it was Dan Rivas' first pitch grand slam home run in the ninth.

Bob Bolin was yesterday's victim as he blew a 9-1 lead and gave up two home runs.

Jesus, Alou, Felipe and Matty's brother, belted the first with a man aboard in the eighth inning. The roof fell in on Bolin in the ninth.

YOUNG ALOU

A single scored one run and Alou chased two more across with a base hit. Jim Hart then blasted a 3-2 pitch over the center field fence to tie the game 9-9.

Ron Phifer followed with a triple and after two intentional walks, Marion Talton singled to score Phifer and complete the parent Giants' humiliation.

Butts Linked To Gamblers As Grid Probe Continues

ATLANTA (AP)—Records show that Wallace Butts made telephone calls to persons who had been involved in gambling on college sports events, "but there is no evidence that Butts was engaged in gambling," Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia says.

Cook said yesterday that he had found no violation of state law in alleged telephone conversation between Butts, former Georgia athletic director, and football coach Paul Bryant of Alabama.

The Georgia attorney general, who is investigating charges that Butts and Bryant conspired to rig the Georgia-Alabama football game last fall, indicated that final deposition of the case would be up to the Southeastern Conference as an ethical, not legal, matter.

At Birmingham, Ala., SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said he is calling a meeting of the conference executive committee. But he said it might be a month before the members could get together.

"I am not calling the meeting because of Butts and Bryant," Moore said. "Of course, if we get the meeting, it will be discussed."

The commissioner said he was still investigating the charges against Butts and Bryant "and I will present my findings to the executive committee."

The Saturday Evening Post said in its March 23 edition that Butts telephoned Bryant eight days before the Sept. 22 game and gave away secret information on Georgia's team.

Butts and Bryant have denied rigging the game, which Alabama won 35-0, and both men have denied gambling on football games. Butts has filed a $10 million libel suit against the Post's publishers.

Cook said some of the calls which Butts made to persons with gambling records were made shortly before the alleged Sept. 14 call from Butts by Bryant.

The attorney general said the calls are being investigated by the U.S. Senate Investigations Committee. Chief Counsel Donald F. O'Donnel of the committee said Tuesday he had found no evidence of gambling in connection with the Post story and that his investigation might take three months.

Ball Players Have A History Of Not Being Able To Keep Secrets

CONNOLLY

Can a professional ball player keep a secret?

From time of early day ball, players have been charged and recharged with being out and out renegades, whenever secrets are involved. To them nothing is secret. They can't help blabbing or whispering.

The latest case at hand is Carl Willey, former Milwaukee pitcher recently sold to the N.Y. Mets.

Willey reveals that last season, Birdie Tebbetts, then Milwaukee manager, ordered him to knock down Orlando Cepeda. And when Willey didn't follow orders, he claims, he was side tracked and now finds himself on the doormat club of the National League—the Mets.

THE REVELATION is anything but startling. I don't believe there is a manager or ever was a manager, who, at sometime in his career, didn't do what Birdie Tebbetts is now accused of.

In fact a short while back Alvin Dark, S.F. Giant manager, said he would order his pitchers to brush back or knock down any opposing pitcher who "threw at" Giant players. Alvin forgot to say he would order his pitchers to step on the toes or bunions of bench managers, who really are to blame.

But what makes charges against Tebbetts so startling?

Surely every fan who has watched the S.F. Giants perform will agree Willie Mays gets knocked down at least once, and sometimes oftener, in every game the "Say Hey Kid" appears.

BALL PLAYERS, history will show, never have kept secrets. In 1919 when the Chicago White Sox and the Cincy Reds became involved in a World Series scandal, it was through a "leak" by a ball player who talked that started the rumpus that finally led to baseball's big disgrace.

Tom Seaton and Casey Smith, a couple of former Seal players, barred for the "good of the game" had a distasteful fate. They whispered sweet words of a fix and jammed themselves right out of organized baseball.

WILLEY'S complaint against Tebbetts is childish, and in my opinion, unsupported. But if it were true, a good catcher like Tebbetts was in his playing days would be a natural to ask his pitcher to flatten somebody for the sake of victory.

When a manager orders his pitcher to "loosen up" the hitter, it means the same thing as saying "knock the so and so flat."

Umpires have been accused of laxity because they don't fine pitchers and throw them out of games for using beanball tactics. The rule books says the umps can toss a pitcher out for beanballing.

Why not change it and give the ump authority to throw out the manager at the same time. It might halt beanballing.

DAVEY MOORE'S BODY IS RETURNED TO 'HOME'

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The body of Davey Moore, who suffered fatal injuries in losing his world featherweight boxing title in Los Angeles last week, was returned to his native Springfield last night.

Large crowds were on hand at Port Columbus Airport, where the casket was flown from Los Angeles, and at the Patterson Funeral Home here, where it will remain until the funeral Saturday.

Aboard the plane that brought the dead fighter back to Ohio were his widow, Geraldine, her mother, Mrs. Grady Welch, and Moore's sister, Mrs. Miriam Hayes.

Moore, who died Monday of injuries suffered in his fight last Thursday night with Sugar Ramos, spent most of his life in Springfield but moved his family to Columbus two years ago.

Celtics Open Series With Cincy Tonight

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Boston Celtics apparently have more to fear from their 9-3 winning season record over the Cincinnati Royals than they do over a possible meeting against Los Angeles or St. Louis in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoff series.

Boston, having geared itself for an Eastern Division final series with Syracuse, had to make a quick revision of plans for its unexpected best-of-seven set against Cincinnati that opens on the Celtics' home court tonight.

Cincinnati edged Syracuse, three games to two, in a semi-final playoff, the clincher coming Tuesday night in an overtime victory.

The St. Louis Hawks eliminated the Detroit Pistons, three games to one, in their Western Division semi-final Tuesday and open a sectional title series against the Lakers in Los Angeles Sunday.

A rested but aged band of fifth Celtics will be gunning for their fifth straight NBA title. But fear of being upstaged by the Royals is uppermost in coach Arnold (Red) Auerbach's mind.

Auerbach was worried about "our mental attitude" and the over-confidence that might bound because his club had taken nine of 12 games from Cincinnati during the regular season.

Three Marin Pirate Swimmers Score

Three members of the Marin Pirates swim team scored points in a San Francisco Parks and Recreation Commission-sponsored meet held last Saturday at Balboa High School.

They were Candy Beeler, second, breaststroke for girls 13 and 14; Chester Carlisle, third, breaststroke for boys 13 and 14, and Gary Cheroske, third, backstroke for boys 13 and 14.

Seals Will Meet Blades In Hockey Playoffs Monday

The first playoff game in the Western Hockey League's Southern Division will be in Los Angeles Monday with the Blades hosting San Francisco.

Portland's Buckaroos successfully defended their Southern Division crown last night with a 9-2 victory over Calgary. San Francisco's Seals are in second place and must battle it out with the Blades for the chance to meet the champs.

The Blades beat Spokane 4-1 in the only other league game.

It was Gordy Fahoway night at Portland and 7,399 fans turned out to honor the 16-year veteran who is retiring as an active player. He will remain with the Bucks as chief scout and director of player development.

Fashoway, the second highest scorer in professional hockey history, responded to the tribute with the 556th goal of his career. That tied the count at 1-1 and opened the floodgates.

The second of the Los Angeles-San Francisco best-of-three play-off series will be in San Francisco April 3 and the third, if necessary, in the Bay City on the 4th.

MARIN PROPWASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Here's A Tale Of How This Writer Purchased Her Very First Craft

We bought our first boat a number of years ago. More specifically, it was the very day the great storm swayed the Golden Gate Bridge, damaging it.

Our appointment to meet the owner and take a trial run was for 11 o'clock in the morning. Even then the winds were keening and moaning overhead, and whipping the water into incredible grey, turbulence. But although we were admittedly sap-green on boating, we instinctively knew the demonstration should be postponed. But with unruffled calm, the owner started the motor saying, "You couldn't have picked a better day." And he backed her out.

HER NAME WAS Beezy. She was powered by something out of Rube Goldberg. And for reverse she had some improbable gears and cogs called Joe's gears. A cab-over was secured to her 21-foot riveted metal hull. The demonstration was an experience we still treasure because it proved one thing: God watches over fools. We bought her then and there. She wasn't provocative. She wasn't fast. But she had lots of spunk.

After a few weeks of use, however, she began to develope small pits in her hull. From pits they went to holes. From holes to big excavations. She didn't have ship worms. Nor did Beezy suffer from calking trouble or dry rot. No sir-ee. She had galvanic corrosion. And as the man at marine repairs explained, "It's unbelievable, but someone forgot to install zinc blocks." These blocks, properly installed, are a sort of sacrificial offering. While they are being consumed, the boat metals are left in peace.

But apparently, this didn't apply to Beezy. Her deterioration continued at a great rate. So we took her back to the boat repair man where he examined the hull paint. "No one but an utter idiot would have used barn paint on a boat," he stated, looking at us accusingly.

WE RENTED a sander, bought paints, solvents, scrapers, brushes, and settled down to a long job. That summer we often waved our brushes at lucky boaters happily boating. By the end of the season she was down to bare metal. Then using an odic primer applied directly to the metal before the finishing coats, we cleaned our brushes and hoped for the best. The primer now SHOULD act as the waster for the corrosive forces, instead of nibbling away on Beezy's hull.

Winter had now come to the bay. In the spring we sold her to someone who took her up to Frank's Tract in the Delta. Beezy's arch enemy, salt water, wouldn't plague her there. And we bought another cruiser. With a wooden hull!

THE PROBLEM of continuous silting in the area of the boat launching ramp has long been a nagging problem to the Marin Rod and Gun Club. At a recent meeting, headed by chairman Ken Watts, members aired their views on what could be done toward keeping the ramp usable and the channel open. At the present time, it's evident that tidal eddies are depositing the mud right back on the ramp.

A letter from the Associated Dredging Company, pointed up what had previously been done on the channel leading to the launching ramp. This company's opinion of future maintenance requirements were read. After much discussion, it was decided the dredging company would be engaged to clear the ramp and channel again. And the sooner-the-better in order to solve the immediate problem. In the meantime, Carl Lehman, Gail Rathbun and Lester Ecke have volunteered to see the Army Engineer Corps in Sausalito where they hope to get information that will assist in future corrective measures.

QUESTION: My neighbor tells me I should disconnect the battery and tilt the motor on my boat in between trips. She's kept in the water. Isn't galvanic action a worry for larger boats, especially inboards?

T. M., Inverness

ANSWER: Tilt your motor and unhook the battery. There is always a potential to some degree that could cause destruction of your motor's lower unit. This may sound fairy tale-ish, but even stray electrical currents from shore, or a metal boat berthed by yours may wreck havoc. And because people love to throw their old junk into water, there might be a chunk of metal just inches from your prop, like for instance an old Essex engine block or grandma's rusty, squirrel-cage washer. Salt spray and sun hasten corrosion, so never fail to tilt your motor and wash off the metal after each trip.

O'Toole Big Reason Cincy Is Picked For Strong N.L. Bid

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Add Jim O'Toole to the reasons Grapefruit League observers are predicting that the Cincinnati Reds will make a strong bid this year to recapture the National League pennant they lost last year.

The Reds made their run for the 1962 pennant just a bit too late—and one reason was that O'Toole didn't begin to win consistently until mid-season. He stood only 4-9 on June 20 but wound up with a 16-13

O'Toole, a 19-game winner when the Reds won the flag in 1961, has been one of the most impressive pitchers of the spring. He went six innings in the Reds' 6-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers yesterday at Vero Beach, Fla., and now has a string of 14 consecutive shutout innings.

O'Toole, who yielded four hits, was backed by a 13-hit attack that included a homer by Gordon Coleman and doubles by Don Blassingame, Chico Ruiz, Wally Post, Johnny Edwards and pitcher John Flavin. The Dodgers continued their sloppy defensive play with a first-inning error by shortstop Don Zimmer leading to a Cincinnati run and giving Los Angeles 35 errors in 18 exhibition games.

The New York Mets scored their fifth victory in seven games when they beat the St. Louis Cardinals. Craig Anderson, who had lost 16 decisions in regular N.L. piay since last May, tasted victory for the first time in 10 months. Frank Thomas homered for the Mets.

Jim Bunning, a 19-game winner last season, was hit hard in the early innings but became the first Detroit Tiger pitcher to go the nine-inning distance in a 6-1 loss to the Milwaukee Braves. Lew Burdette and Bob Hendley teamed for a six-hitter for the Braves, who had three-run uprisings in the first and third innings.

Early Wynn took another firm step along the comeback trail as he combined with Eddie Fisher to pitch the Chicago White Sox to a 3-0 triumph over the Washington Senators. Wynn, who yielded one hit for the first three innings, has allowed only one run and two hits in his last nine innings. He needs one more major league win to reach the 300-level.

Marcelino Lopez yielded only two hits in six innings and also homered as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 9-2, and snapped the A's four-game winning streak. Richie Allen also hit a homer for the Phillies.

First-baseman Joe Pepitone, Bill Skowron's heir apparent, hit two homers and Elston Howard hit one to lead the New York Yankees to a 7-6 decision over the Minnesota Twins. Harmon Killebrew belted his first homer of the spring and Bernie Allen also connected for the Twins.

The Los Angeles Angels edged out the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, on a ninth-inning homer by Eddie Sadowski, who unloaded against left-hander Wilbur Wood. Former Yankee 21-game winner Bob Turley struck out seven and walked one in a six-inning performance for the Angels.

A homer by Ernie Banks and triples by Andre Rodgers and Lou Brock were the big blows for the Chicago Cubs, who shaded the Cleveland Indians, 12-11. Bob Buhl was bounced around for seven runs in seven innings by the Indians but was the winning pitcher.

Sausalito Police Chief Among Five Angling Winners

Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt was among the last week winners in the Schenley Sportsmen's Club striped bass program, it was announced today by Schenley officials.

Nick Kerry's 263-642 Tops Play At Country Club Bowl

Nick Kerry led the keglers at Country Club Bowl this past week with a 642 series which incluided a pin-smashing 263 game in the Thursday Men's Handicap League.

Nick's effort was high in both series and individual game scores. Runner-up in series scores was Bob MacEachern with a 632 in the 900 Classic League.

Other high games were rolled by Larry Garatti, 247; Winton Hall, 246, and Myron Spencer and Carl Adams, both with 244s.

Women's high series was twirled by Peg Zeiler of the YWCA League, 579. Lorraine Pecora rolled a pretty 233 game in the Sleepers League to top the gals in individual games scores.

Larry Asay is still leading the Heart Fund Handicap Singles Tournament at Country Club which winds up Sunday.

Country Club will host the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. monthly "Fun Tournament" Saturday at 1 and 3 p.m., it was announced. The tourney will be a 3-6-9 mixed doubles affair of four games.

The week's results were:

AS SOCRATES SAID—

Fame Follows Redwood Hikers

By GARY ARTOUX
Redwood High School reporter

Socrates once said "Fame follows great deeds."

Maybe the deed wasn't of such heroic proportions as the Greek philosopher wanted, but the proverb took on new meaning in the case of the 50-mile hike which 400 Redwood High School students embarked upon in mid-February. Ever since, letters and clippings have poured into the school from every part of the United States and even Europe.

The most recent clipping was in French. The March issue of Paris Match, a widely circulated magazine, reported on the American physical fitness rage:

"In a country where one leaves his car to take a walk 'the most ordinary form of human —locomotion' was a revolution. In California an entire school began a march: 400 left, 97 arrived at the fixed hour."

One interested Marin City woman wrote the school, enclosing the front page of the Christian Science Monitor, with the information that she wanted Redwood students to know that "the West Coast edition went to Australia, New Zealand, Formosa, Indonesia, Korea, Japan, and the Philippine Islands."

A recent letter from President John F. Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, to Jim Troppmann, student body president, said, "Very pleased to hear that the hike was successful."

Letters addressed merely to "The Four Hundred Hikers, Larkspur, California," or "The Footsore 400" were not uncommon.

In them, the correspondent usually enclosed clippings from Time, Life, Newsweek, U. S. News and World Report, and other national magazines. In the days immediately following the hike, the letters most often contained the front page of somebody's hometown newspaper— Columbia, S.C., LaGrange, Ill., Grand Forks, N.D. —often with no comment.

From Silver Springs, Fla., Rex Allen, of snake-farm fame, sent a pamphlet addressed to "Survival Hikers," telling of a Boy Scout trek he once led from the Atlantic to the Gulf of Mexico.

Steve Carlson, Redwood senior from Belvedere, who was photographed by United Press International wearing a sign reading, "50 miles with vigah!" received a dozen letters from strangers. One, a New Jersey school girl, requested that he "please write me if you have time, and let me know if you really made it."

One of the most frequently received clippings came from Americans in Europe who mailed at least 10 copies of the German edition of Stars and Stripes, American Armed Forces newspaper, to Redwood, with such notations as "Thought you'd like to know people are reading about Redwood in Manneheim, Germany."

Last week, the Washington (D.C.) Star sent the Redwood newspaper staff the original drawing of a cartoon that ran in that paper on Feb. 13. It pictured President Kennedy gaily waving newspapers with headlines reading, "Bobby Walks 50 Miles" and "California School Kids Make 50-Mile Hike." The president is saying, "Eureka, At last I've got America moving again!" Above cartoonist George Crockett's signature was written, "Dear Redwood — Keep walking; as for me, I will ride."

More than 2,000 inches of clippings, numerous pictures, some drawings, and letters referring to the hike have been received in the past month. The journalism classes at Redwood literally plastered one entire classroom with them so that the whole student body could puruse them. Space ran out; every day more flows in.

Three journalism students, Beverly Breithaupt, Laura Stitch, and Shirley Harris, all seniors, are now pasting them into a scrapbook, which they hope to finish by June. The Redwood Bark staff and the Redwood Student News Bureau will have the scrapbook bound, and present it to the student body. It will go to repose in the school's library.

Miss Breithaupt said, "Along about 2010, we hope some Marin County grandfather can bring his grandson to Redwood, show him the scrapbook and say, 'Now, sonny, you see it is true that I did walk 50 miles on one day when I was a boy!' "

Mill Valley Rotary Officers Elected

He will succeed Si Weil when officers take over their duties July 1. Other new officers will be John T. Little, secretary, and Thomas Lathrop, treasurer.

Following A Long Tradition

Hundreds of women from throughout the Bay Area descended in a driving rain yesterday on the home of the Arthur Forsters in Silver Hills overlooking Tomales Bay to attend the annual Primrose Tea staged by the Inverness Garden Club.

THE PRIMROSE TEA, which was started in the 1930s, is famous for its primroses, which were developed by the late Hugh Logan. It is unequaled for its color in the fresh flower-bedecked chapeaux worn by members of the garden club and for the aroma of home-made breads, which are sold during the afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Rodgers of Point Reyes Station was chairman for the 1 to 4:30 o'clock event. Mrs. Montague Barton served as decorations chairman, assisted by Mrs. Richard Gimbel, who has studied flower arrangement in Japan.

IN CHARGE of the primroses on display was Mrs. William Trayer and Mrs. R. L. Griffith headed the committee of homemade breads.

THE INVERNESS GARDEN Club has established the Jesse Craig Lovell Scholarship Fund, which helps Tomales High School graduates to pursue higher education.

IN THE STYLE OF THE NILE — Mrs. Richard Hynes's Cleopatra hat is admired during the tea by Mesdames Raymond Rodgers, chairman; Arthur Forster, at whose home the event was given, and Roy Starbird, garden club president.

McDaniel-Marske Rites In Sausalito

Sausalito's First Presbyterian Church was the setting on Saturday for the wedding of Gayle Ann Marske and James Norton McDaniel of Sausalito.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Gerald R. Marske of Corpus Christi, Tex., the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk and peau de soie. The skirt extended into a court train.

Preceding the bride to the altar in a gown of coral satin was Mrs. Charles Wilson of San Mateo as matron of honor.

Charles Wilson served the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Walter Wester of Sausalito and Terrance Baker of Kent Woodlands.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

The bride was graduated from Alexander Ramsey High School in St. Paul and the University of South Dakota. She is a member of the Ullr Ski Club in St. Paul and is now employed with Atkins, Kroll and Co. in San Francisco.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McDaniel of Carmel, was graduated from Malcalester College in Minnesota and is a textbook editor with Wadsworth Publishing Co. in Belmont.

Following a wedding trip to Squaw Valley, the newlyweds will reside in Sausalito.

New Views In Education For Teachers Discussed

By Maybelle Speckmann

"What a teacher is is more important than what a teacher does."

This was the point stressed by Dr. Fred T. Wilhelms Tuesday night at the general meeting of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women. It was held at the Mill Valley Community Church.

Speaking on the topic "New Views in Teacher Education," Wilhelms based his discussion on the special teacher education project he has headed at San Francisco State College for the past five years. He is chairman of the college's department of secondary education.

"THE PROCESS of changing from a college junior or senior in a year or two into a professional teacher has to be seen as a deeply personal becoming, not just picking up skills and knowledge," he said.

A teacher can act a different role for a while, he maintained, but you can't really fool little kids. That is why what she is is more important than what she does.

The educator then explained the experiment being carried on at the college.

ABOUT 50 STUDENTS selected at random from the group preparing to teach are trained according to a very loosely organized, permissive plan. Its outstanding characteristics are great freedom and placing of the responsibility for becoming a teacher on the student, and including real teaching experience combined with theoretical studies over three or four semesters instead of having one semester of intensive practice teaching after completion of professional education courses.

The clash comes very early between idealism and reality, he pointed out, but the results is independence, greater maturity and no less commitment to the profession.

OTHER FEATURES of the plan are (1) the 50 students stay in the same group throughout the course and are taught by the same team of professors that includes one from each special field of education.

(2) The main group is divided into "sensitivity" groups of 10 students in each under one instructor with whom they may discuss all problems. This actually becomes "group therapy," Wilhelms said.

(3) All students have access to one counselor to whom they may go for personal help in strict confidence, but most rely on themselves or counsel each other.

DR. WILHELMS said the students are taught "you don't have to be like any other teacher because there isn't any one good type of teacher. Your job is to find your own greatest strength."

No grades are given throughout the course, the educator said, and at the end students are rated fit or unfit for credentials.

Spaghetti Dinner To Aid Society

A benefit spaghetti dinner for the Marin Society for Crippled Children will be held at the office Cocktail Lounge in Mill Valley on April 2 from 6:30 to 11 p.m.

Cape Drama

Now! Meats in Jars with Quick-Twist® Caps

New convenience for you . . . same fine meats for your baby. Gerber Meats (like all Gerber Baby Foods) now come in sparkling jars with Quick-Twist caps. Easy to open and reclose for refrigeration of unused portions. Gerber Strained Meats are made from selected Armour cuts, carefully processed to preserve the utmost in nutritive values and insure a smooth, moist texture. Junior varieties are evenly minced. And isn't it reassuring to know that these quality meats are the products of two great specialists—Gerber, famous for fine foods and Armour, famous for fine meats.

Mother, Dad Want To Help Daughters In Social Life

"My daughters are 14 and 15," writes a mother. "Soon they will be dating. They are attractive girls, but not beauties. Their father and I have tried to teach them how to dance, but we know only the regulation "round" dances, not the new fads. I want them to be popular. What can I do to help them? What shall I tell them about petting?"

YOUR GIRLS are at a wonderfully exciting, enjoyable time of their lives. But it is also one of the most difficult, anxiety-filled times, too. I'm glad you and your husband want to help them. There is a lot you can do to make the next five or six years a happy prologue to successful marriages for both girls.

Encourgae your daughters to date any nice boy who invites them. Get them to delay going steady. Be friendly with their classmates, boys or girls, who come to your home. There's no need to spend a fortune on refreshments, but try to have a few snacks and soft drinks on hand for after-school munching. A rumpus room with a hard floor and a phonograph is great for impromptu dance sessions at which your girls can learn the current teen-age dances from their contemporaries.

HELP THE GIRLS become good conversationalists and listeners. Remind them that boys like to talk about themselves and about sports, college, cars,food — not about clothes, movie stars, hair styles. Suggest they go easy on expenses when they are out on dates. Finances are a real problem for most boys. They appreciate a girl who is thoughtful in that direction.

Lay down strict rules against drinking and unchaperoned parties. Tell your daughters not to neck or pet. Even with nice boys, it's generally the girl who sets the limits. Talk over with them the ways a smart girl avoids situations which encourage petting. Be specific about the advantages of chastity. Make it clear you expect high standards of conduct. Let them know that if they need their father to come pick them up at any time, they are to call him without hesitation.

POPULAR GIRLS have fun on their dates, and they make sure the boy enjoys the evening, too. They smile, laugh, tell jokes, make the best of inconveniences or mishaps. They are never moody, cross, sarcastic. In short, they make a boy want to please them because he is having such a good time himself.

San Rafael P-TA Plans Salad Bowl Luncheon, Fashion Show

A salad bowl luncheon and fashion show will be given by San Rafael High School Parent-Teachers Assn. for Saturday at 12:30 p.m. at the school cafeteria. Mrs. Gedge Knopf is chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mesdames Byron Eshelman, Henry Adda, Harry Friedman, Joseph Nunes, William O'Bayley, Guy Korpi and Benjamin Ostlind.

Reservations chairman Mrs. Arthur Worthington is being assisted by Mesdames Rodney Wagner, Waldemar Berner, John Rudolph and Charles McKnew. Mrs. Albert Walz and Mrs. George Ballantyne are planning decorations.

The fashion show is directed by Mrs. Leland Dellwig, and the models, all San Rafael High School students, are Pamela Worthington, Jeanette Rudolph, Laurie McClurg, Susan Worthington, Donna Ziemer, Susan Knopf, Jennie Grimes, Norma Neal Susan Colombo, Nancy Rinaldi, Lynn Schau, Cathy Waltz, Teresa Rinaldi, Gail Richardson and Jeni Ballantyne. Susan Beare, pianist, will play songs from musical comedies for the fashion show and will also accompany Sharon Johnson, who will play violin selections.

A highlight of the program will be the installation of the new officers of P.T.A. Mrs. Walter Tait, past president, will install Mrs. William Beare, president; Mrs. Raymond Rogers, first vice president, Alfred Thomson, principal, second vice president; Mrs. William Misakian, secretary; and Mrs. Roy Troutman, treasurer.

Many past P-TA members are planning to attend this traditional luncheon. Mrs. Herbert Knopf, P-TA president in 1930, has invited as her guest Mrs. O. B. Cavanaugh, who was president in 1929. Mrs. Victor Jones will entertain in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Colin Hill. Past presidents Mesdames Rodney Wagner, Richard Gladstein, James Dodds, Paul Grimes, Malcolm Finley, William Allen and Walter Tait will also attend.

Members Initiated

San Rafael Auxiliary 256, Fraternal Order of Eagles has initiated three new members. Mrs. Cora Erickson of San Rafael, Mrs. Clayton Payne and Joan Azevedo of Novato were initiated to membership.

MANY THANKS

for paying your newspaperboy promptly

It's tough for a youngster to "come back some other time" for payment. As a young businessman, your I-J carrier boy is trying to do a job for you, rain or shine, on time. He really appreciates your paying him the first time he calls to collect. Keep it up, won't you?

Miss your paper? Please phone before 6:30 p. m.

Economist Will Speak On Common Market, Farmer

"The American Farmer and the Common Market" will be the subject of G. Alvin Carpenter's talk Wednesday at the luncheon following the annual meetings of the Leagues of Women Voters of Central and Southern Marin at Sabella's, Mill Valley.

An economist with the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, Carpenter spent two months last summer in the Common Market countries of Europe as a member of a special team to study the growth of the market.

Since world trade and foreign economic problems are among the league's national current agenda items this year, Mrs. William Griffiths of El Cerrito, state national study item chairman, will be a guest.

Both leagues will hold their annual meetings in the morning before the 12:15 p.m. luncheon. The Southern Marin meeting will commence at 9:30 and the Central Marin meeting at 10:30 a.m.

The Popover

Santa Margarita P-TA Plans 'Swing Into Spring' Dance

The Santa Margarita School Parent-Teacher Assn. is making final plans for a "Swing Into Spring" no-host cocktail and dance to be held on Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in Marin Bay.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the school library. Mrs. Melvin Stidham is chairman of the planning committee and Mesdames Daniel Beittel and Harvey Friedlander are in charge of reservations.

14 Marin Students Compete For Bank Scholastic Award

A five-member panel of business and professional people will meet at College of Marin Tuesday to select four zone winners from 34 high school seniors in the annual Bank of America scholastic achievement award competition.

Fourteen of the students in four fields of study are from Marin County high schools.

Dr. Stephen E. Epler, president of College of Marin, will moderate round-table discussions between the panel and the students on topics of general interest and subjects related to the fields of study—fine arts, vocational arts, science and mathematics, and liberal arts.

The winners, who will receive $150 prizes and a chance at $1,000 grants in final competition in San Francisco in May, will be chosen on the basis of the interviews and their school records.

Second and third prizes of $50 and $25 in each field also will go to the zone competitors.

Marin contenders in the four categories are:

Fine arts—Theodore Bloyd, Novato High School; Frica Gordon, San Rafael High School; Thomas Graefe, Redwood High School, and Laurie Pemberton, Tamalpais High School.

Vocational arts — Evelyn Drew, Tomales Joint Union High School, and Karen Duncan, Novato High School.

Science and mathematics—Bertil Beander, Sir Francis Drake High School; Ian Forbes, Tamalpais High School; Donald Hemovich, Marin Catholic High School, and Bruce Howard, San Rafael High School.

Liberal arts—Juliet Banning, Redwood High School; Marie Bertolli, Dominican Upper School; Victoria Brown, Sir Francis Drake High School, and Richard Levaro, Terra Linda High School.

Marinwood CSD Meets Tonight On Fire Study

Marinwood Community Services District directors will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Mary E. Silveira School to hear a fire commission report and discuss proposed replacement of dead plants along roadway centerstrips in Marinwood.

The meeting was scheduled as an adjourned meeting from last week's regular session.

Last year Californians built 196,000 homes — 22 per cent of the new homes constructed in the United States and two and a half times as many as did New York State.

Dominican Names Leading Scholars

Maria Fasal of Kentfield, Barbara Packer of Woodlake, Lynn Schmitz of Kentfield, and Melissa Boussy of Mill Valley have won top of class honors at Dominican Upper School, San Rafael, for the first period of the second semester.

Fourth year honor students besides Miss Fasal are Marie Bertolli, Anne Paulson and Suzanne Ragghianti, San Rafael; Susan Cope, Mill Valley; Helene Couture and Carol Prince, San Francisco; Catherine Davis, Walnut Grove; Ann Dersheimer, Fairfax; Micaela Doyle, Palo Alto, and Margaret Richards, Cebu, Philippines.

Third year honor students besides Miss Packer include: Kathleen Dufficy, Mary Lois Jones and Patricia Lyons, San Rafael; Elizabeth Bowe, Boulder, Colo.; Mary Durnford, San Juan Capistrano; Gale Ensey, Coronado; Elizabeth Fischer, Guatemala City, Guatemala, and Matilda Muller, Ross.

First year honor students besides Miss Boussy are Christine Bellingall and Susan Bertolli, Belvedere; Elizabeth Byrne, Malin, Ore., Carolyn Cox and Marta Osterloh, Ross; Nancy Donnell, Sonoma; Pandie Everett and Kathleen Regalia, San Rafael; Mary Hawkins, Kentfield; Pamela Losey, Calistoga; Zarela Martinez, El Paso, Tex., and Marsha Mastroianni, Reno, Nev.

Reserve Training

Robert M. Zwieg, Navy builder second class, son of Mrs. Mabel E. Page of 1763 Indian Valley Road, Novato, and Augustine Scafidl, Navy chief steelworker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scafidi of 305 Center Road, Novato, have just completed two weeks active duty training with Reserve Mobile Construction Battalion Two at Port Hueneme.

Entrants include: from Belvedere, Mary Wissman; from Corte Madera, Gloria Wiedenkofer; from Fairfax, Marlene Christie, Gerrie Tanzi, Nancie Ann Mager and Zita Grant; from Kentfield, Sue Chambers; from Mill Valley, Shirley G. Stuart and Barbara Brewster; from Novato, Mike Cullins, Betty Lynn Krieger, Patti Ann Villa, Linda Leoni, Candy Dowdy, Pinkie Pierce and Doreen Bobo; from Ross, Barbara Roberts; from San Anselmo, Mary Hanrahan, Connie Lynot, Richard and Michael Schinazi; from San Rafael, Tom Lowe, Marti Straussburg, and Marsha Clowers; from Sausalito, Maggie Roth; and from Tiburon, Tessie Fitzgerald.

Redwood Program Highlights Shirley Jackson, Harper Lee

Redwood High School's first oral interpretation program, "Sound in Shadow," will be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the school's little theater.

The program, sponsored by the English department, is directed by Barbara Vickers, sophomore English teacher.

Interpretive reading of poems and short stories will make up the beginning of the program. Highlights are to include reading of Shirley Jackson's "The Lottery" and a parent-student panel discussion of Harper Lee's novel, "To Kill a Mockingbird."

To create different moods, Roger Dowd will play drums and Pam Prince, piano. Participants include Howard Lazar, Ken Larsen, John Vance, Don Stevenson, Don Carroll, Denny Ross, Shirley Clark, Susan Gabbs, Arla Bostick, Oliver Osborne, Chris Bergren, Laurel Greenfield, Jennie Lyons, Carolyn Cochrane, Tina Schultz, David Greenfield.

Discussing "To Kill A Mockingbird" will be seniors Lynne Reed, Julie Banning, Toni Banducci, Terry Chambers, Dan Robinson, Betsy Winter, and parents Jack Chambers, Dr. Charles Cress, Mrs. Ione Lyons, Dr. Catherine Pike, Jean Banning, and William B. Wolfson.

'Socialized Medicine' Is Creeping Toward Us

As we said in this space yesterday, the spiraling cost of medical care is leading us inevitably toward some sort of "socialized medicine."

As we see it, almost all the forces at work tend toward increasing costs; none toward holding the line.

Medicine is like a sellers' market. There is no such thing as price resistance, which in some other fields tends to restrain the rise of prices. When medical care is needed, cost (except perhaps in the case of certain dentists who want a substantial cash payment in advance, before they start work) is no deterrent; you have no alternative to purchasing the needed services.

The forces of competition are not allowed to work in the medical care field. The drug industry in California has an established record of non-competitive price-fixing. The so-called "professional ethics" of both doctors and hospitals make it "unethical" to engage in anything resembling competition.

While these artificial suppressions of natural competition are not without merit, they do not provide any mechanism for holding the line on prices charged.

Medical insurance itself works out as an invitation to higher charges. A patient covered by insurance has no personal interest in the enormity of charges, he doesn't complain about a charge he doesn't have to pay.

The insurance companies appear to feel that any complaint on their part about exhorbitant charges would get them in bad with the doctors and hospitals.

The insurance carriers may think they have protected themselves to a degree with some limitations on charges they will meet for some specific treatments; but some doctors merely "pad" their bills so that what the insurance company allows on the "padding" will be sufficient to meet the charge for service actually rendered.

Nowhere in all of this—as we said at the outset—are there any forces at work toward resisting medical care price increases.

It probably is to the credit of most doctors and hospitals that their charges aren't actually higher, in view of the almost total lack of counteracting factors.

Is not the only solution, then, some state or federal system of subsidization of costs and control of prices?

That seems likely almost to the point of inevitability.

Of course if every patient complained, loudly and directly, every time he got a bill he thought too high, further increases in fees and rates would be restrained. And this might "save the day" for private medicine.

But we doubt if patients will complain loudly and frequently enough at the right time in the right place.

Meanwhile "socialized medicine" will be creeping inexorably toward us.

BOO!

Better Education Committee Hit

EDITOR
Independent-Journal:

After having read the article of Mar. 20, "Abandonment of Tomales High asked", I was amazed to find out that it contained absolutely no new information.

State Fire Marshal Glenn B. Vance took it upon himself to evaluate the report of the State Division of Architecture, which stated that the school's construction did not conform to the Field Act of 1935. The Board of Trustees of the Tomales High School has authorized George Quesada, an architect from San Francisco, to make a detailed study as recommended by that report.

As far as the fire danger is concerned, the Fire Marshal had nothing to add, since the requirements in that respect had been brought up to date several years ago. As the Marshal pointed out, lack of fire blocking from a safety standpoint is not too critical. In case of fire, evacuation would be the important part and means to that have been taken care of.

I am getting a bit tired of the tactics of the "West Marin Citizens Committee for Better Education," because contrary to their name, they have so far contributed nothing to the better education of the students of Tomales High School. Their efforts have been confined to trying to get the school abandoned one way or the other, not wanting to see that the school has served this area well for many years. Granted that times are changing and with it the demands of education, I feel the committee might be of value if it would show any constructive interest whatsoever in the school's operation.

If this committee truly stands for better education and wants to gain the support of their community, they will have to start showing an interest in educating the pupils of Tomales High School right now. And abandoning the schoolbuilding is not the answer.

Shrinking Bay Is Deplored

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Thank you for your excellent editorial Mar. 7 urging support for the Marin Conservation League in its drive to raise funds for the purchase of some of the tide lands near Corte Madera Creek. In that same issue, your more detailed article and superb map gave even more weight to you editorial.

I hope the Conservation League has already received many contributions in response to your plea. However, I strongly suspect they'd receive more if it were pointed out that all such contributions were tax deductible.

We all deplore our shrinking shore line. That our magnificent Bay might one day be reduced to a narrow tidal river is appalling. We all should be grateful to such organizations as the League which is making such constructive efforts to preclude that drastic event.

Not only the League, but all of us who love Marin and the Bay, will be grateful for all tax-deductible contributions sent to the Marin Conservation League, Marin Art and Garden Center, Box 437, Ross.

Disapproves Of I-J Cartoon

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

I thought yours was supposed to be a "family newspaper"? Not so, if you continue publishing cartoons as appeared in your Mar. 18 publication. Along with "four letter words" and a certain amount of bodily cleanliness, my sons were taught at an early age the principles on which our country was founded.

To find this Klu Klux Klan definition of a pressing national problem in a paper distributed in Marin County flabergasts me! Don't you look at your syndicated cartoons? Or is it that you are so out of touch with the people of Marin County you assume that this attitude is accepted? Take a second look.

Square Dancers Ask Sign Return

EDITOR
Independent-Journal:

Your wide readership prompts this appeal from one of Marin County's non-profit organizations, the Marin County Square Dance Assn.

On the night of Saturday, Mar. 23, between 8 p.m. and midnight, a valuable sign reading SQUARE DANCE, was removed from a pole at the corner of Bon Air Road and Magnolia, in Larkspur. This sign could be of no conceivable value to anyone outside the Square Dance Movement. It was painstakingly made by one of our officers in his spare time, and could not be replaced for $20 if made commercially. We don't have the funds to have a new one made, and there isn't time enough before our next event to make a new one ourselves.

If the possessor of the sign will contact me (by telephone) no questions will be asked. It can be left in some public place for me to pick up. My name is on the sign—my address is in the phone book.

A PUNISHMENT TO FIT THE CRIME

Spending the winter in jail was the curious ambition of one man.

When he was sentenced last October in England to two months behind bars for kicking in a store window, the prisoner startled everyone by asking if the court could extend the sentence to a full six months.

The judge explained that his crime did not warrant more than the two months and that he therefore could not grant his request.

The prisoner looked a little crestfallen and protested: "Winter is coming and I want a bed."

It is not easy for persons who are well-fed, clothed and housed to sense the frustration of those who have no place to lay their heads.

While regretting the desperate measures sometimes taken by the poverty-stricken, do more than condemn them. Strive in Christ's name to find lasting solutions for the problems of hunger, homelessness, illiteracy and the depressing lack of security that hangs over countless persons in our midst and in many parts of the world.

"To love one's neighbor as one's self is a greater thing thatn all holocausts and sacrifices."

(Mark 12:33)

In gratitude for your many blessings to me, O Lord, help me to champion the cause of those less fortunate.

Opera Star Thinks U.S. Still Has Long, Long Way To Go On Culture

There are some intellectuals who fondly believe so.

But George London, born in Montreal, Quebec, regarded by many as the world's finest baritone, thinks that, culturally speaking, we still have a long, long way to go.

"There are about 150 fine American singers permanently engaged in German cities," remarked the Metropolitan Opera star. "Why are they over there? They are over there because they can find no work over here."

"There are few opera companies in this country, and only one that has a full season. Therefore our talented youngsters have to go abroad to find a place to display their talent," he said.

London feels that the fine arts will never truly flourish in the United States until they get some kind of government subsidy.

"Culture is still a kind of dirty word here," he said, shaking his head. "The funds that would have to be requested to give this vast country the kind of cultural life it deserves are controlled by people living in the rural areas.

"The representative from Plowed Ground, Iowa, doesn't give a damn whether a large city has an opera company, a legitimate theater, a ballet troupe or a full-time symphony orchestra.

"There's more money appropriated every year to keep the whooping crane from becoming extinct than it would take to start a modest program of subsidizing the arts."

London, 43, trains to keep in shape.

FOR A WHILE London used to work out systematically with bar bells. But that became too complicated for one who travels as much as he does. Bar bells are too wearing on the ordinary bell hop.

ONE OF THE traditional woes of the baritone is that in most operas he is relegated to the role of villain, and the tenor winds up with the pretty girl. This doesn't worry London.

"It is difficult for a tenor to love a girl, because he's so much in love with himself he doesn't have much left over for anyone else. Of course, there are exceptions, but—"

Happy memories: When Ed Wynn played a waiter in "Manhattan Mary" and a customer demanded lamb chops au gratin, Wynn shouted to the kitchen, "Cheese it, the chops" . . . When Eddie Cantor told a pair of worn-out acrobats, who invariably closed the show in the old vaudeville houses, "Boys, if you ever expect to get anywhere in this profession, you'll have to dream up a new finish for your act." "New finish!" echoed one of the acrobats indignantly. "Nobody's ever waited to see the old one yet." . . . And when a druggist stopped Bobby Clark to ask, "Did that mud-pack I suggested improve your wife's appearance?" Bobby's answer was, "It did for a couple of days, but then it wore off."

Health Department Not Worried About Bubonic Plague In Marin

AN EXCITED CITIZEN reported to Corte Madera Police Chief Frank Nelson Monday night that he had killed "an enormous rat" near the new California Highway Patrol office with a tire iron.

Nelson ordered one of his men to pick up the rat's carcass and phoned a county health department aide: That official replied the department was not fascinated with rats in Central Marin but was somewhat interested in those of Southern Marin.

Another health department aide told me the next day, "Well, yes, we're interested in rats from the southern end, on paper that is. We haven't found any." She added: "We're not concerned over possible bubonic plague like they are in San Francisco."

A RECENT NEWS item reports that Fairfax is shedding one of its claims to being unique. The city council has agreed to use printed agenda for meetings.

A tantalizing thing about being assigned to cover the Fairfax council was not knowing what would be discussed. How rank and file citizens knew or sensed when crucial issues were due for airing was a mystery.

But when a reporter found the meeting hall jammed he could guess SOME hot issue was due. Some grapevine communications system in the area was always strongly indicated.

ANOTHER RECENT news story, in the March 15 I-J, reports a new chapter on another old story: That of Thomas Joseph McNicholas, 71, Ireland-born retired San Rafael carpenter, who was convicted in August, 1961, of soddenness and "living" on a porch without the owner's permission.

On his latest appearance in 1961 before Judge Joseph G. Wilson he drew a jail term but was transferred to the county farm after becoming severely ill.

This month McNicholas again landed before Judge Wilson, who dismissed the case. Another farm resident had accused McNicholas of knocking him to the floor.

McNicholas said he was only clowning. The judge said such brangles should be handled administratively, not in court. He asked McNicholas to refrain from such "clowning" and urged the men be placed in different rooms.

McNicholas long was a source of wonder for judges and others serving the courts. He enjoyed being his own counsel and had a quip for every question. When he was sent to the farm a doctor asked about his circulation. "Oh, I get around," he replied.

EMPLOYEES IN the beautiful new civic center report less "foot traffic" business than they had in the old courthouse. With more citizens doing business by mail, less time is taken by employees halting work at their desks to discuss matters over the counter.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Congress Should Keep Defense Spending Under Continuous Study

WASHINGTON. — Despite the respect and confidence which the top civilian leadership of the Pentagon has well earned, especially Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and Deputy Secretary Roswell Gilpatric, I submit that instead of there being too much Congressional checking of Defense contracts—there isn't enough.

Take the TFX plane contract which the Senate Committee on Government Operations is now investigating. This was awarded to General Dynamics although three different military panels had recommended it go to Boeing.

There is no evidence that Secretary McNamara yielded to partisan pressures. It is clear that he had a rational basis for the decision he made. But here, at one stroke, is $6,500,000,000 going to one corporation to build a supersonic Navy-Air Force fighter plane which the military would prefer to have built somewhat differently. The issue is primarily one of economy, a single two-service type plane which could be used both from the ground and from carriers approved by Mr. McNamara vs. two somewhat different planes costing more as sought by the Navy and Air Force.

Mr. McNamara made an honest and defensible decision, but no outsider who isn't devoting almost continuous scrutiny to the evidence can have any basis for being sure it was the best or wisest decision.

This is why responsible, expertly staffed Congressional investigation is desirable, is beneficial, and can be a boon to the Defense Department itself.

THERE IS NOT enough of this kind of investigation. It is sporadic. It needs to be continuous. With approximately $60 billion going into defense and space contracts, we need more double-checking, not less. About 65 per cent of these are negotiated contracts let—for quite sound seasons—without competitive bidding.

The amount of money going into defense and space continues to mount. The defense budget has been increased 25 per cent in the last two-and-a-half years. The rate of growth in defense spending may taper off in a year or two, but the space budget will increase substantially.

With this kind of money involved, even the best Pentagon decision-making needs steady scrutiny by people outside the Defense Department. Congress ought not to limit its investigations to ex parte complaints.

THIS IS WHY the recent proposals of Sen. Clifford Case, (R., of New Jersey) are all headed in the right direction. Their effect would be to give some additional bone and muscle to Congressional scrutiny. To this end Case proposes:

1—A permanent join Senate-House committee to give continuous attention to defense and space contracts.

2—Complete, public disclosure of all communications seeking to influence the letting of defense contracts—oral or written by anybody, Congressmen, ex-Congressmen-turned-lobbyists, Presidential aides.

3—And, in the end, a full public exposition by the Defense Department setting out the basis for the award of a contract.

My information is that most, if not all, the civilian heads of the Pentagon would welcome all of these measures. They should.

When this hand was played in the recent Intercollegiate Bridge Championships, South usually made his game contract of three notrump.

TOO YOUNG

College students are too young and healthy to be troubled by spots.

In most cases East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and held the second trick with the queen of clubs.

West waited impatiently for another club, but East always fidgeted and looked intently at the dummy with the familiar appearance of a man who is about to switch to a different suit.

BEST DEFENSE

No matter what East returned, South was safe. With a spade return, for example, South could win and knock out the ace of diamonds.

The defenders could get only three clubs and one diamond.

The best defense beats declarer. West should notice dummy's club spots, the nine and 10, and should look at his own, which include the eight and the seven.

OVERTAKE QUEEN

Noticing these spots should lead West to overtake the queen of clubs with the king at the second trick. Then West can lead the eight of clubs to force out the jack.

This establishes the rest of the clubs, and West gets in with the ace of diamonds in time to run the clubs and defeat the contract.

West would not be able to make this play if South had clubs headed by J-8 instead of his actual J-6.

West can tell that the correct play is safe only if he watches the spots carefully.

How Tuberculosis Germs Spread And What's To Be Done About It

VAN DELLEN

A positive tuberculin reaction in cattle is a death sentence; the animal is slaughtered to protect humans. The law is more lenient when a child or an adult develops a positive tuberculin skin test. The reason is obvious, but there ought to be rules and regulations making it imperative that they have a careful follow-up, including periodic chest X-rays.

An individual usually harbors live tubercle bacilli when this skin test becomes positive. These bacteria may not cause illness but the possibility always exists, especially when resistance is lowered through poor nutrition or living conditions. The entire problem of the control of tuberculosis rests with these positive reactors who harbor the causative micro-organisms. And there are plenty of them because a high percentage of adults have a positive test.

MOST ADULT cases of tuberculosis develop in persons who have had a positive reaction for several years, together with evidence of a healed infection somewhere in the body. Some are aware of this lesion because they had treatment for active tuberculosis and the disease became inactive.

Others developed the infection during childhood but it was so mild it escaped detection. The bacilli were caught from someone else, usually an adult who may or may not have known he had active tuberculosis. At any rate, the skin test changed from negative to positive even though they were not necessarily ill.

BUT THIS childhood type of tuberculosis is not always so innocent. It can be serious and this explains why every child whose tuberculin test becomes positive is treated with drugs, even though the X-rays are normal.

Tuberculosis never will be eradicated until the tuberculin positive person who had definite evidence of the disease in the past is watched carefully. An evidence of reactivation of an infection that is smouldering somewhere in the body, usually in the lungs, may be reactivated. The dormant infection comes to light through many stress factors such as alcoholism, aging, and other illnesses. In many instances, the individual is not aware of this reactivation because there are no symptoms during the early stage. Yet he is contagious and is likely to pass along the organisms to an unprotected child. Most of these youngsters survive and become tuberculin positive adults, to complete the cycle.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

VISION AND HYPERTENSION

R. H. writes: Does high blood pressure injure the eyes?

REPLY

Yes. Most of the damage occures when the blood vessels in the eyes become narrowed and hardened. This in turn affects circulation to the retina. Vision also may be disturbed as a result of a stroke.

READING ON TUMMY

N. N. writes: Is it harmful to a child's eyes to read in a prone position?

REPLY

Probably not, so long as the light is good and the book or paper is held at the proper distance.

FOR SHORTER PARKING?

Clarence Black of Burlington, Wis., examines a "compact" parking meter which looks as though it might have been intended for sports cars. It wasn't intentional, however; somehow the meter post penetrated concrete over a hotel basement extension and sank to this height. (AP Wirephoto)

Lack Of Stability In Korea Discourages U.S. Aid Givers

By CONRAD FINK

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The United States has given heavily in blood and dollars to try to bring stability, anti-communism and democracy to South Korea. Now, 18 years after the massive aid program began, American hopes are dwindling.

South Korea has neither stability nor democracy. Bitter political battling between its military government and civilians diverts the watch on communism.

Like the Mongols, Chinese and Japanese here before, Americans got involved in Korea through fortunes of war.

The others came as conquerors. By winning World War II, the Americans came as liberators of this Japanese-occupied, barren land of 25 million people.

Two choices seemed available: go home and let Korea drift into communism, already gripping the northern half of the peninsula, or stay and build.

Washington decided to try to build and the cost has been mounting ever since.

The bill for helping beat back a Communist invasion in 1950-53 was 20,617 dead and 103,284 wounded. Financial aid now totals $3.5 billion or 5.4 billion, depending on whether military assistance is called aid.

When Dr. Syngman Rhee was elected president in 1948, things were going fairly well. The U. S. military government had kept the nation on its feet and there was talk that perhaps South Korea could be a "Showcase of Democracy" contrasting with Communist North Korea.

War came in 1950 and almost everything the United States had invested vanished in a rubble heap extending across the devastated country.

Rhee turned tough, holding power with police strength. Apparently seeing no alternative, Washington policy makers stuck with him, pumping more money into the economy.

However, when students took to the streets in April 1960 charging Rhee was rigging elections, Washington announced they had "justifiable grievances."

That finished Rhee. He went into exile again and John M. Chang became premier.

A soft-spoken man dedicated to democracy, Chang wasn't tough enough for the job. South Koreans began battling in the streets but Chang wouldn't crack down.

Watching from military garrisons throughout the country, however, were young colonels and generals who were more than willing to crack down.

They struck May 16, 1961, seizing Seoul in a coup so secretely executed that even American field advisors didn't know it was coming.

Gen. Chang De-young, army chief of staff, was the front man. But it soon became clear that Gen. Chang Hee Park and Col. Kim Chong-pil were the new regime's master strategists. Chang was imprisoned in July 1961, charged with being a counter-revolutionary. He later fled to America in a U. S. Air Force plane.

Park personally assured President John F. Kennedy he would return power to civilians in the summer of 1963.

First, he said, the military must deal with what he called corrupt and inefficient politicians.

In late 1962, the junta split. Kim, then director of the powerful Central Intelligence Agency, was accused of attempting to grab power.

Park acknowledged his regime was surrounded by rumors of financial scandals.

Nevertheless, Park remained popular in the countryside and on Jan. 1 he lifted a ban on political activity. He permitted that he would be drafted as presidential candidate of the Democratic Republican Party, which Kim formed, and looked like a sure winner.

Civilian politicians, however, used their new political liberty, talking about alleged scandals and power struggles within the junta.

Kim went into temporary exile in February and Park announced he was withdrawing from politics.

On March 16, Park reversed course and declared that only four more years of military rule could save the nation from chaos.

He proposed a nationwide vote on the idea but his political opponents objected strongly, saying that since they and the press are muzzled any referendum would be sure to result in an overwhelming victory for the junta.

The politicians took their fight to the streets, kicking and shoving in scuffles with Park's police. At week's end, it appeared that in the streets the issue would be settled.

April A Floral Month For Redwood Empire

Floral afficionados start the month with the annual Apple Blossom Festival and Tour at Sebastopol, April 6 and 7. The 44-mile marked tour continues through Easter Week.

From the 8th through the 13th, San Francisco's Stockton Street stages its 18th annual Easter Flower Show. Toward the month's end, gorgeous rhododendrons make their debut in Union Square and Golden Gate Park. Their wild cousins bloom later on the Sonoma and Mendocino Coasts and along the Redwood Highway.

Two Empire beauty pageants revolve 'round a floral theme: "Miss Healdsburg" on April 5; "Miss Eureka," April 27. Flowers will deck the annual Homecoming Day at Pacific Union College in Angwin (Napa County) on the 4th, while tennis players will seek laurels at the 66th annual Bay Counties tourney in San Rafael, April 6-7.

On Easter Sunday (the 14th) sunrise services will be held from San Francisco's Mount Davidson to Grants Pass. Easter will mark the gala reopening of Golden Gate Park's refurbished Steinhardt Aquarium.

At the Cow Palace, the annual Junior Grand National Livestock Show runs April 6-10. And at Candlestick Park the Giants open their domestic pennant defense April 16-28 against the Colts, Cubs, Cards and Braves.

In the northern Redwood Empire, April events include the Upper Lake Firemen's Parade (13th), the Lake County Boat Show at Lakeport (18-21) and the Trinidad $1 Crab Feed at that Humboldt County fishing port (21st). Finally there's the 11th annual Marin Antique Show at Sausalito (25-28).

Timely Neon Signs Decorate Unfinished Reno Structure

But a 20-foot high cross of lights dominates the Reno skyline this Lenten season.

Before that it was a green shamrock. . . a heart . . .a Christmas tree—all composed of colored electric lights draped on each side of the top floor of the 15-story First National Bank of Nevada building, under construction.

The seasonal symbols in lights, more than 200 feet above street level, are visible at least 35 miles, says Jordan J. Crouch, the bank's senior vice president.

Crouch began thinking back in October the building should have some sort of lighting to make it more than just a black mass of steel.

Construction workers suggested installing a tree for the Christmas season.

The project picked up momentum in February when Mrs. Donald Bates, a Heart Fund official and wife of the Nevada Bank of Commerce president, suggested a heart display.

The shamrock was a natural for March.

"This town goes sort of nuts for St. Patrick's Day," Crouch said.

Each simple design costs $300 to $500 to arrange.

Bank officials are researching the possibility of continuing the display. Suggestions include MOM spelled out for Mother's Day in May and DAD for Father's Day in June.

The bank has received special thank you cards and hundreds of phone calls.

SERENITY
in Greebrae—3 spacious bedms., 2-plus baths. An impressive home on a large and wooded lot which has been beautifully and professionally landscaped. You can relax and enjoy real country atmosphere, but also be close to commute, shopping and other services. The house is expandable, too—on the lower floor, there is an additional room with partial bath that with small effort could become a teen-ager's bailiwick or a den for Dad. We recommend you see this charming property priced to sell at $34,500.

Who Knows?

Funny thing about used cars.

Once you decide what you want, what you'll pay and find that car, you've got to act fact.

Before somebody else does.

We can't order another one from the factory for you if the one you want is sold.

Fact is, we never know from day to day how many '61 Cadillacs, Model A's, '58 Chevys or even used VWs we'll have for sale.

One week we're loaded with factory-clean convertibles.

Next week, we many not have a single one traded in that's good enough to sell.

So if you're in the used car market, shop around. That's our list up there.

Pick out what you want to see and come see it.

But don't put it off till tomorrow—or the day after.

Chances are, somebody else has his eye on it, too. And may act a little faster.

Family Counsel Program Aired On April 7

Nicholas M. Suntzeff, executive director of the Family Service Agency of Marin County, will co-produce a series of 13 weekly one-hour radio programs on the American family starting April 7.

The programs will be broadcast over KXKX-FM, a new San Francisco station, and will be available on tape for rebroadcasting elsewhere, Suntzeff said. The "open-end" discussions will be conducted with guest experts in the field of family counseling.

The Family Service Agency, which now is located in the Hertzog building at 1005 A Street, San Rafael, will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday to study future development to meet increasing case needs.

Rafferty Talk Set Saturday At Dominican

Maxwell Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak in San Rafael Saturday on teacher education in California.

He will address the annual meeting of the California Assn. for Student Teachers at 10 a.m. in Angelico Hall at Dominican College. There will be a question and answer period after the talk.

The annual meeting of the association is being held at Dominican because Dr. Dorothy S. Blackmore, associate professor of education and coordinator of student teaching at the college, is president of the association.

More people speak Mandarin Chinese than any other language in the world; English is second.

Lions Will Perform 'Favela' For Students

A special performance of "Favela," the Corte Madera Lions Club show, is being put on for students at the Corte Madera Recreation Center at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

There will be soft drinks and other refreshments, announced producer Gigi Sill. After the show, lasting until about 9:30 p.m., there will be dancing to music furnished by "The Casuals."

Blankets Sought For Algerians

Three Marin County churches have asked donations of warm clothing and blankets to be given to the people in mountain areas of Algeria through Church World Service Organization.

The organization is attempting to collect 650,000 blankets in a nationwide drive.

Donations will be accepted by the Presbyterian Church of Santa Venetia, the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael and the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley. The donation deadline is Monday.

Braden Confirmation Delayed Until April 4

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A Senate Rules Committee vote on confirmation of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's reappointment of Thomas W. Braden to the State Board of Education has been delayed until April 4.

Chairman Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno), said the committee must await the return of Sen. Stephen P. Teale (D-Calaveras), from Los Angeles.

Stockton was originally called Tuleburg.

EASTER FASHION OPENING

The fresh, new and exciting mood of spring brings a sudden exhilaration to the Marin scene with flashes of color and design. Like magic, this new fresh-flower beauty is reflected everywhere in fashions for all the family. The image of fashion is one of femininity and all themes are simplicity personified and in this–lies elegance.

'Richest Strike' In California

FROM THE DeBRAY COLLECTION—

MRS. JOHN JANSHESKI models this DeBray design of Arabian pantaloons with matching blouse for an "at home" ensemble. The outfit in beige silk features French cuffs and pearl buttons.

In terms of fashion, sun, fun, color and distinctive styling have come to be synonymous with sportswear, swimming and gay dressups—from California. And spring 1963 heralds another fashion-wise California season.

CALIFORNIA POINTS up the "richest strike" in fashions in her fabulous fancies in fabric, clear true colors and imaginative themes.

For active sportswear—California favors the tunic and jumper; the very-short, fitted shorts or the svelte bermuda; Covered-up or sleeveless blouses have the Riviera look; long, slim pants ride low and Orient-inspired coat top is still popular.

SOPHISTICATED SWEAT shirts, one-piece playsuits, sailor middies, sarong fashions, Jamaica shorts, sari dresses, clam-diggers, and ensembled sport sets of three-to-four pieces (top, shirt, jacket, pants, or skirt), all are sure-fire hits from California.

Tennis dresses of all types; shifts; skimmers; skimmers and shifts; all emphasize the California look.

In causal, classic and dressy dresses — necklines go higher, wider and smoother, milady will be up to neck in high fashion with the bateau neckline, the "T-square" neckline and the wide strap square neckline — all dramatizing the shoulder lines and above.

THERE'S NO measure to the length for daytime or date-time frocks — dresses are mainly "slim-slim," or shirt-waist full.

A Glimpse Into World Of Top Model

Jane Graff Also Fills Roles As Wife, Mother Of Three

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Jane Graff, president of the San Francisco Professional Models Assn., took time out from her busy life to give us a glimpse into the world of one of the Bay Area's top fashion models.

In private life Jane is Mrs. Charles Russell Graff of Mill Valley. With the help of a live-in housekeeper she manages to fill the role of wife and mother of three children and participate in community groups like the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of Our Saviour.

The children are Cathryn, or Cappy, a sophomore at Tamalpais High School, who has also done professional modeling; Edward Charles, or Chad, in the second grade at Marin Terrace School, and 16-month-old Margaret.

JANE TAKES a down-to-earth approach to what most girls and women think of as one of the most glamorous jobs imaginable.

"The biggest part of modeling," she said, "is footwork—not on the runway, but in doing your contacting."

She has been doing modeling for 15 years and has definite ideas on what to do to stand the strain.

"MODELING FOR photographers," she said, "is a physical strain, and working in a show is an emotional strain."

Her secret of keeping in condition is strict adherence to a health-food diet and plenty of exercise. Often this is in the form of skiing or golfing, but lately she has added the famous Royal Canadian Air Force exercises which have been much publicized in popular periodicals.

She is not one of the fortunate few women who do not have to worry about weight. "I fight it all the time," she confessed, "but I believe proper food is important, especially a good breakfast."

But she is no martyr to her regime, for she and her entire family thoroughly enjoy their health-food diet.

IN THE world of fashion Jane believes that Paris will always be top. New York, she says, is high fashion, but she likes San Francisco best, "Because it is more natural."

"If in doubt—under-dress.

"IT'S EASY to be well dressed with all the money in the world—the trick is doing it on a budget. But it's important to buy things that will last—so price is second-

SIMPLICITY AND conservatism characterize the tastes of Mill Valley's fashion model. She believes, however, that in a few years almost every woman will wear some kind of eye liner. This simple hairdo is accomplished with two hair pieces.

ary. I never buy anything unless it ties in with an outfit—especially accessories, shoes, gloves, bag, perhaps a hat or two and some jewelry. Accessories are the most important part of an ensemble.

"I like simple, uncluttered lines in good or interesting fabrics. As for 'basic black,' I find it's too difficult to keep up. Gray or charcoal are easier for a working girl. Skirts should be of becoming length.

THE TALL, natural blonde also added some comments on makeup.

"Good grooming and cleanliness are taken for granted, of course," she went on. "One point I'd like to mention is that I believe in a few years almost every woman will be wearing some kind of eye liner. Eye shadow, I think, should be in the natural color of a shadow—brown or gray—not in color, and I think false eyelashes are wonderful if they are properly trimmed.

EXPLAINING things you may have wondered about, like the strange and seemingly awkward stance of models and their special kind of walk, Jane said, "the postures are stylized positions designed to show off the clothes.

Jane plans to continue her modeling indefinitely because, she says, "I love fashion."

LIKE MOTHER, LIKE daughter. Jane Graff has taught her older daughter Cathryn enough of the art so that she too has been able to do some professional modeling. So far, baby Margaret is interested only in the pictures. The Graffs are also parents of a son, Edward Charles, a student at Marin Terrace School.

Polka Dots Popping Out Bigger Than Ever

By GAY PAULEY

Take the startling oriental makeup one designer created for the fashion models in his show—their eyes took on the slant of a Siamese cat's.

Or, new ways of doing belts. Or, the way polka dots get a big hand from some designers. Or, the way the medium heel even for evening is headed for feminine acceptance.

THESE ARE SOME of the little items that stand out from 10 days of American designer showings in New York for out-of-town women's and fashion editors. The shows ended with four collections—those of Pope Fernandez, Jane Derby, Martier-Raymond and Luis Estevez.

Fernandez is a Cuban refugee who has been in business in New York less than two years. He ran a custom-order firm in Havana until the Castro regime took over. The clothes he showed were expensive combinations of lush fabric and rich color. But it was the eye makeup he created for the models which set everyone talking.

THE EYEBROWS WERE heavily penciled into a 45-degree slant toward the hairline. Beneath the brow ran a heavy white line, underscored by a wide slanted streak drawn in color—pink, purple, brown or orange. The same white line was repeated on the upper eyelid and eyeliner then outlined the eye itself. False eyelashes completed the picture. Fernandez said he got the idea for the makeup from the Kabuki dancers of Japan.

POLKA DOTS ARE spring's perennials; this season, they're bigger than ever. In size, that is. Mollie Parnis, for instance, showed polka dots in free form shapes ranging in size from silver dollars to the breakfast pancakers.

Other prints are just as magnified. Some of the exotic florals measure 12 to 15 to 18 inches across. Plaids also are outsize, with the two-inch block not at all unusual.

THE SHIRT BLOUSE, with French cuffs, shows in numerous collections, its severity softened by a bow at the neckline. It frequently is combined with vests, another steal from the men.

The men's smoking jacket has been copied in at home glamour togs, but with the jacket stretched on down to sweep the floor. The same goes for the shirt itself, stretched to a slim floor length evening dress by Rudi Gernereich, a Californian who brought his collection to New York for a weekend preview.

The shirt was modified into wool tunic tops for slim daytime skirts in the collection by Martier-Raymond.

LOOK ALSO FOR:

—The sweater to be a part of the summer scene, apparently to ward off air conditioner chill. Mrs. Derby put sweater tops on a whole group of evening clothes. One in particular was a sleeveless, hip-length sweater in crocheted wool pulled over a skinny, mauve crepe formal. The sweater could be removed by unbuttoning at the shoulder.

—CONTINUATION OF deep plunging neckline for evening at some firms, although there is a tendency toward coverup these days. Luis Estevez slashes some necklines into U-shapes dipping to the waistline in his collection. He also squared-off necklines, deep V-shapes, and peekaboo slits. (UPI)

THE LINEN LOOK

Very Deep Necklines Offerings From Paris

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI)—Marc Bohan, chief designer for the House of Dior, showed fashions that put the emphasis on plunging necklines and knee-length skirts.

In his elegant gray-and-white salons—Bohan announced.

This spring, he said will bring "very deep necklines, straight line skirts, a ragamuffin look in suits, waists marked by small belts and a lengthening look to make the body look longer and the legs important."

Bohan said hemlines are the same, with straight skirts just covering the knees.

Designers Jacques Heim, Coco Chanel and Pierre Cardin also promised "completely different" fashions for this spring.

In addition to a more-emphasized bust, noticeable changes in the silhouette include wider shoulders and narrower skirts.

Less bouffant hair, wider shoulders, suit sleeves to the wrist, collar, waist natural or slightly lifted and barely fitted, suit jacket to the waist or slightly below, straight skirts covering the knees, flesh colored stockings and shoes with heels no higher than 1¾ inches.

In fabrics, most of the fashion houses appeared to have stocked up on prints. Heim showed "spectacular" prints. Suit blouses, reported several designers, are of printed chiffon with jacket linings to match.

Predictions were that the most popular color will be white. Cristobal Balenciaga mentioned "white and pale yellow."

Swim Sweater Takes Chill Off

It won't be too long before swimming weather is here, and it will be fun this year to choose a new swimsuit from 1963's variety of silhouettes and fabrics.

There are several basic styles (and many variations on them) which seem to have prime significance for summer '63.

THE SWIM BLOUSE — this style just hints at fit and has a blouson interest at the hipline. The long torso look is a one piece suit with a two-piece look. A belt and a change of color at the hipline simulate hip-hugger shorts. This is a totally new look in swim knits.

And, now there are "swim sweaters" — these fashions have details that highlight the Empire silhouette. The sweater theme crops up with an international look thanks to patterns and novelty stitches used in these knits. This style appears in both maillot and 2-piece styles.

NEW SWIMSHORTS achieve the little boy effect. This young, practical and becoming silhouette is shown in variety of fabrics from denims and madras to dressier materials. The news here is the new longer leg.

The look of the swimpair is slated for exciting news for '63 with the addition of distinctive fashion details. This is most important bathing suit silhouette for the season. The new covered-up look in tops is creating a great deal of fashion excitement.

Last, but not least, is the look of the daring bikini. — The barest minimum of swim mates is usually featured under a beach cover-up. A girlish yet provocative look for the beach is gaining in popularity throughout the United States.

ULTRA - SOPHISTICATED wim-suits in glamour fabrics such as nylon velvet, silk matte jersey, lastex and spandex are shown in black primarily.

Newsworthy details in these suits are the low evening backs, panels and draping, all pointing to the sleek and devastating look in swimsuits. One swimsuit firm has labeled these suits the "Night Club Sheaths". Also, in this group, suits in vinyl patent leather illustrate the "wet look".

COLORS RANGE from soft, tender tones to vibrant colors. Prints vary in concept from toned-down pastels to bright combinations of colors in florals, polka dots and persian type prints.

SWINGING SHIFT

Travel poster seaside scene transferred directly from the shores of St. Tropez to Marin is this summer shift through the art of individual silk screening by hand. Perfect for waterfront or poolside. Available at Mayfair, San Rafael.

BORDER INCIDENTS

Fabrics Bear Imprint Of Middle East

The India influence is apparent in the new spring prints as well as in fabric textures. Domestic fabrics inspired by the beautiful Indian saris are interpreted in cotton border designs, intricate paisley prints that once adorned sari bandings, and through the subtle use of metallic yarns. From Indonesia . . . artistic dendering of hand-blocked batik and semi-geometrical motifs are used in intricate arrangements; from the Orient come medallions and exotic flat prints.

Polka dots of all sizes have returned to fashion. Classic dots from aspirin size to silver dollar sizes; extreme circles; bull's-eye patterns; blotch effects and overlapping abstract types are all noted.

COSTUME Look Makes Entry

BEAUTIFULLY UNDERSTATED

The latest by Lanz is a rayon-cotton-silk tweed figure skimmer that does wonders for the girl who wears it. It slides through the season in a flattering shade of beige with neat flat bow at the waist and top stitching. In sizes 7 to 15 at the Ross Valley Shop, Kentfield.

Tops and terrific for any fashion agenda are the countless inviting combinations of color and parts to spell out the c-o-s-t-u-m-e.

Smart basic dresses, interesting and exciting by themselves are often enhanced this season by coats, capes, and jackets with a cape-effect. At smart late-day and evening gatherings these ensembles are destined to make a grand entrance.

TWO-PIECE ENSEMBLES of overblouse and skirt are often topped with casual cardigan jackets, lined and unlined. Many of these take printed tops that coordinate with the solid colors of jacket and skirt.

SUCH DOUBLE LIFE ensembles as the dress with ⅞'s coat, or a tunic jacket are ideal for glamour settings too and are big news this spring.

Dress and sweater duos — from the most simply stated classic for the office, for the vacation trip or Sunday excursion — look to their more dressy and sophisticated sisters in raw silks over oversilks, silk linens and other simple but elegant fabrics.

THE ENSEMBLES are exceptionally exciting this year because this fashion group provides endless opportunity for color mating, mixing or coordinating.

Worth talking about are the two-and-three part fashions — usually starting with a handsomely-shaped dress of relaxed lines that can "go it alone" anywhere and everywhere in smart style.

Add to this a long coat dramatized by a matched-to-the-dress lining, a demi-fit jacket, a bolero or a sweater and the dress becomes double important in any setting.

MORE AND MORE evidence of the ensemble theme runs throughout the sportswear scene.

There's no limit to the many, many harmonious groupings that are made up for spectator and active sports doings . . . three-piece outfits with vest and pants or skirt plus blouse; one-or-two piece playsuits with overskirt; blouse and short sets; coordinates for mixing and matching in sets of shorts, pants, skirts; overblouses, shifts and skimmers, vests, jumpers, blouses, T-tops and others.

These ensemble by color, by trim, by print or by fabric — but no matter how they go together, they add up for smart fun-time fashion.

HANDKNIT AND HANDSOME

This Irish cardigan has the handsome mark of the handknit that is preferred by discerning men and women. Both cardigan and pullover styles are available at Mackes' Sweaters in Sausalito.

The Little Girl Look In Shoes Leaves Big Fashion Footprints

'SIDE SHOW'

A light, sabot strap buttons at the point of very special interest in this gleaming party pump . . . the very new, very neat openwork side. Available in black or white patent leather, it's a young interpretation of the latest grown-up fashion, with Stride Rite growing-up fit to match. Available at McKenzie's Children's Bootery, San Rafael.

Little girls' leather footwear makes big fashion footprints this spring.

Girls' shoes are classic in styling, softer in construction and lighter on the foot — depending on the new supple, sturdy leathers for their grace and comfort. Elaborate bows and the more pointed toes have been abandoned. Smooth, brushed, grained and patent leather textures underscore simple lines.

THE "LITTLE GIRL" look of shoes is enhanced by wall-like sides, oval silhouettes and vamp treatments that underscore the new, popular square toe. Dainty is the word for inserts of contrasting leathers on the vamp, for small cutouts and pearly ornament. Lightweight leather soles are slim and trim, giving full support to growing feet without unnecessary, tiring weight. Heels are lower this year.

THAT "OPENED UP" feeling of mother's shoes is also seen in many children's styles. Open sides, vamp cutouts and T-strap sandals are seen in play, school and party shoes. Both ankle straps and swivel straps are again growing in popularity — particularly in dress shoes. The wide sabot strap is replacing the bow on even the dressiest of shoes. For play-time, barefoot sandals with buckle straps are always a welcome change.

FABRICS FOR Spring Sewing

THE NIMBLE THIMBLE SHOP

21 E. BLITHEDALE MILL VALLEY

Salty Styles Sail 'In'

America's colorful West and the clean blues of seashore and mountains combine to give inspiration to three major themes in new sportswear for Spring.

UNDER THE WESTERN influence come all the cowboy-type things like sport shirts in calico prints or big flashy checks and trousers in denim and combray. Rivets, contrasting stitching and novelty patterns are seen in profusion in this brand new trend.

The nautical look, introduced last season, has settled into the scene solidly this Spring, with blue in every hue evidenced widely. Sparkling navy blue joins wtih a range of pastels to offset to perfection a new range of silvery "pewter" grays. They also look clean and bright with white.

EVEN THE BELL bottom sailor trousers of the Twenties get into the nautical act. Salty crew-neck and boat-neck knit shirts go with the white ducks — and team well with walk shorts which are a must practically everywhere.

The sportswear picture which often transplants the ski look to sumer fun, is further filled in by the trend to coordinates in smart weekendwear. Sports jackets, slacks and walk shorts are often from the same bolt of cloth. The patterns and solids they go with are coordinated in texture, and sometimes have trimming in the opposite

NOT ONLY ARE THE colors easier on the eye because of this ensemble planning, but there are some inspired new shades to add to familiar favorites. One major color theme newly introduced is "banana," a handsome soft yellow that teams well with browns and grays. And there are rusts and tans that do nicely with olives.

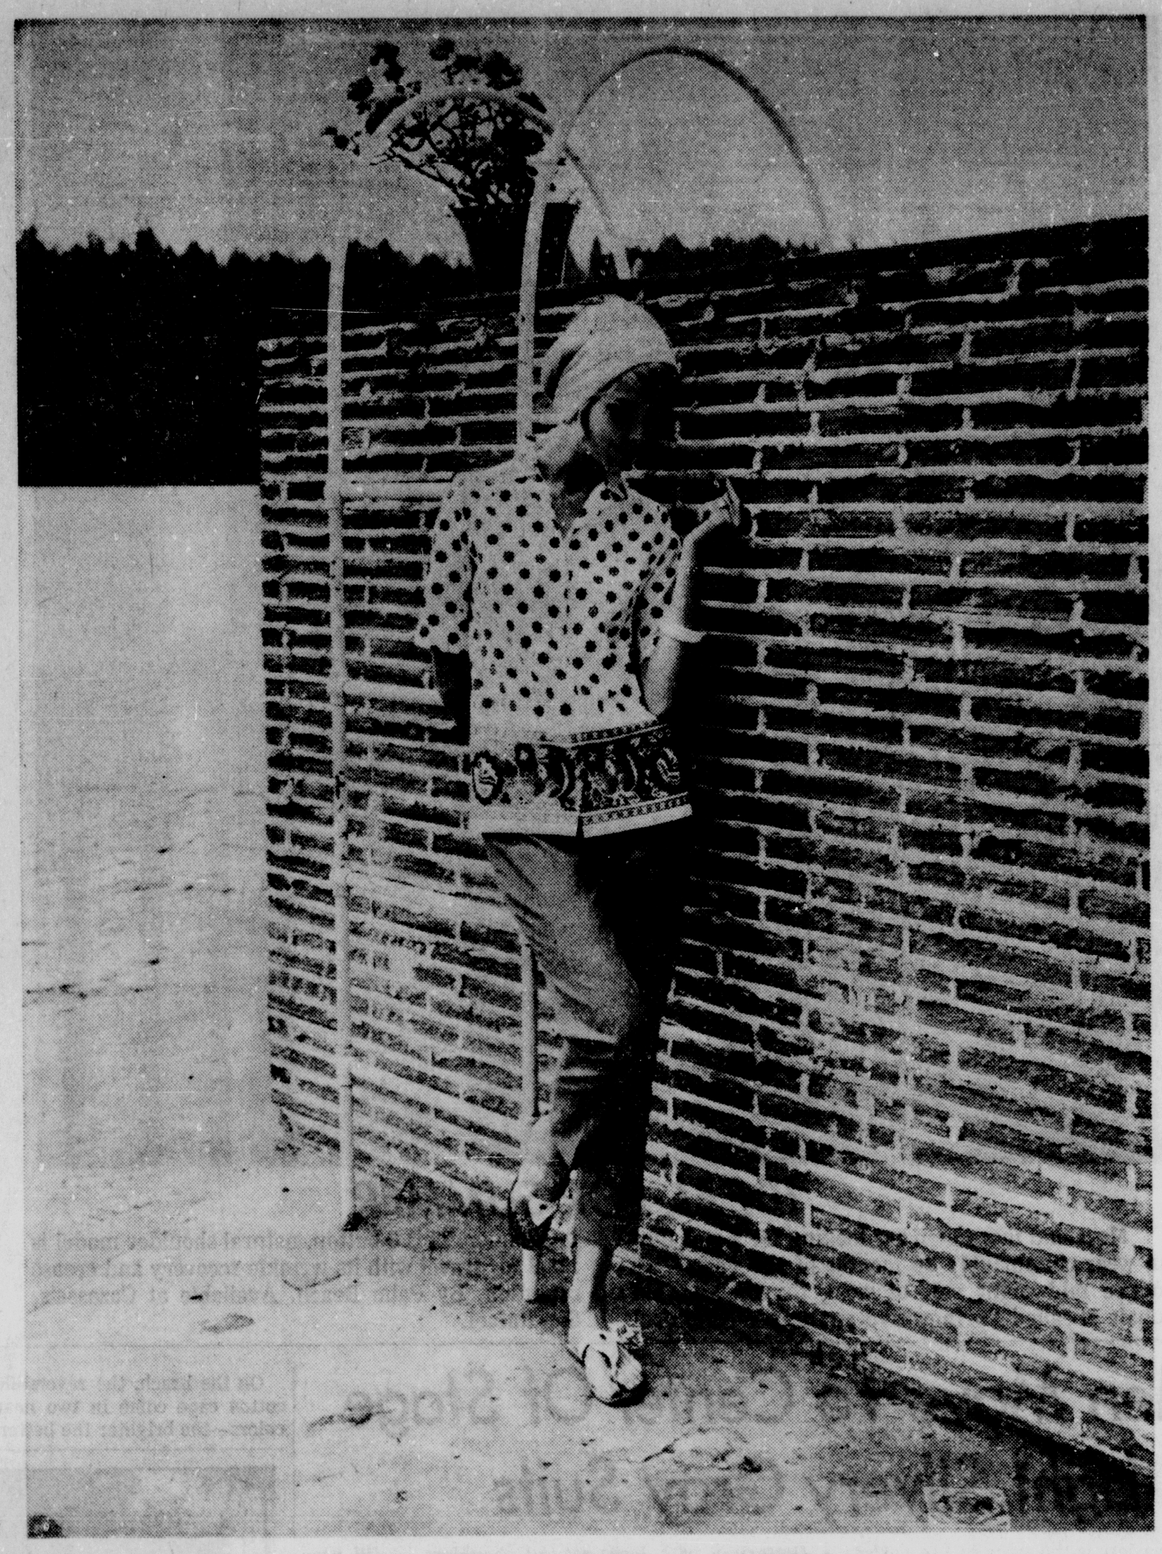
HAND - KNIT SWEATERS and hand - knit - type sweaters are popularly seen everywhere. Cables and a score of novelty stitches are widely evident, as well as the ski-type argyle patterns—all, of course, light in weight for the warmer days ahead. Spring sportswear has even borrowed parka hoods from the ski slopes, to go with sailing costumes.

Pleatless and single - pleat slacks are sharing honors this season — in flannels, gabardines and bengalines. Wash-wear cottons may be expected to be worn with the first warm week.

THERE IS NOTHING to beat the current popularity of Bermuda walk shorts in Madras — that muted melange of colors that actually improves in looks with washing. Plaids and checks, and stripes and solids also come in for plenty of attention.

Not least in the fresh new wardrobe for springtime sports occasions is any of the big range of straw casual hats. Watch for them in small pert shapes or wide-brimmed sombreros. Sports caps, in cloth or leather. still have their avid followers — especially among golfers, sailors and the sports-car set.

ALL IN ALL, the big word in sportswear for spring is variety. Old favorites remain and are holding their own — while there is much that is new to add to the scene.



SEA STAR FOR MARIN

Made to order for the Marin way of life are these separates of the Sea Star Shirt teamed with sailcloth Southamptons by White Stag. The shirt of combed cotton is accented by a striking border print—in red or navy—with white with the slacks in turquoise, navy, white or red. Shirt in sizes 10 to 16; pants in 10 to 18, at Kaufman's of San Anselmo.

Let's Go Navy

Shock-Absorbers

Fashion is adapting the shock absorber to sheer seamless stockings. The stockings with the shock absorbing qualities have action panels that absorb the strain on the nylon as the knee is flexed or bent. The manufacturer says lycra fiber in the panel allows it to expand vertically with the bend and helps it to return neatly to place when the leg is straightened.

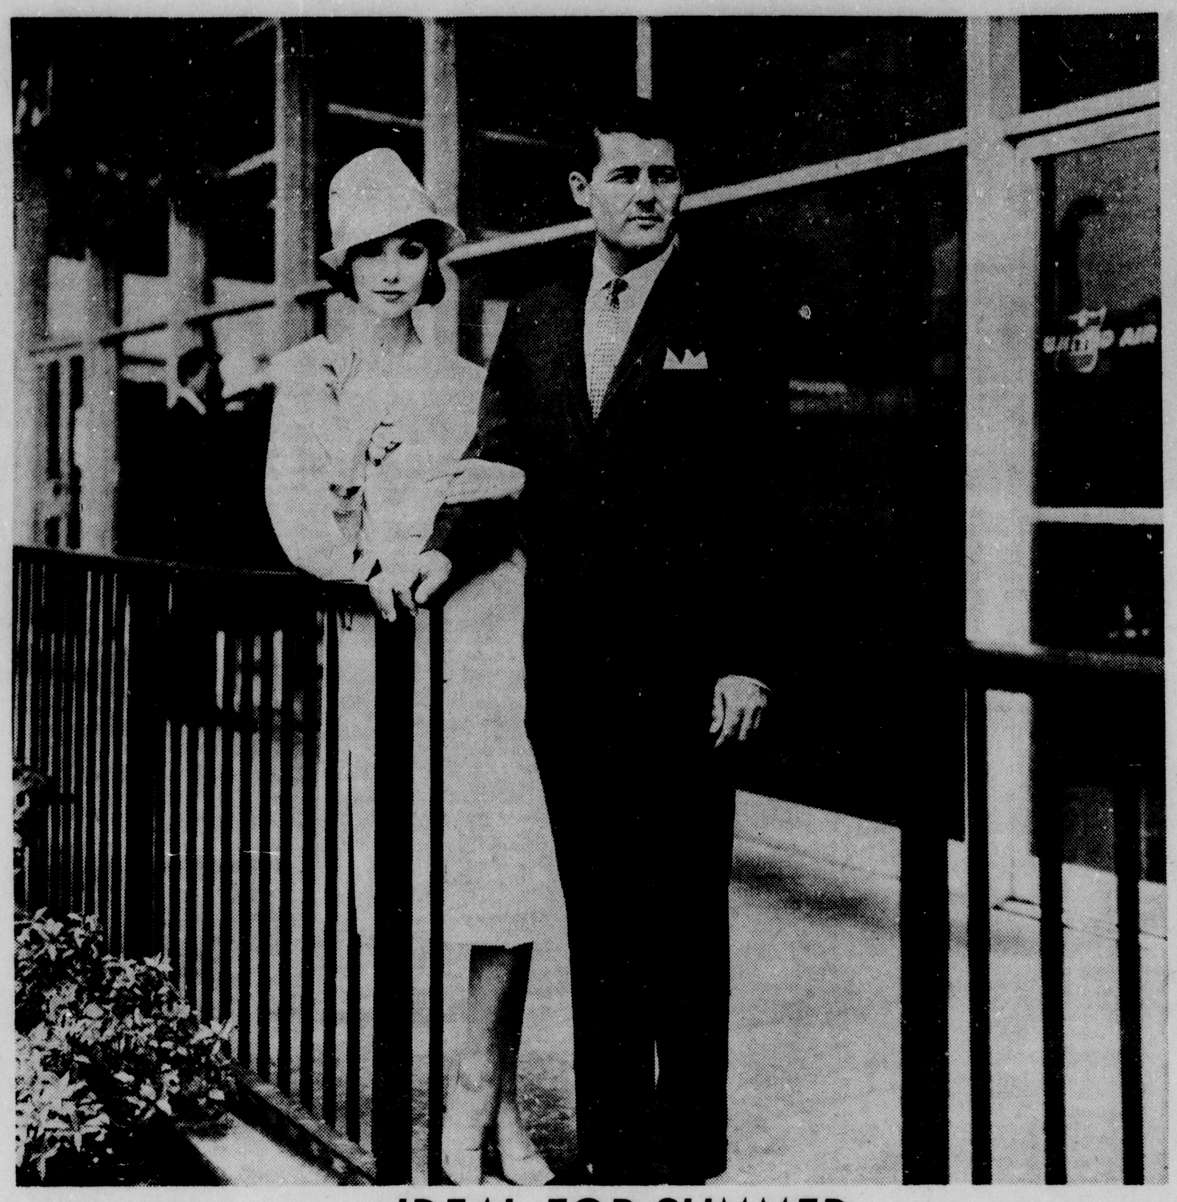
FIRST-RATE STYLE

Young men all look to The Heritage Shop at Schwartz, Inc. in San Rafael for style leadership. A first-rate group of young men's suits and sports togs—slacks, sweaters, jackets, dress and sport shirts are featured.



IDEAL FOR SUMMER

More and more men are looking for a suit they can wear comfortably 10 months of the year. This 9-ounce midweight suit of wool, dacron and kid mohair is called Springweave and is perfectly cool in summer. This 3-button, natural shoulder model is ideal for travel with its wrinkle recovery and crease retention. By Palm Beach. Available at Cazassa's, San Rafael.

Lightweight Fabrics Are Newsworthy

Spring's daytime dresses make much of the natural line, easy and unadorned. There are skimmer-like silhouettes with a new ease or blouson silhouettes to give the feeling of slight top bulk.

The coat dress, perennial favorite, flows gently to a slightly flared skirt. Skirt lines may vary to suit the wearer and the fluid skirt or skirt with floating lines is very new.

Arnel jersey, dacron whipped cream, drip dry and sheer cottons, sharkskins, the silk look, linens and rough-thread fabrics are featured for daytime with an infinite number of blends which also concentrate on the textured look. Even daytime dresses make much of prints and fashions for after-dark are frankly elegant.

The after-dark dress in elegant prints, in rich hued sheers, in fine crepes and silks are the season's favorites but for gala occasions the dresses remain simple in silhouette but go all out for fabulous fabrics.

Formal evenings gowns are in rich colors, soft-touch fabrics and often accompanied by matching coats or contrasting that repeats the dress silhouette.

Cowboy Look

Sportswear and casual wear points up an extension of the Americana theme with emphasis on the frontier cowboy. Bandanna printed squares, both all-over or spaced on ticking stripes are highlighted. Roosters and sunflowers also decorate ticking grounds in border designs. Calico prints, folk art motifs, and hearts and flowers with a country flavor are all popular in both children's and grown-ups' fashions.

On the beach, the reversible cotton cape come in two near colors—the brighter the better.

The Yankees Are Coming On British Feet

Substantial British - influenced suits and sports coats take more robust-looking brogues. Natural shoulder suits, most popular with American men, find style companions in the uncluttered look and lightweight leathers of newly designed dress slip-ons, moccasins and bluchers. For casual wear, the country suit or bold plaid jacket stands on a fashion base of brushed leather slip-on or grained leather chukka.

FOR THE MAN who likes to stand in the forefront of fashion, the "more shoe" look is in step with the British influence. In town, the smooth or grained leather brogue looks moderately fuller. In suburb or country, the half-boot in brushed leather is more in keeping with the picture.

Today's leathers are lighter afoot, yet still give the support and wear of the traditional brogue. A thin, smooth inner lining of leather keeps friction at a minimum inside the shoe, and your feet stay cool and dry.

THE SLIP-ON, long popular with the comfort-loving males, moves up a notch in the footear fashion column. In smooth wear fashion column. In smooth and grained leathers, the slip-on is available for business or dress shoes.

Men Move To Center Of Stage In Light Silvery Gray Suits

If variety is the spice of life, then the men's apparel picture for spring is alive with the greatest diversification in colors and styles in many a season.

Dark tones, including blacks, near blacks and deep tones of blue and brown have moved from the style stage center for the new season.

IN SUITS THE greatest upsurge is in shades of gray — light silvery grays predominate in plain smooth fabrics, fine checks, muted glen plaids and nailhead patterns. Dark shades will not disappear — it simply means some cool, light and bright treatments are now added.

The new wide range in styling is reflected in the popularity of two-button suits and one-button styles, both of which are giving the three-button models competition. The single-button style with tailored shoulders, slightly fitted waist and restrained tailoring offers a flattering trim look and will be the choice of many.

SUIT FABRICS LIKEWISE are in great variety. At one end of the scales for dressy occasions are dozens of silks and silk blends — lustrous and luxurious all the way through. These are balanced by pure worsteds and many different polyester-worsted blends.

In warm weather washable cottons and cotton blends will abound, together with the tropical worsteds and woolens.

TOPCOATS RUN the same exciting gamut in colors, with the addition of camel and tan shades. As in suits, smooth sharkskins, glen plaids, houndstooth and nailhead patterns are favored. The spring topcoat gets a dressier look, too, because it is often made of lightweight suiting material, and will consequently be worn later in spring and earlier in fall.

The slim, elegant look is best noted in flyfront chesterfield models and the topcoat with natural shoulders is still very popular. One such treatment with tweed on one side and poplin on the other makes a most practical coat for travel, for campus wear and for sheer utility in every man's wardrobe.

WATERPROOF FINISHES make many a topcoat acceptable in all but the heaviest downpour, while regular raincoats also boast new, high-efficiency water-proofing treatments. Plastic undercoating on some of the new fabrics achieves this effect while permitting the material to "breathe". Also be on the lookout for cotton and blended fabrics laminated to polyuethane foam—the choice of many for sports and country wear.

IN SHIRTS, the British are getting credit for the bold stripe effects now making a play for dress wear along with the ever popular white and solid pastels.

Natural Shoulder, Narrow Cut Jacket Will Suit The Boys

Spring has outdone itself in bringing new togs for boys and they're set for a bright season ahead.

New ideas in boys' wear are plentiful and it promises to be an eye-catching season splashed with color.

IMPORTANT IN the showing of boys' suits are the same style factors that mark men's wear as new-for-spring. Lines are slim, smooth with the three-button model a big favorite. The natural-shoulder look is much in evidence in the narrow cut jackets with vanishing lapels and back vent. Versatile all-weather coats, classic tweeds and flannels are important clues to the dressed-up look for boys.

Boys' sportswear is the big stand-out in newsmaking male attire. There's a definite nautical and casual look to sport shirts and a selection of colors and styles to please every boy.

THE ORIENTAL INFLUENCE is in evidence in the mandarin-collared shirts styled in dramatic bright or bold color. Midcalf or beachcomber pants, topped with a loose shirt, are also newcomers for leisure wear.

For more rugged activities coordinated sports outfits in colorful denim are still a Number One favorite. These are available in slacks, shorts, rib knit trimmed jackets and color-matched shirts.

THE YOUNGEST OF the males in spring's fashion circles are not forgotten in the new-season showings of dress and play wear.

For the active lives these lads lead, rough and rugged fabrics set the pace in spring-summer in everything from dress-up suits to ultra-casual coordinates.

Denim and flax are the season's stars, and along with the real stuff there is a host of blended and synthetic look-alikes.

DUCK, HOMESPUN and other nubby, slubby cottons also figure. Patterned fabrics are bold and beautiful, and here Madras and batik colors and patterns are standouts. Seersucker, gingham and ticking are used as accents for larger sizes; go by themselves for infants' and toddler outfits.

Beige and blue are favorite colors, both alone and in combination. Banana and olive, stolen from men's wear is in for a big promotional push, and gray, especially in faded tones, assumes new importance.

SOME ELEGANT almost-neutrals, like pewter and mocha, look strong, along with murky wine, green and brown tones picked up from Madras and batik colorings. Littlest boys will be treated to the usual pastel fare.

ETON AND RUGBY suits go on and on in their usual styling, only occasionally varied by a well-placed half or three-quarter belt. More interesting fashion shows up on the sportswear scene, where the belting theme has sparkplugged some lively hooded, pocketed, waterproofed jackets and different lengths in pants.

ON THE BEACH, the news for boys will be in longer-leg stretch swim trunks and terry-lined cabana sets that are nicely little-boy-looking.

Zip-front coveralls and very-high-rise overalls with workman's pockets and buckets are favorites for play.

TRADITIONAL STYLING

This sportcoat in a medium-tone shadow plaid with a double-line overplaid is featured in three-button traditional styling this spring. The dark gray and blue pattern is over a background of medium gray. Available at the Marcus Shop for Men and Boys, San Rafael.

The Words Of Fashion Are Soft—Relaxed—And Simple

From the top of the head to the tip of the toes, the words of fashion are "soft, relaxed and simple".

The image of fashion is one of femininity — in spite of the fact that frills, fuss, flourishes and ruffles are at a minimum.

STARKLY SIMPLE dresses are referred to as "pure dresses"—very restrained and ideal for accessorizing. There's the shift dress, the sweater dress and the skimmer. Sheaths, too, have an altogether different look in the season's new soft handling.

All these themes are simplicity personified, and in this — lies their elegance.

Fashion has many ways of doing softness—it's in blousing, in bias cuts for bodices and skirts, subtle gathers and restrained skirt fullness. Equally important are the soft spring fabrics that put fashions closer to the body for the free and easy look.

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT new silhouettes is the pullover top that will be seen on many suits as well as on dresses and costumes.

The same general silhouette is carried out in the long, back or front-buttoned overblouse, in belted tunic styles and in nautically inspired middies.

Dresses for daytime and evening too, are often so simply styled that this season's fashions are shrinking the barriers between dress and sportswear stylings.

RAW AND ROUGH silks such as tussah and silk linen, twills and shauntungs and suitings, and many rough-threat fabrics like jute, flax and burlap, all shape up significantly in this feminine mood.

Soft too, are the feminine looks of the shirt dress types in fine cottons, blends of all types, airy voiles, lawn, chambray, broadcloth and seersucker.

IN CASUAL DRESSES, as well as in sportswear, madras is revived in new darker colorings.

For evening wear, the long dress continues to be favored, and will be seen in best-dressed circles in chiffons, georgettes, embroidered organides and sheerest of cottons.

The covered-up look of a high neckline scoots down to a deep V in back . . . has tiny sleeves, or takes a stole cover up.

FLORALS AND OTHER exciting prints are cued for evening and will be whirling on the spring scene.

For after-five, short evening dresses will continue to be significant, and they will have all the fashion, detail, color and excitement of the season's best.

From six to sweet sixteen and from there, on and on — femmes of all ages find that a "sweater wardrobe' is a must all year long.

There are dozens and dozens of new variations on classic sweater themes and they're all exciting.

FOR EXAMPLE:

The "spare" look of sleek woolknit sweaters and tunics have trim, lean, uncluttered lines. Cropped little cardigans and pullovers top neat flared skirts.

Bubble - shaping comes in long seat-curving pullovers with bow-gathered fronts and in drawstring pullovers for leisure, sports and after active games.

T-square necks with zippered plackets gain in popularity

Low hem-bands and low-flung pockets . . . twin V-tails and fishtails, bulkies galore . . . long, short and middling, and don't forget the dividend sweaters with hoods, dickies or companion vests.

Knits Have Lacy Trims, Open Stitches

Imported knits are once again very much in the spring fashion picture—Austrian and Belgian entries feature lace-like, open work stitches for summer effect, and novelty knits that resemble straw-braiding.

Trims include crochet edging, embroidery and appliques.

These also favor permanent plisse skirts, flared skirts, three-piece suits, and cape-jackets. Colors are pale, with blues and yellows, pinks and peach and other novelties used in combination.

Italian knits, follow clean, uncluttered lines; feature elegantly coordinated two and three-piece outfits.

Leather Moccasins Put Dad, Lad On Equal Footing

In footwear fashions, boys and their dads are on a man-to-man footing this spring, with both choosing supple, comfortable leather moccasins as their favorite dress shoes. Set on a medium weight leather sole that flexes easily yet provides full support for the huskiest lad, the new leather moccasin is found in slip-ons, ties and, occasionally, in the strap-and-buckle shoe.

FOR SCHOOL wear, the moccasin shares honors with the plain toe blucher and wingtip oxfords—both in modified tapered silhouettes that look smart but offer full room for five big, healthy toes. Black—in smooth and deeply grained leathers—is the leading masculine color, with deep browns, tans and olives strong contenders.

In the springtime, a boy's feet turn to the playground, and shoes for casual wear lean heavily toward the brushed and grained leathers. Smooth finishes are frequently seen in pliable glove leathers.

SLIP-ON MOCS, tie oxfords and the chukka or half boot, on a rugged leather sole, are all worn for after school play, Boy Scout activities and backyard horsing about. As flexible as sneakers, leather play shoes offer more foot support and protection on any surface than canvas-and-rubber sneakers.

This year, for the first time, you may find labels on your child's new shoes. Read them to be sure his shoe is all-leather. If they're not, the government requires that the maker identify all imitations. A quality child's shoe should have uppers, soles and linings of leather.

RENAISSANCE COIFFURE

A Renaissance coiffure for spring from the Paris Salon of Elizabeth Arden. Hair at the top of the head is swirled into the graceful convolutions of a giant flower. Over the brow the hair sweeps down obliquely and turns up in a soft roll at one side. A black chiffon rose holds it there.

World Influences Seen In Easter Fashions In Marin

Spring's a-coming and so is Easter, and everything — but everything — in coats and suits — seems to be new in fashion feeling. There's a certain unconventional, perhaps continental feel to these fashions.

With important inspiration borrowed from the Italian, the French, the Oriental influences, in fact, the world — new lines and detailings come to the fore with a definite elegant approach.

First — there's never been such an exciting variety of fascinating fabric. New blends, new color combinations and new treatments for old-standby fabrics create this fabric furore.

COATS . . . tunic length or full-length, the slim straight line is important, particularly with low, at-the-hip detailing or back belt . . . fitted coats look newest in slimmed versions with modified flared, and long torso, low fullness . . semi-fitted coats with box styling and the classic chesterfield all tell the long torso story . . . flared coats are news when the fullness starts from a high. back line with straight front— or flares smoothly into the A-line.

ALL NEW suit and coat fashions wear a cool, uncluttered look. The important grace notes appear in flat collars, low cut necklines, scarved or cardigan necklines — and in sleeves that roll-up, push-up or are simply cut shorter!

IN SILHOUETTE, suits — whether wool, worsted, silk, blended or beautifully knit — are neat, pared - down and youthful looking. Every line is controlled, and tailored to hold its shape.

Jackets vary in length from top of the hips to the three-quarter and seven-eighth walking lengths. No matter what length, they gently skim the body yet give vital definition to the bosom and waistline.

SLEEVES ON suits generally return to a narrower, and longer length, while set-in sleeves, and neat necklines help heighten the lean, relaxed look.

Braid, bindings and contrast "outlines" continue to win fashion plaudits as the "Chanel Look" appears and reappears in every major suit collection.

Suits often wear an easy princess cut with raised bustline and higher waistline. The back is usually rounded while the front looks concave. Underbosom seams or flap pockets and buttons are placed just above the natural waistline to enhance this look.

CURVED SEAMS appear everywhere. Skirts are most often A-line or slightly flared. Collars, when not small and notched, are often flatteringly scarved.

Suit skirts have trouser-type pockets, panel fronts and are newly-eased and gored.

NAVY AND WHITE

The linen-type nubby news in spring fashion is this two-piece ensemble piped in navy blue. Montgomery Wards, in the Corte Madera Shopping Center features this outfit in its collection of spring fashions.

Underlying Smooth Silhouette Latest In Foundation Stylings

Underlying the soft, smooth silhouettes of spring are a host of soft, supple foundations that underscore the mobile shapes that top them.

New foundations do not put any particular emphasis on the bust, the waist or the hips. Although the silhouette is not continuous or unbroken, the girdles and bras for spring do outline the natural shape in soft perspective.

GENTLY-SHAPED, soft bras that fit high and are understated; elongated girdles that elevate the waistline; smooth-fitting, all-in-ones and longer-legged girdles are all important undercover agents to flatter the sweater dress, the boy-look styles and the soft lines of the new silhouettes.

Low backs, low fronts, wide-set shoulders and deep-V's of day and evening fashions demand and get just the right lacy, lithe bras for comfort and smartness.

Many contour bras are now padded with new fiberfill instead of foam rubber. This too is in line with the softer spring themes.

Girdles with high curving waists and long, long legs have their opposites in little bare briefs that are specially styled for "stop-short" sportswear.

Zipper and pull-on models alike are breezeweight; some in knit spandex fibers and others with elastic mesh insets to permit mobility and flattery.

LACE AND COLOR are everywhere. Lacy touches and frills bead girdle panels and legs, while lace adds luxury to bras, too. Soft blues, golds, pinks, yellows and citrus tones are being shown in all foundations. They are easily coordinated with full slips, half slips and panties of all types.

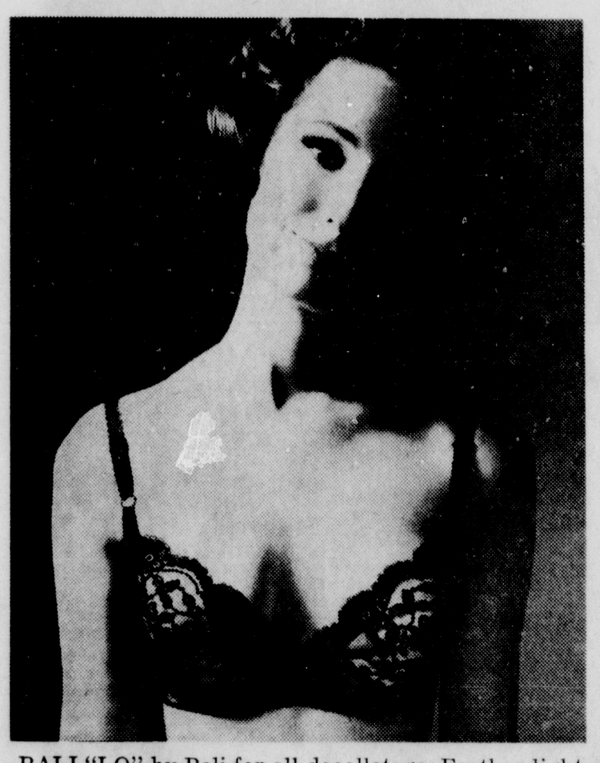
Spring's shape-up is light, bright and lovely; its keyword is "soft" — its total effect — a lovlier you.



BALI-"LO" by Bali for all decolletage. Feather-light wiring holds the deep plunge of delicate nylon lace. A weightless stretch of miracle Lycra Spandex adds the special virtues of lighter, stronger, softer and longer wear. B, C, and D cups in white or black. At Munter's, San Rafael.

French 'Have Word For It'— The 'Chemise'

In the Twenties, they called them "Teddies" or "Shimmies," but the French do have a word for it and it's the chemise.

But over here, the chemise is new to most. It's a lovely lingerie item — styled like a camisole and panty, all-in-one.

There are brief chemises to sleep in — some have panty bottoms and others — a buttoned crotch.

For daytime these smoothies may or may not be worn over a bra—depending on the figure and what's topping the chemise.

New Watches Blaze Forth With Heirloom Elegance

THIS NEW NOTE of variety in watches poses some potent gift ideas for the man who finds the favorite woman in his life a mystery.

Watches for daytime or business wear look like fine jewelry with exquisite new shapes and matching gold bracelets. For her business, busy homemaking or sports hours, there are watches especially designed to withstand moisture, shock and dust, and in shapes and with bands to coordinate with any costume.

ACCUTRON "214" electronic timepiece doesn't tick, it hums—guaranteed 99.9977% accurate . . . guaranteed not to gain or lose more than one minute a month (average of 2 seconds daily). Only 12 moving parts . . . compared to 26 in a typical self winding watch. Twenty-two railroads have adopted Bulova Accutron as their official timepieces. See it at McDonald's Jewelry Store, Novato.

What's Underneath Counts As Much As What's On The Top

There's more to the spring fashion picture than meets the eye. This year, it's what's underneath that counts as much as what's on top.

And what's underneath is glamorous, frilly lingerie — bras, girdles, pettipants and slips—in all colors of the rainbow. Bright reds, blues, greens and oranges, in solids and patterns, are taking their places next to the standard whites and pale pinks and blues of lingerie wardrobes.

VARIETY IN color and style is so extensive you can choose a complete, fancy set of lingerie to match each of your favorite outfits. Or, if the budget's a bit tight, select one extra-special set of these fancy new underthings to wear under your new spring outfit.

The more conservative woman might prefer a set of the new coordinated "wear-with-everything" lingerie. These underthings are in more muted colors, often pastels, with just a touch of another color, perhaps an appliqued butterfly or an attached rosette.

NO MATTER WHAT type of lingerie you choose, you can help to retain its fresh new look by proper laundering after every wearing. You can "hand-launder" lingerie automatically in modern home laundry equipment.

USE A LIGHT-DUTY detergent and the "Delicate Fabric" setting of your washer. (Or, if your washer is not so marked, use warm or cold water and gentle agitation.) Best of all, since the stretch in most of the new lingerie comes from spandex fiber rather than rubberized elastic, the garments can be dried in your automatic dryer.

One last tip: if you're washing frilly slips in the same load with girdles and bras, put the slip in a mesh bag, so the lace won't snag on snaps or garters.

Shades Vital To Bright Summer

Sun glasses should be chosen with almost as much care as regular eye glasses. And, from a fashion point of view, certainly with as much care as any other accessory.

The advice comes from an authority in the field who warns that incorrect lenses in sun glasses can be anything from dangerous to highly uncomfortable for the eyes.

THE WEARING OF "dark" glasses, i.e. glasses with just any kind of colored lenses, does not provide proper protection. Many so-called bargain glasses do not filter out harmful rays and often hinder normal vision through their optical defects.

If sun glasses are to protect the eyes from glare, they must be able to filter out between 65 per cent and 85 per cent of the visible light. At the same time, it is also important to protect the eyes from invisible infra-red and ultra-violet light on both ends of the spectrum.

PLASTIC LENSES OR pastel colored lenses not only do not safeguard the eyes, but they do more harm than good by deceiving the wearer into believing that he or she is receiving adequate protection. Pastel shades are too light and plastic lenses offer no protection to infra-red and rarely to ultra-violet.

WITH BRIGHT "sun glass' days ahead for vacationers, here is a list for women to follow who want to flatter their appearance while protecting their eyes.

Always "shelter" your eyes from excessive light. In doing so, don't try to economize on sun glasses. Make sure your glasses have optically correct lenses and transmit no more than 35 per cent of the light.

IN CHOOSING THE color of your lenses, avoid pastels or reds, yellows, blues and orange shades; stick to the neutral grey and green.

Beach beauties should make important use of light, bright or pastel frames to off-set and flatter a sun tan. Luminous, "pearlized" frames also do wonders for a tan.

FOR A ROUND, square or full face choose the "upswept" frame shape; for an oval slender or long face, the new squared designs are more suitable; and for a really dramatic effect with your gayest swim-suit, try the very new, sophisticated wrap or semi-wrap effect.

Women Are Going 'Soft In The Head'

This year millinery dimensions are high, not too wide and definitely handsome! And . . . of you'll pardon the pun, women are going "soft in the head". No offense, please — merely a prediction of the fashions of hats.

Soft, sweeping lines that fold and curve around the crown are being previewed in turbans, cloches, pillboxes, bretons, skimmers, sailors and berets.

SOUFFLE-TYPE RIBBONS and trims, enhance cushion-brimmed cloches and off-the-face berets of extremely soft straws.

The big-brimmed hat and the brimless hat styles with the high crown are also leading contenders for the chapeau spotlight.

DRAPERY IS IN the show everywhere, light-headed in silk organdies, chiffons, paisleys, twisted and puffed-up patterns that make for a turbaned look.

"Walking flower gardens" will be in vogue in all colors, shapes, sizes and varieties of flowers.

For the crisp, tailored-mannered crowd, there are sleek hats, that ride straight and forward in the Spanish manner. Shown most often in black shiny straws, they wear the Spanish stance smartly.

THE SAILORS ARE IN — and are even more decorative and detailed than in the past. Crowns of these delightful headliners are a bit higher than usual and are now being trimmed with dramatic chiffon drapes and veilings that sweep past the shoulder line like an Arab in desert costume.

From the looks of current millinery fashions, hat-hunters will find wonderful treasures of color, style and flattery in every headliner to top spring-into-summer costumes.

Nautical Look A Major Trend

With an estimated 20 or more million boating enthusiasts—of whom eight and one-half million are registered boat owners — expected to crowd the nation's coastlines and waterways this season, it is not surprising that the nautical look has become a major trend in summer sportswear. Even landlubbers will be seen this year hooded, bibbed and white-ducked, sporting signal flags and drawstrings . . . complete with real "salty" bell-bottomed trousers.

Vivid Hues In Easter Parade

Feminine footwear in flashing colors will lead the "Who's Hue" of the Easter Parade this year. And leather will be at the bottom of it all—matte and polished cowhides, bright crushed kidskins, glowing "see-through" calfskins, and gleaming patent leather.

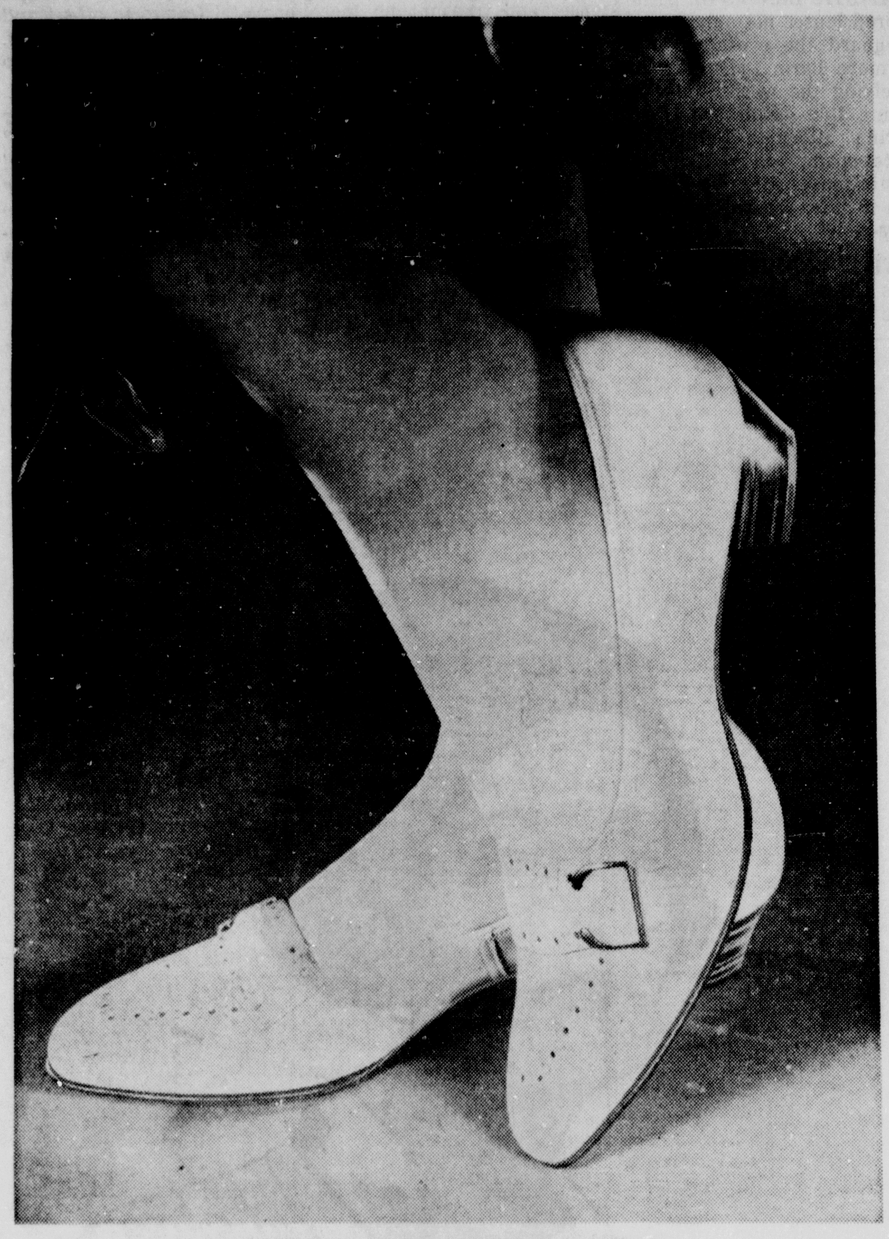
CHEERFUL IS THE word for this season's leather colors. Smooth, grained and lustre leathers will be seen in cool sherbet colors such as melon, lemon ice and raspberry. In polished cowhides there will be delicate pastels of pink, yellow and green. In suede leathers colors will be more intense.

Genuine patent leather has a palette that runs from white, bone and moonstone gray through the vibrant end of the spectrum. Here you will find red—scarlet, cherry and ruby—as well as flight blue, kelly green, yellow and flaming orange.

ALWAYS A HARBINGER of the carefree days of summer, white shoes will be everywhere along the Avenue on Easter Sunday. They will also be worn in every texture of leather—grained, smooth, suede and genuine patent leather.

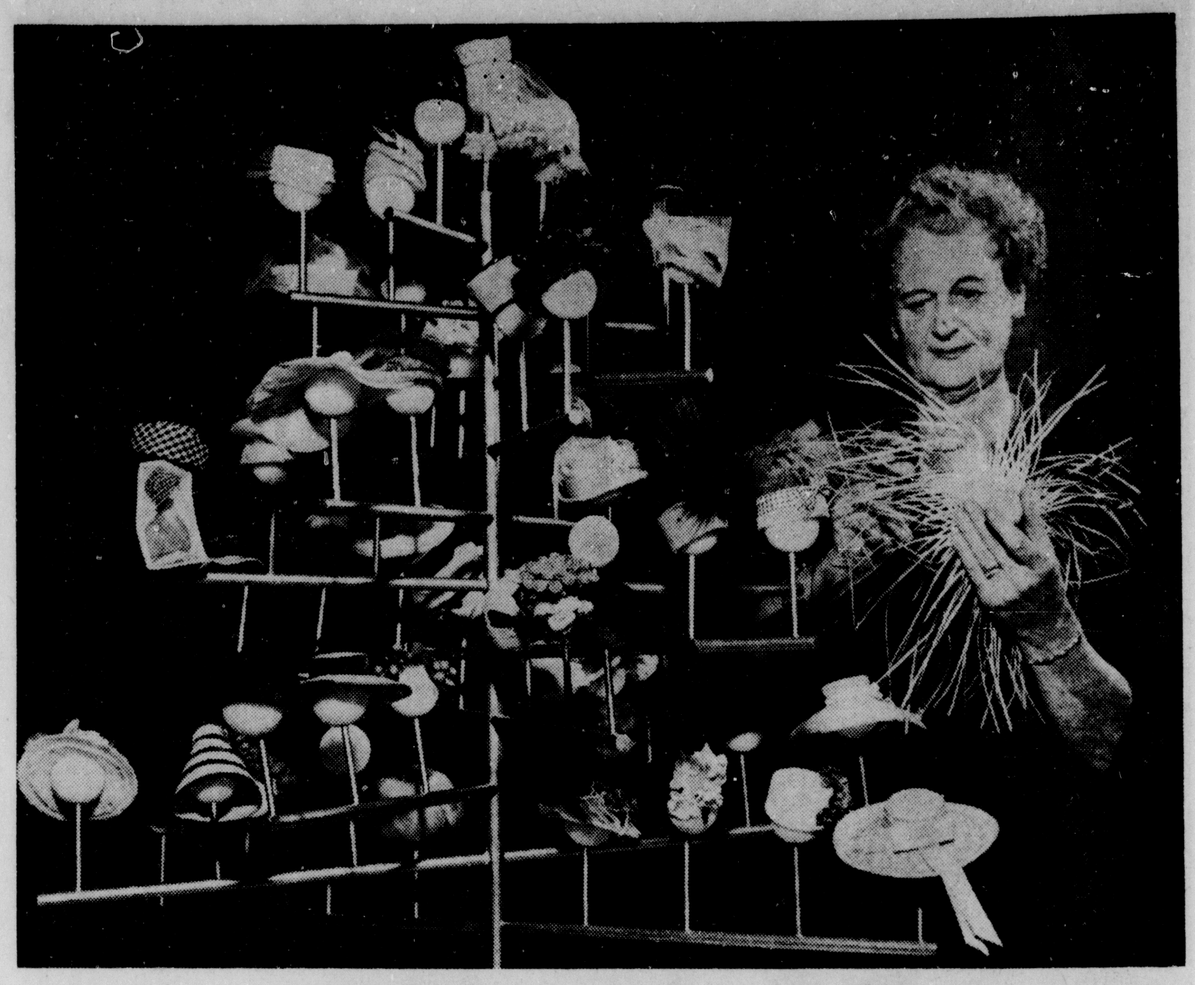
Styling is cool, in both the modern and the old-fashioned meanings of the word. Smartly cut with an eye for the graceful line and the fetching curve, shoes have been "opened up." The airy look is achieved by perforations and by cut-outs at the sides and on the vamp, as well as by slim slings. The classic d'Orsay pump steps perfectly into this theme, with its rounded V-cut in the sides tapering toward the slim, light leather sole.

THE AIRY LOOK is matched by the easy feel afoot. Supple upper leathers stretch gracefully while the slim leather sole flexes gently as you walk. In the parade, or at parade rest the leather sole will give you welcome support without weight. Leather linings keep your feet cool and dry.



ACCENTED WITH PERFS

A wide square toe and a little stacked heel are features of this Gaucho style that makes an ideal shoe for walking—whether 50 miles or five. It's subtly antiqued and accented with perfs around the vamp and on the stylish buckle. This so-soft casual bends in half. Available at Chapman's Shoes, San Rafael and Novato.



BONNETS IN MINIATURE

NEW LOOK FOR SPRING

Split level characterizes this ensemble for spring in a two-piece rayon linen. The outfit is handwashable and comes in white with red or navy and white. Available at Ella Joseph, San Rafael.

Fashions Beg For Jewelry

PINS LEAD AS a popular jewelry form due to their versatility. They can be worn on all types of fabric, on most apparel and changed about in every conceivable angle. Flap-pockets on spring suit jackets can be dramatized with single bold clips.

Collarless suits demand adornment; a scarf anchored with an impressive pin, or a choker necklace worn in combination with a pin set at the shoulder level. Coats, also collarless this season, yield to scarf-pin accents for soft flattery to the face.

SWEATER SUITS and fine knits put jewelry on display. V-neck-lines need fill-in focal points such as pins at the base of the neckline. A sentimental gold engraved locket centered with a diamond returns as a favorite for the plunging neckline. Ornate clasps on necklaces add design interest when worn center front.

CHANEL'S INFLUENCE continues as cardigan suits call for jeweled touches on neck and shoulder lines. The "little boy suit" with rounded collar assumes a jeweled freshness when twin pins are placed below it and not on its edges.

Bateau and straight necklines in blouses and dresses show an imaginative flair when accented with a pin or clip perched on the ridge near the shoulder seam. A woman who wishes to elongate her neckline, however, should rely on a matinee-length necklace.

THE SEVEN-EIGHTHS COAT

The long or seven-eighths jacket is worn over a slim skirt with greatest of ease. It features a stand-away extension band collar and above the wrist length sleeves. Available at Nimble Thimble Shop.

New Era Of Color Calls For Appraisal Of Coiffure

There's a bright, colorful outlook in beauty for spring that compliments the excitement of the fashion scene. And, this new era of color calls for an inventory and appraisal of cosmetics and coiffures.

With so much emphasis on the "stripped," yet feminine, relaxed-look, skin and hair become focal points in fashion too.

FOR SPRING, HAIR is smooth, short and polished-looking — often with an upswept wing or a wave at the cheek in a soft flip or tucked behind the ear.

High rising and swept-brim hats put the eyes into focus and call for careful attention to mascara, liner, shadow and pencil artistry.

COMPLETING THE new picture — a complexion that's c r e a m y, translucent-looking and cared-for. Lips are well-defined with glowing matte tones and colors that reflect the spectrum of the season. Lipsticks are non-glossy, with a subtle brilliance.

Color goes to the hair in highlight colors, in eye shaddows that are gently reflections of all the colors of the season and in the delicate look of the skin.

Spring's Knit Costumes Will Go Around Anywhere Smartly

To the office or off to the races; to market or for a date with that special guy; club, bridge-lunch at home, or tea and crumpets at home—whatever the place, wherever the setting, spring's knit costumes will get around smartly.

'CHA CHA CHA'

Bold dramatic stripes in contrasting tones lend enchantment to this lightweight lastex sheath and whittle the waistline by Alix. Available at the Marin Smart Shop, San Rafael.

Take a double take at double knits in new blends, or orlon and wool that work their way into the knit fashion picture along with knits of 100 per cent wool and even 100 per cent cotton.

Listen to the raves k n i t s have won for themselves for wearability, packability and versatility, and then size up their appeal increased at every inch with stitched-in glamour.

Note that new knits go into prints; knits have new lacey patterns, knits that boast all the texture of a wool tweed. Don't miss the knits that combine with lurex and come out looking for all the world like imported lame.

Take your pick of colors that are pure high fashion in the paled beige and chalked green shades . . . and are pure heaven in the clear, true, true blues that cover the spectrum.

Jackets are shorter, or longer this year and coats are longer or shorter; dresses h a v e slim, stovepipe sleeves, h i g h necks, high waistlines t h a t point up soft bodices and gently shaped skirts.

Foreign News

Produced in Europe, and sure to be duplicated here, are sports hats of printed felt — most in a checked pattern. It may be a passing fancy or it may be the turn of the cycle, but the French Riviera is seeing fewer tight pants and more casual slacks with a definite flair to the bottom.

PATTERNS COME BACK IN JACKET

Clean, crisp, contrasty patterns are making a strong comeback in men's and youth's sport jackets for the spring - summer season of 1963. This influence can be seen in the top selling polyester-worsted blends that were formerly dominated by dull mousey fabrics. It is also very apparent in the India Madras jackets (expected to be very strong in classic shops) where bright colors (sharply defined) are getting a big play. Seersuckers, headed for even greater acceptance next summer, are in the trend via broader stripes in deeper as well as brighter colors.

The cardigan (collarless) sport jacket has been achieving a higher standing in this country for a number of years. It's cool, comfortable and good-looking. It was a huge success in sweaters — still is, as a matter of fact— and seems to be gaining in popularity in jackets and sports coats.

Worrywarts Cheer-Up Jewelers By Demanding Fidget Gadgets

THE WORRY BEADS—16 in a circle—help pessimists meditate on their problems. You touch a bead and think of a problem. Then you move on to the next bead—and the next problem.

If you have more than 16 problems, do another lap. Keep going in circles with the beads until you've enervated your worry wells. Made them run dry for the moment, that is.

Worry beads, however, are mostly for females. Imagine the worry if a husband took to the beads without letting his wife know—and she found the strange things one night while going through his pockets!

BETTER FOR MALES: The fidget stone. It's a beautiful smooth piece of jade, suitable for slipping into a pocket. Jade's supposed to be lucky.

Don't laugh at worry beads or fidget stones. They've stood the test of time. The ancient Greeks are credited with thinking up worry beads. The fidget stone has been popular in China for centuries.

Jeweler Betty Fleishman, in New York, said the activity in worry trinkets probably stems from the fact that these are worrisome times and people are searching for instant relaxation.

"It's the poor man's phychotherapy—with a sense of humor," she said.

Mrs. Fleishman takes credit for introducing the worry bird. It's an incredible, ridiculous, red-eyed gold bird absolutely incapable of getting off the ground.

HE KNOWS HE'S going to hang—as all charms must.

"His one goal in life is to take on your worries," Mrs. Fleishman said.

The disc he squats on is engraved—"Who's worried?"

The funny and foolish, scantily-feathered friend convinces you at first look that he's prepared to have your burdens shift to his narrow shoulders. Or laugh at you—and them. Or have you get rid of your rage by chortling at him.

THEN THERE IS the "alarm clock" charm for precision worriers. It's a gold hand with a string tied around the index finger. The finger points to a disc which carries the name of a pill you're supposed to take —or a date that's unpleasant to remember, say April 15.

Another worry charm: A "happy Buddha" in jade. The smiling figure invites you to "touch me for luck." Rub the jade on its tummy and you may just wind up feeling all is well. Who knows?

"The whole trend," Mrs. Fleishman said, "shows that we have troubles—but we don't intend to stop laughing." UPI.

'63 STYLES REQUIRE DIETING

Whatever happened to the muffled look, ruffles and bows, feathers, chiffon and short evening clothes? Some are gone. Some are modified and some are growing strong in spring styles. Yet design houses are spelling out that idolized framework chic is still long and lean to the marrow for the designs from left, The Middy, Rajah Dress, Skimmer, Tunic and Arabian.

4 Vying For 2 Mill Valley School Jobs

A newspaper editor, an attorney, a high school counselor and a cost analyst are vying for two openings on the Mill Valley Elementary School District board in the April 16 election.

The two incumbents whose terms expire, George M. Wood and Mrs. Jean F. Rosse, are not seeking re-election. None of the four candidates has school board experience, though the newspaper editor comes closest: he was once field representative for the California School Boards Assn.

The editor is John G. Donhoff, executive editor and assistant to the publisher of the weekly Mill Valley Record.

The attorney is Louis Francis Hawkins, who has his law office on Montgomery Street in San Francisco.

The cost analyst is Ad Zang, Jr., who is cost engineer at California Packing Corp. in San Francisco.

"I believe that the foundation of all academic learning is reading, and the written and oral communication of ideas. I would like to stress this, and make available to our teachers a wider choice of textbooks with which to build upon this foundation a structure filled with education of the finest quality possible."

Zang, who is 38, and his wife and two daughters (aged 6 and 3) live at 845 Blithedale Avenue. He has been a property owner in Mill Valley for nine years. He was born in Denver, Colo., and holds two bachelor degrees: in mechanical engineering from University of Colorado, and in business administration-finance from the University of Denver.

Before joining Calpack, he worked in mining, farming, credit investigation, insurance, and as a bank cost analyst. He served in the Navy during World War II. He is a member of the Sierra Club, with photography, skiing and camping as hobbies, and has been active in the Parent-Teacher Assn. of Alto School, where Wendy is in first grade.

Zang said he feels he could "bring to the board professional experience in the efficient use of available resources and foresighted planning."

Norton, who is 46, his wife and two sons (14 and 9) and daughter (6) live at 161 Lovell Avenue. He was a member of Mill Valley School District's community relations committee in 1961-62, working for school bond and tax issues.

He was born in Salt Lake City, received his B.S. degree from University of Utah, and took post-graduate study at University of California in Berkeley leading to credentials as school teacher, counselor and administrator. Before joining San Rafael High School, he was head counselor for seven years at Woodland High School in Yolo County.

He was an Army Air Force technical sergeant in World War II, seeing three years' service in the South Pacific.

Norton is a member of the California and Northern California Counseling and Guidance Assns., National Education Assn., and California and San Rafael Teachers Assns.

Hawkins, who is 35, his wife, son and daughter live at 45 Sycamore Avenue. His public activities included Community Chest work, he reported.

Born in Hinsdale, Ill., he received his law degree from Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco. He has a twin brother, Herbert G. Hawkins, living in San Anselmo. He served in the Army in both World War II and the Korean War.

Donhoff, 42, his wife and two sons (12 and 9) live at 250 Ferndale Avenue. He is a vice president of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District, and served with Norton on the school district's community relations committee.

He is also a member of the Mill Valley Rotary Club, player agent of the Mill Valley Little League, a director of the Marin Variety Theater, and producer of the musical, "This Must Be the Place," now playing weekends at Sabella's. He is on the current Bay Area United Crusade committee.

Donhoff was born in Chicago but was brought to California as a small child. He completed his education at Claremont College in Pomona. He was a Navy pilot on anti-submarine patrol in the South Pacific in World War II, and is a Navy Reserve lieutenant.

Donhoff says he began his newspaper career when 12 years old as printer's devil on the Claremont Courier, where his father was a newspaperman. He has worked on editorial and/or advertising staffs of papers in Hawthorne, Montebello, Newport-Balboa Beach, and Walnut Creek, as well as Mill Valley.

There have been some excursions from his career. He was secretary-manager of the Montebello Chamber of Commerce for two years, field representative of the school boards association one year, and once worked as account executive for a Los Angeles advertising agency.

Hitchhiker Jailed After Attack On 2

Donald Atwood Travis, 27, of 192 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was jailed yesterday on a complaint by two motorists who said Travis threatened them with a knife.

Morley Keith Davis, 28, and Walter Ian Kinsopp, both of British Columbia, entered the sheriff's office at 10:25 last night and gave this account to Deputy Edward A. Koehn:

They reached Petaluma about 8:30 p.m. and picked up a hitchhiker. All three had a few drinks at a bar in Novato, then started south on Highway 101. The hitchhiker suddenly grabbed Kinsopp around the neck, then stuck a knife against Davis' neck. Davis, who was driving, struggled with the attacker and brought the car to a stop.

They identified Travis from pictures in the sheriff's records.

About 12:35 a.m. Deputy Sheriff Wade R. Powell spotted Travis hitchhiking near St. Vincent's Hill and arrested him. Officers said Davis and Kinsopp both picked Travis out of a line-up in the county jail.

Travis was booked on suspicion of assault, battery, and assaut with a deadly weapon. He was jailed in lieu of $1,575 bail.

Measure Would Favor California Firms

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California contractors would get more preference on state and local public works projects under legislation introduced by Assemblyman Charles Meyers (D-San Francisco).

Meyers would require out-of-state bidders to be licensed in California, have paid California taxes for two years, and agree to give preference to California products in most cases.

Trade Code Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to establish a Uniform Commercial Code—like that in 23 other states—moved to the Assembly today with Senate approval. The measure is by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel).

Pope's Anti-Red Stand Assured By Magazine

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican magazine Osservatore Della Domenica said yesterday anyone who thinks Pope John XXIII has adopted neutrality toward Communism is "profoundly in error."

It said the Pope's recent reference to the "perfect supranational neutrality of the Church" signified only "that the cause of God can never be tied to contingent political interests."

Chaplain To Talk

Rev. Byron Eshleman of San Rafael, supervising chaplain at San Quentin Prison and author of "Death Row Chaplain," will discuss his views on capital punishment in a talk at the Women's City Club, 465 Post Street, San Francisco, at 8 p.m. next Thursday.
